INTRODUCTION

Grammar in Use is a textbook for intermediate students of English who need to study and practice using the grammar of the language. It can be used as a classroom text or for self-study. It will be especially useful in cases where, in the teacher's view, existing course materials do not provide adequate coverage of grammar.

Level

The book is intended mainly for intermediate students (that is, students who have already studied the basic structures of English). It concentrates on those structures which intermediate students want to use but which often cause difficulty. The book will probably be most useful at middle- and upper-intermediate levels (where all or nearly all of the material will be relevant), and can serve both as a basis for review and as a means of practicing new material. The book will also be useful for more advanced students who still make a lot of grammatical mistakes and who need a book for reference and practice.

The book is not intended to be used by beginning-level students.

How the book is organized

The book consists of 124 units, each of which concentrates on a particular point of grammar. Some areas (for example, the present perfect or the use of articles) are covered in more than one unit. In each unit there are explanations and examples (left-hand page) and exercises (right-hand page), except for Unit 112, which is a double unit.

At the beginning of the book the Contents pages provide a full list of units, and there is a detailed Index at the end for easy reference.

There are also four Appendixes at the end of the book: "List of Present and Past Tenses," "Regular and Irregular Verbs," "Spelling," and "Short Forms." It might be useful for the teacher to draw students' attention to these.

Using the book

It is certainly not intended that anyone should work through this book from beginning to end. It is for the teacher to decide what to teach and in what order to teach it, so the book is best used selectively and flexibly.

The book can be used with the whole class or with individual students. When using the book with the whole class, it is suggested that teachers teach the grammar points concerned in whatever way they want. In this case the left-hand page is not used actively during the lesson but serves as a record of what has been taught and can be referred to by the student in the future. The exercises can then be done in class or as homework. Alternatively (and additionally), individual students can be directed to study certain units of the book by themselves if they have particular difficulties not shared by other students in their class.

Answer Key

A separate answer key is available for teachers and self-study users.

Grammar in Use

Present continuous (I am doing)

a Study this example situation:

Ann is in her car. She is on her way to work.

She is driving to work.

This means: She is driving now, at the time of speaking.

This is the present continuous tense:

I	am	(= I'm)	} driving
he/she/(it)	is	(= he's, etc.)
we/they/you	are	(= we're, etc.)

We use the present continuous when we talk about something that is happening at the time of speaking:

- Please don't make so much noise. I'm studying. (not I study)
- "Where is Peggy?" "She's taking a bath." (not she takes)
- Let's go out now. It isn't raining anymore.
- (at a party) Hello, Ann. Are you enjoying the party? (not do you enjoy)

b We also use the present continuous when we talk about something that is happening around the time of speaking, but not necessarily exactly at the time of speaking. Study this example situation:

- Tom and Ann are talking and having coffee in a cafe. Tom says: "I'm reading an interesting book at the moment. I'll lend it to you when I've finished it."

Tom is not reading the book at the time of speaking. He means that he has begun the book and hasn't finished it yet. He is in the middle of reading it. Here are some more examples:

- Maria is studying English at a language school. (not studies)
- Have you heard about Brian? He is building his own house. (not builds)

But perhaps Maria and Brian are not doing these things exactly at the time of speaking.

c We often use the present continuous when we talk about a period around the present. For example: today, this week, this season, etc.:

- "You're working hard today." "Yes, I have a lot to do."
- Tom isn't playing football this season. He wants to concentrate on his studies.

d We use the present continuous when we talk about changing situations:

- The population of the world is rising very fast. (not rises)
- Is your English getting better? (not does ... get)

UNIT 1 Exercises

1.1 Put the verb into the correct form.

Examples: Please don't make so much noise. I am studying..... (study).

Let's go out now. It isn't raining..... (not/rain) anymore.

Listen to those people. What language are they speaking.. (they/speak)?

1. Please be quiet. I (try) to concentrate.
2. Look! It (snow).
3. Why (you/look) at me like that? Did I say something wrong?
4. You (make) a lot of noise. Can you be a little bit quieter?
5. Excuse me, I (look) for a phone booth. Is there one near here?
6. (at the movies) It's a good movie, isn't it? (you/enjoy) it?
7. Listen! Can you hear those people next door? They (yell) at each other again.
8. Why (you/wear) your coat today? It's very warm.
9. I (not/work) this week. I'm on vacation.
10. I want to lose weight. I (not/eat) anything today.

1.2 Complete these sentences using one of these verbs:

get become change rise improve fall increase

You don't have to use all the verbs and you can use some of them more than once.

Example: The population of the world is rising..... very fast.

1. The number of people without jobs at the moment.
2. He is still sick, but he better slowly.
3. These days food more and more expensive.
4. The world Things never stay the same.
5. The cost of living Every year things are more expensive.
6. George has gone to work in Spain. At first, his Spanish wasn't very good, but now it
7. The economic situation is already very bad, and it worse.

1.3 Read this conversation between Brian and Steve. Put each verb into the correct form.

Brian and Steve meet in a restaurant.

Brian: Hello, Steve. I haven't seen you for ages. What (1) are you doing..... (you/do) these days?

Steve: I (2) (work) in a department store.

Brian: Really? (3) (you/enjoy) it?

Steve: Yeah, it's OK. How about you?

Brian: Well, I (4) (not/work) at the moment, but I'm very busy.

I (5) (build) a house.

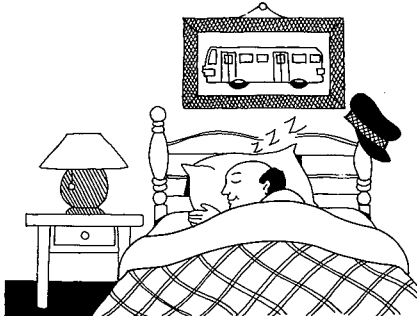

Steve: Really? (6) (you/do) it alone?

Brian: No, some friends of mine (7) (help) me.

UNIT 2

Simple present (I do)

a Study this example situation:

Alex is a bus driver. But now he is asleep in bed.
So:
He is not driving a bus (he is asleep).
But: He drives a bus.
This is the simple present tense:
I/we/you/they drive
he/she/(it) drives

We use the simple present to talk about things in general. We are not thinking only about the present. We use it to say that something happens all the time or repeatedly, or that something is true in general. It is not important whether the action is happening at the time of speaking:

- The earth goes around the sun.
- Nurses take care of patients in hospitals.
- In Canada, most stores close at 6:00 p.m.

Remember that we say he/she/it -s. Don't forget the s:

- I work in a bank. Barry works in a department store.

b We use do/does to make questions and negative sentences:

  do I/we/you/they does he/she/it  }  work?  	  I/we/you/they don't he/she/it doesn't  }  work
--	---

- Excuse me, do you speak English?
- "Would you like a cigarette?" "No, thanks. I don't smoke."
- What does this word mean? (not What means this word?)
- Rice doesn't grow in Alaska.

For questions see also Unit 47.

c We use the simple present when we say how often we do things:

- I get up at 8:00 every morning. (not am getting)
- How often do you go to the dentist?
- Ann doesn't go out very often.
- In the summer, Tom usually plays tennis twice a week.

d Note that we say "Where do you come from?" (= Where are you from?):

- Where do you come from? (not Where are you coming from?)
- He comes from Japan. (not He is coming from Japan.)

UNIT 2 Exercises

2.1 Put the verb into the correct form.

Examples: Water boils (boil) at 100 degrees Celsius.
George doesn't go (not/go) to the movies very often.
How many languages do you speak (you/speak)?

1. The swimming pool (open) at 9:00 and (close) at 6:30 every day.
2. What time (the banks / close) here?
3. I have a car, but I (not/use) it very often.
4. How many cigarettes (you/smoke) a day?
5. "What (you/do)?" "I'm an electrical engineer."
6. "Where (your father / come) from?" "He (come) from Mexico."
7. It (take) me an hour to get to work. How long (it/take) you?
8. I (play) the piano, but I (not/play) very well.
9. I don't understand the word "deceive." What ("deceive" / mean)?

2.2 Read these sentences and correct them. The English is correct but the information is wrong. Write two correct sentences each time.

Example: The sun goes around the earth. The sun doesn't go around the earth.
The earth goes around the sun.

1. The sun rises in the west.
2. Mice catch cats.
3. Carpenters make things from metal.
4. The Amazon River flows into the Pacific Ocean.

2.3 Use these sentences to make questions. Begin your questions with the word(s) in parentheses (...).

Examples: Tom plays tennis. (How often?) How often does Tom play tennis?
I jog in the morning. (What time / usually?) What time do you usually jog?

1. Ann watches television. (How often?) How often
2. I write to my parents. (How often?)
3. I have dinner in the evening. (What time / usually?)
4. Tom works. (Where?)
5. I go to the movies. (How often?)
6. People do stupid things. (Why?)
7. The car breaks down. (How often?)

UNIT 3

Present continuous (I am doing) or simple present (I do)?

Before you study this unit, study Units 1 and 2.

a Study this explanation and compare the examples:

Present continuous (I am doing) Use the present continuous to talk about something that is happening at or close to the time of speaking: I am doing <hr/> <table><tr><td>past</td><td>now</td><td>future</td></tr><tr><td>The water is boiling. Could you turn it off, please?</td><td></td><td></td></tr><tr><td>Listen to those people. What language are they speaking?</td><td></td><td></td></tr><tr><td>"Where's Tom?" "He's playing tennis." (you find a stranger in your room) What are you doing here?</td><td></td><td></td></tr><tr><td>Maria is in Canada for three months. She's learning English.</td><td></td><td></td></tr></table> Use the present continuous for a temporary situation: I'm living with some friends until I can find an apartment. Mary usually has a summer job, but she isn't working this summer.	past	now	future	The water is boiling . Could you turn it off, please?			Listen to those people. What language are they speaking ?			"Where's Tom?" "He's playing tennis." (you find a stranger in your room) What are you doing here?			Maria is in Canada for three months. She's learning English.			Simple present (I do) Use the simple present to talk about things in general or things that happen repeatedly: ← I do → <hr/> <table><tr><td>past</td><td>now</td><td>future</td></tr><tr><td>Water boils at 100 degrees Celsius.</td><td></td><td></td></tr><tr><td>Excuse me, do you speak English?</td><td></td><td></td></tr><tr><td>Tom plays tennis every Saturday.</td><td></td><td></td></tr><tr><td>What do you usually do on the weekend?</td><td></td><td></td></tr><tr><td>What do you do? (= What's your job?)</td><td></td><td></td></tr><tr><td>Most people learn to swim when they are children.</td><td></td><td></td></tr></table> Use the simple present for a permanent situation: My parents live in Boston. They have been there for 20 years. Jack doesn't work during the summer. He always takes a long vacation.	past	now	future	Water boils at 100 degrees Celsius.			Excuse me, do you speak English?			Tom plays tennis every Saturday.			What do you usually do on the weekend?			What do you do ? (= What's your job?)			Most people learn to swim when they are children.
past	now	future
The water is boiling . Could you turn it off, please?
Listen to those people. What language are they speaking ?
"Where's Tom?" "He's playing tennis." (you find a stranger in your room) What are you doing here?
Maria is in Canada for three months. She's learning English.
past	now	future
Water boils at 100 degrees Celsius.
Excuse me, do you speak English?
Tom plays tennis every Saturday.
What do you usually do on the weekend?
What do you do ? (= What's your job?)
Most people learn to swim when they are children.

b Some verbs are used only in simple tenses. For example, you cannot say "I am knowing." You can only say I know. Here is a list of verbs that are not normally used in continuous tenses (but there are exceptions):

- | | | | | | |
|--------|------|--------|---------|------------|----------|
| want | like | belong | know | suppose | remember |
| need | love | see | realize | mean | forget |
| prefer | hate | hear | believe | understand | seem |
- have (meaning "possess"; see also Unit 23) think (meaning "believe" / "have an opinion")
- Do you like Rome? (not are you liking)
 - He doesn't understand the problem. (not he isn't understanding)
 - These shoes belong to me. (not are belonging)
 - What do you think Tom will do? (= What do you believe he will do?)
 - Do you have a car? (not are you having)
- but: ■ What are you thinking about? (= What is going on in your mind?)

UNIT 3 Exercises

14. She (stay) with her sister until she finds somewhere else to live.
15. A: What (your father / do)?
B: He's a teacher, but he (not/work) right now.

UNIT 4

Present tenses (I am doing / I do) with a future meaning

- a Present continuous with a future meaning
Study this example situation:

This is Tom's schedule for next week.

He is playing tennis on Monday afternoon.

He is going to the dentist on Tuesday morning.

He is having dinner with Ann on Friday.

In all these examples, Tom has already decided and arranged to do these things.

When you are talking about what you have already arranged to do, use the present continuous (I am doing). Do not use the simple present (I do).

- A: What are you doing tomorrow evening? (not what do you do)
- B: I'm going to the theater. (not I go)
- A: Are you playing tennis tomorrow?
- B: Yes, but Tom isn't playing. He hurt his leg.
- A: Ann is coming tomorrow.
- B: Oh, is she? What time is she arriving?
- A: At 10:15.
- B: Are you meeting her at the station?
- A: I can't. I'm working tomorrow morning.

It is also possible to use going to (do) in these sentences:

- What are you going to do tomorrow evening?
- Tom is going to play tennis on Monday afternoon.

But the present continuous is usually more natural when you are talking about arrangements. See also Unit 5.

Do not use will to talk about what you have already arranged to do:

- What are you doing this evening? (not what will you do)
- Alex is getting married next month. (not Alex will get)

For will see Units 6 and 7.

- b Simple present with a future meaning

We use the simple present when we are talking about timetables, schedules, etc. (for example, public transportation, movies):

- What time does the movie begin?
- The train leaves Boston at 7:25 a.m. and arrives in Washington, D.C., at 3:41 p.m.
- The football game starts at 2:00.
- Tomorrow is Wednesday.

But we do not usually use the simple present for personal arrangements:

- What time are you meeting Ann? (not do you meet)

UNIT 4 Exercises

- 4.1 A friend of yours is planning to go on vacation very soon. You ask him about his plans. Use the words in parentheses (...) to make your questions.
Example: (where / go)? Where are you going?.....

1. (how long / stay?)
2. (when / leave?)
3. (go / alone?)
4. (go / by car?)
5. (where / stay?)

- 4.2 Ann is going on vacation. Write sentences about her vacation plans. Use the words in parentheses to write your sentences.
Example: (go / Hawaii) She is going to Hawaii......

1. (leave / next Friday) She
2. (stay / in Hawaii for two weeks)
3. (go / with a friend of hers)
4. (stay / in a hotel) They
5. (go / by plane)

- 4.3 Tom wants you to visit him, but you are very busy. Look at your schedule for the next few days and explain to him why you can't come.

- Tom: Can you come on Monday evening?
You: Sorry, I'd love to, but I'm playing volleyball.
Tom: What about Tuesday evening then?
You: I'm afraid I can't. I (1)
Tom: Well, what are you doing on Wednesday evening?
You: (2)
Tom: I see. Well, are you free on Thursday evening?
You: I'm afraid not. (3)

- 4.4 Put the verb into the most appropriate form: present continuous (I am doing) or simple present (I do).

Example: We are going (go) to the theater this evening.
Does the movie begin (the movie / begin) at 3:30 or 4:30?

1. We (have) a party next Saturday. Would you like to come?
2. I (not/go) away for my vacation next month because I don't have enough money. (you/go) away?
3. The concert this evening (start) at 8:00.
4. George, is it true that you (get) married next week?
5. The art exhibit (open) on May 3rd and (close) on July 15th.
6. What time (the next train / leave)?
7. Ann, we (go) to the park. (you/come) with us?

UNIT 5

Going to (I am going to do) a We use going to (do) when we say what we have already decided to do, or what we intend to do in the future:

- A: There's a movie on television tonight. Are you going to watch it?
B: No, I'm too tired. I'm going to make it an early night.
- A: I hear Ann has won a lot of money. What is she going to do with it?
B: I've heard she's going to travel around the world.

For the difference between will and going to see Unit 8.

b We prefer to use the present continuous (I am doing) when we say what someone has arranged to do – for example, arranged to meet someone, arranged to travel somewhere. Going to is also possible:

- What time are you meeting Ann? (or are you going to meet)
- I'm leaving for Europe on Monday. (or I'm going to leave)

See also Unit 4a.

c We use was/were going to to say what someone intended to do in the past (but didn't do):

- We were going to take the train, but then we decided to go by car.
- A: Did Tom take the exam?
B: No, he was going to take it, but then he changed his mind.

d Going to also has another meaning. Study this example situation:

The man can't see where he is going. There is a hole in front of him.

He is going to fall into the hole.

Here the speaker is saying what he thinks will happen. Of course he doesn't mean that the man intends to fall into the hole.

We use going to in this way when we say what we think will happen. Usually there is something in the present situation (the man walking toward the hole) that makes the speaker sure about what will happen.

- Look at those black clouds! It's going to rain. (the clouds are there now)
- Oh, I feel terrible. I think I'm going to be sick. (I feel terrible now)

UNIT 5 Exercises

5.1 Say when you are going to do something.

Example: Have you cleaned the car? (tomorrow)

Not yet. I'm going to clean it tomorrow.

- | | |
|--|------------------|
| 1. Have you called Tom? (after lunch) | Not yet. I |
| 2. Have you had dinner? (in a little while) | Not yet. |
| 3. Have you painted your apartment? (soon) | Not |
| 4. Have you fixed my bicycle? (this afternoon) | |

5.2 Write questions with going to.

Example: I've won a lot of money. (what / with it?) What are you going to do with it?

- I'm going to a party tonight. (what / wear?)
- Tom has just bought a painting. (where / hang it?)
- I've decided to have a party. (who / invite?)

5.3 Use was/were going to.

Example: Did you travel by train?

No, I was going to travel by train, but I changed my mind.

- Did you buy that jacket you saw in the store window?
No, I, but I changed my mind.
- Did Sue get married?
No, she, but she
- Did Tom quit his job?
No,, but
- Did Wayne and Sharon go to Greece for their vacation?
No,
- Did you play tennis yesterday?
No,
- Did you invite Ann to the party?
No,

5.4 Say what you think is going to happen in these situations.

Example: The sky is full of black clouds. (rain) It's going to rain.

- Terry is taking his exams tomorrow. He hasn't done any work for them, and he is not very intelligent. (fail) He
- It is 8:30. Tom is leaving his house. He has to be at work at 8:45, but the trip takes 30 minutes. (be late)
- There is a hole in the bottom of the boat. It is filling up with water very quickly. (sink) It
- Ann is driving. There is very little gas left in the tank. The nearest gas station is a long way from here. (run out of gas) a We use will ('ll) when we decide to do something at the time of speaking:

- Oh, I left the door open. I'll go and shut it.
- "What would you like to drink?" "I'll have some coffee, please."
- "Did you call Ann?" "Oh no, I forgot. I'll do it now."
- I'm too tired to walk home. I think I'll take a taxi.

You cannot use the simple present (I do) in these sentences.

- I'll go and shut it. (not I go and shut it)

Do not use will to say what someone has already decided to do or arranged to do:

- I can't meet you tomorrow because my parents are coming to see me. (not my parents will come)

The negative of will is won't (or will not):

- Receptionist: I'm afraid Mr. Wood can't see you until 4:00.
You: Oh, in that case I won't wait.

We often use I think I'll ... or I don't think I'll ... when we decide to do something:

- I think I'll stay home this evening.
- I don't think I'll go out tonight. I'm too tired.

b We often use will in these situations:

Offering to do something:

- That bag looks heavy. I'll help you with it. (not I help)
- "I need some money." "Don't worry. I'll lend you some."

Agreeing or refusing to do something:

- A: You know that book I lent you? Can I have it back?
- B: Of course. I'll bring it back this afternoon. (not I bring)
- I've asked John to help me, but he won't.
- The car won't start. (=the car "refuses" to start)

Promising to do something:

- Thank you for lending me the money. I'll pay you back on Friday. (not I pay)
- I won't tell Tom what you said. I promise.
- I promise I'll call you as soon as I arrive.

Asking someone to do something (Will you ... ?):

- Will you shut the door, please?
- Will you please be quiet? I'm trying to concentrate.

For will see also Unit 7. For will and going to see Unit 8.

UNIT 6 Exercises

6.1 Complete the sentences with I'll + an appropriate verb.

Example: I'm too tired to walk home. I think I'll take..... a taxi.

1. I'm a little hungry. I think something to eat.
2. It's too late to call Tom now. him in the morning.
3. "It's a bit cold in this room." "Is it? on the heat then."
4. "We don't have any milk." "Oh, we don't? and get some."
5. "Did you write that letter to Jack?" "Oh, I forgot. Thanks for reminding me. it tonight."
6. "Would you like tea or coffee?" "..... coffee, please."

6.2 Use I think I'll... or I don't think I'll... . Read the situation and then write your sentence.

Examples: It's cold. You decide to close the window. I think I'll close the window.
It's raining. You decide not to go out. I don't think I'll go out......

1. You feel tired. You decide to go to bed. I

3. You arranged to play tennis. Now you decide that you don't want to play.
4. You were going to go swimming. Now you decide that you don't want to go.

6.3 Offer to do things. Tom has a lot of things to do and you offer to do them for him.

Example: Tom: Oh, I have to clean up. You: No, that's all right. I'll clean up......

1. Tom: Oh, I have to get dinner ready. You: No, that's all right. I
2. Tom: Oh, I have to do the shopping. You: No,
3. Tom: Oh, I have to water the plants. You:

6.4 Agree and promise to do things.

3. A: Please don't tell anyone. B: All right, I won't tell anyone.
A:? B:
4. A: Please don't hurt me. B: Don't worry,
A:? B:

UNIT 7

Will (2)

a When we talk about the future, we often say what someone has arranged to do or intends to do. Do not use will in this situation:

- Tom is playing tennis on Monday. (not Tom will play)
- Are you going to watch television this evening? (not will you watch)

For arrangements and intentions see Units 4 and 5.

But often when we are talking about the future, we are not talking about arrangements or intentions. Study this example:

Tom: I'm really worried about my exam next week.

Ann: Don't worry, Tom. You'll pass.

"You'll pass" is not an arrangement or an intention. Ann is just saying what will happen or what she thinks will happen; she is predicting the future. When we predict a future happening or a future situation, we use will/won't.

- When you return home, you'll notice a lot of changes.
- This time next year I'll be in Japan. Where will you be?
- When will you find out your exam results?
- Tom won't pass his exam. He hasn't done any work for it.

We often use will with these words and expressions:

probably	I'll probably be a little late this evening.
(I'm) sure	You must meet Ann. I'm sure you'll like her.
(I) bet	I bet Carol will get the job.
(I) think	Do you think we'll win the match?
(I) suppose	I suppose we'll see John at the party.
(I) guess	I guess I'll see you next week.

b Will and shall

You can say I will or I shall (I'll) we will or we shall (we'll)

- I will (or I shall) probably go to Europe this summer.
- We will (or we shall) probably go to Europe this summer.

Will is more common than shall. In speech we normally use the short forms I'll and we'll:

- I'll probably go to Europe.

Do not use shall with he / she / it / they / you.

- John will help you. (not shall help you)

We use shall (not will) in the questions Shall I ... ? and Shall we ... ? (for offers, suggestions, etc.):

- Shall I open the window? (= Do you want me to open the window?)
- Where shall we go this evening?

For will see also Units 6, 8, and 9.

UNIT 7 Exercises

7.1 Decide which form of the verb is correct (or more natural) in these sentences. Cross out the one that is wrong.

Example: Tom isn't free on Saturday. He ~~will work~~ / is working.

1. I will go / am going to a party tomorrow night. Would you like to come too?
2. According to the weather forecast, it will rain / is raining tomorrow.
3. I'm sure Tom will get / is getting the job. He has a lot of experience.
4. I can't meet you this evening. A friend of mine will come / is coming to see me.
5. A: Have you decided where to go for your vacation yet?
B: Yes, we will go / are going to Italy.
6. Don't worry about the dog. It won't hurt / isn't hurting you.

7.2 Write questions using do you think ... will .... Use a verb from the box each time.

arrive come cost finish get married rain ~~pass~~

1. Bill is taking his final exam soon. Do you think he will pass ?
2. I've invited her to the party. Do you she ?
3. Jack and Ann are coming over this evening. What time do they ?
4. The weather doesn't look very good. Do ?
5. My car needs to be repaired. How much ?
6. They are in love. Do ?
7. The meeting is still going on. When ?

7.3 Answer these questions using the words in parentheses (...).

Example: Who do you think will win the prize? (bet/Sue) I bet Sue will win.

1. What do you think she'll say? (probably / nothing) She
2. Where do you think she'll go? (bet / South America) I
3. When do you think she'll leave? (think / tomorrow) I
4. How do you think she'll go there? (suppose / by plane) I
5. When do you think she'll be back? (think / quite soon) I
6. Do you think you'll miss her? (I'm sure / very much) Yes,

7.4 Read each situation and then write a question with shall I? or shall we? In each situation you are talking to a friend.

Example: It's very hot in the room. The window is shut. Shall I open the window?

1. Your friend wants you to call him/her later. You don't know what time to call. Ask your friend. You say: What
2. You and your friend haven't decided what to have for dinner.
You say:
3. You and your friend are going out. You haven't decided whether to go by car or to walk. You say:
or

UNIT 8

Will or going to?

a Talking about future actions

We use both will and going to to talk about our future actions, but there is a clear difference. Study this example situation:

Helen's bicycle has a flat tire. She tells her father.

Helen: My bicycle has a flat tire.

Can you fix it for me?

Father: Okay, but I can't do it now.

I'll fix it tomorrow.

will: We use will when we decide to do something at the time of speaking. The speaker has not decided before. Before Helen told her father, he didn't know about the flat tire.

Later, Helen's mother speaks to her husband.

Mother: Can you fix Helen's bicycle?

It has a flat tire.

Father: Yes, I know. She told me.

I'm going to fix it tomorrow.

going to: We use going to when we have already decided to do something. Helen's father had already decided to fix the bicycle before his wife spoke to him.

Here is another example:

- Tom is cooking when he suddenly discovers that there isn't any salt:

Tom: Ann, we don't have any salt.

Ann: Oh, we don't? I'll get some from the store. (she decides at the time of speaking)

Before going out, Ann says to Jim:

Ann: I'm going to get some salt from the store. (she has already decided)
Can I get you anything, Jim?

b Saying what will happen (predicting future happenings)

We use both will and going to to say what we think will happen in the future:

- Do you think Laura will get the job?
- Oh no! It's already 4:00. We're going to be late.

We use going to (not will) when there is something in the present situation that shows what will happen in the future (especially the near future). The speaker feels sure about what will happen because of the situation now (see also Unit 5d):

- Look at those black clouds. It's going to rain. (the clouds are there now)
- I feel terrible. I think I'm going to be sick. (I feel terrible now)

Do not use will in situations like these.

In other situations, use will (see also Unit 7):

- Sue will probably arrive at about 8 o'clock.
- I think George will like the present you bought for him.

UNIT 8 Exercises

8.1 Put the verb into the correct form, using will or going to.

Examples: A: Why are you turning on the TV?

B: I'm ~~going to watch~~..... (watch) the news.

A: Oh, I just realized – I don't have any money.

B: Don't worry – that's no problem. I ~~will lend~~..... (lend) you some.

Those clouds are very black, aren't they? I think it ~~is going to rain~~.... (rain).

1. A: I've got a terrible headache.
B: Do you? Wait here and I (get) you some aspirin.
2. A: Why are you filling that bucket with water?
B: I (wash) the car.
3. A: I've decided to repaint this room.
B: Oh, you have? What color (you/paint) it?
4. A: Look! There's smoke coming out of that house. It's on fire!
B: Oh no! I (call) the fire department right away.
5. A: The ceiling in this room doesn't look very safe, does it?
B: No, it looks as if it (fall) down.
6. A: Where are you going? Are you going shopping?
B: Yes, I (buy) something for dinner.
7. A: I can't figure out how to use this camera.
B: It's easy. I (show) you.
8. A: What would you like to have – coffee or tea?
B: I (have) coffee, please.
9. A: Has George decided what to do when he finishes school?
B: Oh yes. Everything is settled. He (take) a vacation for a few weeks, and then he (start) a computer programming course.
10. A: Did you mail that letter for me?
B: Oh, I'm sorry. I completely forgot. I (do) it now.
11. A: What shall we have for dinner?
B: I don't know. I can't make up my mind.
A: Come on, hurry up! Make a decision!
B: Okay. We (have) chicken.
12. Jack: We need some bread for lunch.
Ben: Oh, we do? I (go) to the store and get some. I feel like taking a walk.
Before he goes out, Ben talks to Jane:
Ben: I (get) some bread. Do you want anything from the store?
Jane: Yes, I need some envelopes.
Ben: Okay, I (get) you some.
13. John has to go to the airport to catch a plane. He doesn't have a car:
John: Toshi, can you take me to the airport tonight?
Toshi: Of course I (take) you. I'd be happy to.
Later that day Eric offers to take John to the airport.
Eric: John, do you want me to take you to the airport?
John: No thanks, Eric. Toshi (take) me.

When and If sentences (When I do ... / If I do ...)

a Study this example:

A: What time will you call me tonight?

B: I'll call you when I get home from work.

“I’ll call you when I get home from work” is a sentence with two parts: “I’ll call you” (the main part) and “when I get home from work” (the when part). The sentence is future (tonight), but you cannot use will or going to in the when part of the sentence. Instead we use a present tense, usually simple present (I do).

- I can't talk to you now. I'll talk to you later when I have more time. (not when I'll have)
- When the rain stops, we'll go out. (not when the rain will stop)

The same thing happens after:

while after before until/till as soon as

- Can you take care of the children while I am out? (not will be)
- Before you leave, you must visit the museum. (not will leave)
- Wait here until I come back. (not will come) b You can also use the present perfect (I have done) after when/after/until, etc., to show that the first action will be finished before the second:

- After I've read this book, you can have it.
- Don't say anything while Tom is here. Wait until he has gone.

It is often possible to use either the simple present or the present perfect:

- I'll come as soon as I finish.
- You'll feel better when you have something to eat.

C After if we also use the simple present (I do) for the future:

- It's raining. We'll get wet if we go out. (not if we will go)
- Hurry up! If we don't hurry, we'll be late. (not if we won't hurry)

Be careful not to confuse when and if.

Use when for things that are sure to happen:

- I'm going shopping this afternoon. When I go shopping, I'll buy some food.

Use if (not when) for things that will possibly happen:

- I might go shopping this afternoon. If I go shopping, I'll buy some food.
- If it rains this evening, I won't go out. (not when it rains)
- Don't worry if I'm late tonight. (not when I'm late)
- If he doesn't come soon, I'm not going to wait. (not when he doesn't come)

UNIT 9 Exercises

9.1 All the sentences in this exercise are about the future. Put the verbs into the correct form: the future will/won't or the simple present (I do).

Example: When I ~~see~~.....(see) Tom tonight, I ~~will invite~~....(invite) him to our party.

1. Before you (leave), don't forget to shut the windows.
2. I (call) you as soon as I (arrive) in Tokyo.
3. Please don't touch anything before the police (come).
4. Everyone (be) very surprised if he (pass) the exam.
5. When you (see) Brian again, you (not/recognize) him.
6. We (not/start) dinner until Karen (arrive).
7. (you/be) lonely without me while I (be) away?
8. If I (need) any help, I (ask) you.
9. Come on! Hurry up! Ann (be) annoyed if we (be) late.

9.2 Make one sentence from two sentences.

Example: You are going to leave soon. You must visit the museum before that.

~~You must visit the museum~~.....before ~~you leave~~.....

1. I'll find somewhere to live. Then I'll give you my address.
Iwhen
2. It's going to start raining. Let's go out before that.
Let'sbefore
3. I'm going to do the shopping. Then I'll come straight home.
.....after
4. You'll be in Washington next month. You must come and see me then.
.....when
5. I'm going to finish reading this book. Then I'll get the dinner ready.
.....when
6. We'll make our decision. Then we'll let you know.
.....as soon as

9.3 Fill in when or if.

Example: ~~If~~..... it rains this evening, I won't go out.

1. I'm sorry you've decided to go away. I'll be very sadyou leave.
2. Tom might call this evening.he does, can you take a message?

7. I'm going away for a few days. I'll call youI get back.
8. I want you to come to the party butyou don't want to come, you don't have to.

UNIT 10

Will be doing and will have done

a First study this example situation:

Tom is a football fan, and there is a football game on television this evening. The game begins at 7:30 and ends at 9:15. Ann wants to go and see Tom this evening and wants to know what time to come over:

Ann: Is it all right if I come over at about 8:30?

Tom: No, don't come then. I'll be watching the game on TV.

Ann: Oh. Well, what about 9:30?

Tom: Yes, that'll be fine. The game will have ended by then.

b We use will be doing (future continuous) to say that we will be in the middle of doing something at a certain time in the future. The football game begins at 7:30 and ends at 9:15. So during this time, for example at 8:30, Tom will be watching the match. Here are some more examples:

- You'll recognize her when you see her. She'll be wearing a yellow hat.
- This time next week I'll be on vacation. I'll probably be lying on a beautiful beach.

Compare will be doing with the other continuous forms:

Bill works every morning from 9 o'clock until noon. So:

- At 10 o'clock yesterday he was working. (past continuous – see Unit 12)
- It's 10 o'clock now. He is working. (present continuous – see Unit 1)
- At 10 o'clock tomorrow he will be working.

c You can also use will be doing in another way: to talk about things that are already planned or decided:

- I'll be going downtown later. Can I get you anything?

With this meaning will be doing is similar to am doing (see Unit 4a):

- I'm going downtown later.

We often use Will (you) be -ing? to ask about people's plans, especially when we want something or want someone to do something:

- "Will you be using your bicycle this evening?" "No, you can take it."
- "Will you be passing the post office when you go out?" "Yes, why?"

d We use will have done (future perfect) to say that something will already have happened before a certain time in the future. Tom's football game ends at 9:15. So after this time, for example at 9:30, the game will have ended. Here are some more examples:

- Next year is Ted and Amy's 25th wedding anniversary. They will have been married for 25 years. (Now they have been married for 24 years.)
- We're late. I guess the movie will already have started by the time we get to the theater.

UNIT 10 Exercises

10.1 Make sentences with will be -ing.

Example: I'm going to watch television from 9 until 10 o'clock this evening.

So at 9:30 I will be watching television.

1. Tomorrow afternoon I'm going to play tennis from 3:00 to 4:30. So at 4:00 tomorrow I
2. Jim is going to study from 7:00 until 10:00 this evening. So at 8:30 this evening he
3. We are going to clean the apartment tomorrow. It will take from 9 until 11 o'clock. So at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning

10.2 Write three sentences, one each about the past, present, and future. Bob always reads the newspaper in the morning. It always takes him half an hour, from 8:00 until 8:30. So:

1. At 8:15 yesterday morning Bob
2. It's 8:15 now. He
3. At 8:15 tomorrow morning he

10.3 Ask questions with Will you be -ing?

Example: You want to borrow your friend's bicycle this evening. (you / use / your bicycle this evening?) Will you be using your bicycle this evening?

1. You want your friend to give Jean a message this afternoon. (you / see / Jean this afternoon?)
2. You want to use your friend's typewriter tomorrow evening. (you / use / your typewriter tomorrow evening?)
3. Your friend is going shopping. You want him/her to buy some stamps for you at the post office. (you / pass / the post office while you're downtown?)

10.4 Use will have done.

Example: Tom and Ann are going to the movies. The movie begins at 7:30, and it is already 7:20. It will take them 20 minutes to get there. When they get there, (the film / already / start) the film will have already started.

1. Jim always goes to bed at 11:00. Peter is going to visit him at 11:30 this evening. When Peter arrives, (Jim / go / to bed)
2. Tom is on vacation. He has very little money and he is spending too much too quickly. Before the end of his vacation, (he / spend / all his money)
3. Sue went to Canada from the U.S. almost three years ago. Next Monday it will be exactly three years since she arrived. Next Monday (she / be / in Canada / exactly three years)

UNIT 11

Simple past (I did)

a Study this example:

Tom: Look! It's raining again.

Ann: Oh no, not again. It rained all day yesterday too.

Rained is the simple past tense. We use the simple past to talk about actions or situations in the past.

- I enjoyed the party very much.
- Mr. Brown died ten years ago.
- When I lived in Athens, I worked in a bank.

b Very often the simple past ends in -ed:

- We invited them to our party, but they decided not to come.
- The police stopped me on my way home last night.
- She passed her exam because she studied very hard.

For spelling rules see Appendix 3.

But many important verbs are irregular. This means that the simple past does not end in -ed:

leave → left We all left the party at 11:00.

go → went Last month I went to Rome to see a friend of mine.

cost → cost This house cost $75,000 in 1980.

The past of the verb be (am/is/are) is was/were:

I/he/she/it was we/you/they were

I was angry because Tom and Ann were late.

For a list of irregular verbs see Appendix 2.

c In simple past questions and negatives we use did/didn't + the base form (do/open, etc.):

it rained did it rain? it didn't rain

- Ann: Did you go out last night, Tom?
- Tom: Yes, I went to the movies. But I didn't enjoy it.
- When did Mrs. Johnson die? ■ What did you do over the weekend?
- We didn't invite her to the party, so she didn't come.
- Why didn't you call me on Tuesday?

Note that we normally use did/didn't with have:

- Did you have time to write the letter?
- I didn't have enough money to buy anything to eat.

But we do not use did with the verb be (was/were):

- Why were you so angry? ■ Was Mark at work yesterday?
- They weren't able to come because they were very busy.

For the simple past see also Units 12, 19, and 20.

UNIT 11 Exercises

11.1 Read a sentence about the present and then write a sentence about the past.

Example: Carol usually gets up at 7:30. Yesterday she got up at 7:30.

1. Carol usually wakes up early. Yesterday morning
2. Carol usually walks to work. Yesterday
3. Carol is usually late for work. Yesterday
4. Carol usually has a sandwich for lunch. Yesterday
5. Carol usually goes out in the evening. Yesterday evening
6. Carol usually sleeps very well. Last night

11.2 Put one of these verbs in each sentence:

hurt teach spend sell throw fall catch buy cost

Example: I was hungry, so I baught something to eat at the store.

1. Tom's father him how to drive when he was 17.
2. Don down the stairs this morning and his leg.
3. We needed some money, so we our car.
4. Ann a lot of money yesterday. She a dress that $80.
5. Jim the ball to Sue, who it.

11.3 Write questions. A friend has just come back from vacation and you are asking about it.

Examples: where / go? Where did you go?
food / good? Was the food good?

1. how long / stay there?
2. stay in a hotel?
3. go alone?
4. how / travel?
5. the weather / nice?
6. what / do in the evenings?
7. meet any interesting people?

11.4 Put the verb into the correct form. Use the simple past.

Example: I didn't go (not/go) to work yesterday because I wasn't (not/be) well.

1. Tom (not/shave) this morning because he (not/have) time.
2. We (not/eat) anything because we (not/be) hungry.
3. I (not/rush) because I (not/be) in a hurry.
4. She (not/be) interested in the book because she (not/understand) it.

UNIT 12

Past continuous (I was doing)

a Study this example situation:

Yesterday Dave and Jim played tennis. They began at 10:00 and finished at 11:00.

What were they doing at 10:30?

They were playing tennis (at 10:30).

“They were playing” means that they were in the middle of playing tennis. They had started playing, but they hadn’t finished.

This is the past continuous tense:

I/he/she was	} playing
we/they/you were

We use the past continuous to say that someone was in the middle of doing something at a certain time. The action or situation had already started before this time but hadn’t finished:

- This time last year I was living in Brazil.
- What were you doing at 10:00 last night?

b The past continuous does not tell us whether an action was finished or not. Perhaps it was finished, perhaps not. Compare:

- Dan was cooking dinner. (past continuous) = He was in the middle of cooking dinner and we don’t know whether he finished cooking it.
- Dan cooked dinner. (simple past) = He began and finished it.

c We often use the past continuous (I was doing) and the simple past (I did) together to say that something happened in the middle of something else:

- Dan burned his hand while he was cooking dinner.
- I saw Jim in the park. He was sitting on the grass and reading a book.
- It was raining when I got up.
- While I was working in the garden, I hurt my back.

But to say that one thing happened after another, use the simple past.

- Last night Sue was taking a bath when the phone rang. She got out of the bathtub and answered the phone.

Compare:

- When Helen arrived, we were having dinner. (past continuous) = We had already started dinner before Helen arrived.
- When Helen arrived, we had dinner. (simple past) = Helen arrived and then we had dinner.

Note: There are some verbs (for example, know) that are not normally used in continuous tenses. For a list of these verbs see Unit 3b.

UNIT 12 Exercises

12.1 Here is a list of some things that Ann did yesterday (and the times at which she did them):

- | | |
|--------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1. 8:45–9:15 had breakfast | 4. 12:45–1:30 had lunch |
| 2. 9:15–10:00 read the newspaper | 5. 2:30–3:30 washed some clothes |
| 3. 10:00–12:00 cleaned her apartment | 6. 4:00–6:00 watched TV |

Now write sentences saying what she was doing at these times:

- | | |
|---|------------------|
| 1. At 9:00 she was having breakfast. | 4. At 1:00 |
| 2. At 9:30 she | 5. At 3:00 |
| 3. At 11:00 | 6. At 5:00 |

12.2 A group of people were staying in a hotel. One evening the fire alarm went off. Use the words in parentheses (. . .) to make sentences saying what each person was doing at the time.

Example: (Don / take / a bath) Don was taking a bath.

- (Ann / write / a letter in her room) Ann
- (George / get / ready to go out) George
- (Carol and Dennis / have / dinner) Carol and Dennis
- (Tom / make / a phone call) Tom

12.3 Make sentences from the words in parentheses. Put the verbs into the correct form: simple past (I did) or past continuous (I was doing).

Example: (I / fall / asleep when I / watch / TV). I fell asleep when I was watching T.V.

- (the phone / ring / while I / take a shower) The phone
- (it / begin / to rain while I / walk / home)
- (we / see / an accident while we / wait / for the bus)

12.4 Put the verb into the correct form: past continuous or simple past.

Example: While Tom was cooking.. (cook) dinner, the phone rang..... (ring).

- George (fall) off the ladder while he (paint) the ceiling.
- Last night I (read) in bed when suddenly I (hear) a scream.
- (you/watch) TV when I called you?
- Ann (wait) for me when I (arrive).
- I (not/drive) very fast when the accident (happen).
- I (break) a plate last night. I (wash) the dishes when it (slip) out of my hand.
- Tom (take) a picture of me while I (not/look).
- We (not/go) out because it (rain).
- What (you/do) at this time yesterday?
- I (see) Carol at the party. She (wear) a new dress.

Present perfect (I have done) (1)

a Study this example situation:

Tom is looking for his key. He can't find it.

He has lost his key.

"He has lost his key" means that he lost it a short time ago and he still doesn't have it.

This is the present perfect (simple) tense:

I/we/they/you have (= I've, etc.)	} lost
he/she has (= he's, etc.)

I (etc.) haven't	} lost	have you (etc.)	} lost?
he/she hasn't		has he/she

We form the present perfect with have/has + the past participle. The past participle often ends in -ed (opened, decided), but many important verbs are irregular (lost, written, done, etc.). See Appendix 2.

b When we use the present perfect, there is a connection with the present:

- I've lost my key. (= I don't have it now.)
- Jim has gone to Canada. (= He is in Canada or on his way there now.)

c We often use the present perfect to give new information or to announce a recent happening:

- I've lost my key. Can you help me look for it?
- Did you hear about Jim? He's gone to Canada.

You can use the present perfect with just (= a short time ago):

- "Would you like something to eat?" "No, thanks. I've just had lunch."
- Hello, have you just arrived?

Use the present perfect with already to say something has happened sooner than expected:

- "Don't forget to mail the letter." "I've already mailed it."
- "When is Tom going to start his new job?" "He has already started."

Note that you can also use the simple past (I did / I lost, etc.) in the above situations.

- I lost my key. Can you help me look for it?
- "Would you like something to eat?" "No thanks. I just had lunch."
- "Don't forget to mail the letter." "I already mailed it."

d Study the difference between gone to and been to:

- Beth is on vacation. She has gone to Italy. (= She is there now or she is on her way there.)
- Tom is back from his vacation. He has been to Italy. (= He was there, but now he has come back.)

(See also Unit 114.)

For the present perfect see also Units 14–19.

For the present perfect and simple past see Units 19–20.

UNIT 13 Exercises

13.1 You are writing a letter to a friend and giving news about people you both know. Use the words given to make sentences and put the verb into the correct form.

Example: Phil / find a new job Phil has found a new job......

Dear Chris,

Lots of things have happened since I last wrote to you.

1. Fred / go / Brazil Fred
2. Jack and Jill / decide / to get married
3. Suzanne / have / a baby
4. Liz / give up / smoking
5. George / pass / his driving test

13.2 Read the situation and then write an appropriate sentence. Use the verb given.

Example: Tom is looking for his key. He can't find it. (lose) He has lost his key......

1. Sue's hair was dirty. Now it is clean. (wash) She
2. Tom weighed 190 pounds. Now he weighs 170. (lose weight)
3. The car has just stopped because there isn't any more gas in the tank. (run out of gas)
4. This morning Bill was playing football. Now he can't walk and his leg is in a cast. (break)

13.3 Use just. Answer the questions using the words given.

Example: Would you like something to eat? (no thank you / I / just / have / dinner)

No thank you. I've just had dinner......

1. Have you seen John anywhere? (yes / I / just / see / him) Yes,
2. Has Ann called yet? (yes / she / just / call)
3. Would you like a cigarette? (no thanks / I / just / put / one out)

13.4 Write sentences with already.

Example: Don't forget to mail that letter. I've already mailed it......

1. Don't forget to call Eric. I
2. Why don't you read the paper?
3. Shall I pay the waiter? No, I

13.5 Fill in been or gone.

Example: "Where's Amy?" "She's on vacation. She has gone.... to Italy."

1. Hello! I've just to the store. Look at all the things I've bought.
2. Jim isn't here at the moment. He's to the store.
3. "Are you going to the bank?" "No, I've already to the bank."

UNIT 14

Present perfect (I have done) (2)

a Study this example conversation:

Dave: Have you traveled a lot, Jane?
 Jane: Yes, I've been to 47 different countries.
 Dave: Really? Have you ever been to China?
 Jane: Yes, I've visited China twice.
 Dave: What about India?
 Jane: No, I've never been to India.

When we talk about a period of time that continues up to the present, we use the present perfect. Jane and Dave are talking about the places Jane has visited in her life (which is a period continuing up to the present).

Here are some more examples:

- “Have you read Hamlet?” “No, I haven't read any of Shakespeare's plays.”
- How many times have you been to the United States?
- Susan really loves that movie. She's seen it eight times.
- Carlos has lived in Argentina all his life. (or Carlos has always lived in Argentina.)

We often use ever and never with the present perfect:

- Have you ever eaten caviar?
- We have never had a car.

We often use the present perfect after a superlative (see Unit 100d):

- What a boring movie! It's the most boring movie I've ever seen.

b You have to use the present perfect with This is the first time . . . , It's the first time . . . , etc. Study this example situation:

- Ron is driving a car. He is very nervous and unsure because it's his first time behind the wheel of a car. You can say:

This is the first time he has driven a car. (not drives) or: He has never driven a car before.

Here are some more examples:

- Kathy has lost her passport again. It's the second time she has lost it.
- Is this the first time you've been in the hospital?

c Use the present perfect to say that you have never done something or that you haven't done something during a period of time that continues up to the present:

- I have never smoked.
- I haven't smoked for three years. (not I don't smoke for . . .)
- I haven't smoked since September. (not I don't smoke since . . .)
- Jill hasn't written to me for nearly a month.
- Jill has never driven a car.

For the difference between for and since see Unit 19b.

UNIT 14 Exercises

14.1 You are asking someone about things she has done in her life. Use the words in parentheses (...) to make your questions.

Example: (you ever / be / to China?) Have you ever been to China?

1. (you ever / be / to South America?)
2. (you / read / any English novels?)
3. (you / live / in this town all your life?)
4. (how many times / you / be / in love?)
5. (what's the most beautiful country you / ever / visit?)
6. (you ever / speak / to a famous person?)

14.2 Complete the answers to these questions. Use the verb in parentheses.

Example: Is it a beautiful painting? (see) Yes, it's the most beautiful painting I've ever seen.

1. Is it a good movie? (see) Yes, it's the best
2. Is it a long book? (read) Yes, it's the
3. Is she an interesting person? (meet) Yes, she's the most 14.3 Write questions and answers as shown in the example.

Example: Jack is driving a car, but he's very nervous and not sure what to do.

You ask: Is this the first time you've driven a car?

Jack: Yes, I've never driven a car before.

1. Len is playing tennis. He's not very good and doesn't know the rules.
You ask: Is this the first time
Len: Yes, I've
2. Sue is riding a horse. She doesn't look very confident or comfortable.
You ask:
Sue:
3. Marie is in Canada. She's just arrived and it's very new to her.
You ask:
Maria:

14.4 Answer these questions using the words in parentheses.

Example: When did you last smoke? (for two years) I haven't smoked for two years.

1. When did it last rain? (for ages) It for ages.
2. When did they last visit you? (since June) They
3. When did you last play tennis? (for a long time)
4. When did you last eat caviar? (never)
5. When did you last drive? (for six months)
6. When did you last go to Puerto Rico? (never)
7. When did she last write to you? (since last summer)

UNIT 15

Present perfect (I have done) (3)

a Study this example:

Tom: Have you heard from George?

Ann: No, he hasn't written to me lately.

We use the present perfect when we talk about a period of time that continues up to the present. Tom and Ann are talking about the period between a short time ago and now. So they say "have you heard" and "he hasn't written."

Here are some more examples:

- Have you seen my umbrella? I can't find it anywhere.
- Everything is going fine. We haven't had any problems so far.
- We've met a lot of interesting people in the last few days.
- Fred has been sick a lot in the past few years, hasn't he?
- I haven't seen Maria recently. Have you?

For sentences with for and since see Unit 18.

b We often use the present perfect with yet (see also Unit 103). Yet shows that the speaker is expecting something to happen. Use yet only in questions and negative sentences:

- Has it stopped raining yet?
- I haven't told them about the accident yet.

You can also use yet with the simple past:

- Did it stop raining yet?
- I didn't tell them yet.

(See also Unit 20.)

c We use the present perfect with this morning / this evening / today / this week / this semester, etc. (when these periods are not finished at the time of speaking):

- I've had five cups of coffee today. (Perhaps I'll have more before the day is over.)
- Has Ann had a vacation this year?
- I haven't seen Tom this morning. Have you?
- Liz hasn't studied very much this semester.
- Bill is calling his girlfriend again. That's the third time he's called her this evening.

d We also use the present perfect continuous (I have been doing) when we talk about a period of time continuing up to the present:

- I haven't been feeling very well lately.

For the present perfect continuous see Units 16–18.

For the present perfect and simple past see Units 19–20.

UNIT 15 Exercises

15.1 Make questions with the words given.

Example: (you / hear / from George recently?) Have you heard from George recently?

1. (you / read / a newspaper lately?)
2. (you / see / Lisa in the past few days?)
3. (you / play / tennis lately?)
4. (you / eat / anything today?)
5. (you / see / any good movies lately?)
6. (you / take / your vacation yet?)

15.2 Answer the questions in the way shown. Use yet.

Example: Have you seen the new film at the local cinema?

I haven't seen it yet, but I'm going to see it

1. Have you eaten at the new Japanese restaurant?
I yet, but I'm
2. Have you bought a car?
I , but I
3. Has Jerry asked Diana to marry him?
He

15.3 Complete the sentence. Use so far.

Examples: I saw Tom yesterday, but I haven't seen him so far today.

It rained a lot last week, but it hasn't rained much so far this week.

1. We ate a lot yesterday, but we much so far today.
2. It snowed a lot last winter, but it so far this winter.

4. She worked hard last semester, but this semester.
5. I watched television last night, but tonight.
6. My favorite baseball team won a lot of games last season, but they many games so far this season.

15.4 Read the situation and then finish the last sentence.

Example: Ron is calling Jill again. He has already called her twice this evening.

It's the third time he has called her this evening

1. You're late again. You've already been late once this week.
It's the second this week.
2. The car has broken down. It has already broken down twice this month.
It's the
3. Ann has just finished drinking a cup of tea. She has already had four cups this morning.
It's the fifth

UNIT 16

Present perfect continuous (I have been doing)

a Study this example situation:

Is it raining?
No, it isn't, but the ground is wet.

It has been raining.

This is the present perfect continuous tense:

I/we/they/you have (= I've, etc.)	} been doing
he/she/it has (= he's, etc.)

We use the present perfect continuous when we talk about an action that began in the past and has recently stopped or just stopped. Here are some examples:

- You're out of breath. Have you been running?
- Why are your clothes so dirty? What have you been doing?
- I've been talking to Tom about your problem, and he thinks . . .

b We also use the present perfect continuous to ask or say how long something has been happening. This time the action or situation began in the past and is still happening or has just stopped. Study this example:

It is raining now. It began to rain two hours ago, and it is still raining.

It has been raining for two hours.

We often use the present perfect continuous in this way, especially with how long, for, and since.

Here are some more examples:

- How long have you been studying English?
- They've been waiting here for over an hour.
- I've been watching television since 2:00.
- George hasn't been feeling very well lately.
- Have you been working hard today?

You can also use the present perfect continuous (with how long, for, and since) for actions repeated over a period of time:

- She has been playing tennis since she was eight.
- How long have you been smoking?

For more information about the present perfect + since/for, see Units 18–19. For the difference between the present perfect simple and present perfect continuous, see Units 17–18.

UNIT 16 Exercises

16.1 Read the situation and then write a sentence with the present perfect continuous (I have been doing).

Example: Carlos is out of breath. (he / run) He has been running.

1. Jane is very tired. (she / work / hard)
2. Bob has a black eye, and Bill has a cut lip. (Bob and Bill / fight)
3. George has just come back from the beach. He is very red. (he / lie / in the sun)
4. Janet is hot and tired. (she / play / tennis)

16.2 Ask a question for each situation.

Example: Your friend's hands are covered with grease. (you / work / on the car?)
Have you been working on the car?

1. You see a little boy. His eyes are red and watery. (you / cry?)
2. You have just arrived to meet your friend, who is waiting for you. (you / wait / long?)
3. Your friend comes in. Her face and hands are very dirty. (what / you / do?)

16.3 Say how long something has been happening.

Example: It is raining now. It began raining two hours ago.
It has been raining for two hours.

1. Kevin is studying. He began studying three hours ago.
He for three hours.
2. I'm learning Spanish. I started learning Spanish in December.
I since December.
3. Ann is looking for a job. She began looking six months ago.
..... for six months.
4. Mary is working in Toronto. She started working there on January 18th.
..... since January 18th.
5. Mark smokes. He started smoking five years ago.
..... for five years.

16.4 Ask questions with how long.

Example: It is raining. How long has it been raining?

1. Sue is reading War and Peace. How long
2. Mike plays chess. How
3. Jim sells washing machines.
4. Linda is living on Main Street.

UNIT 17

Present perfect continuous (I have been doing) or present perfect simple (I have done)?

a Study these example situations:

Ann's clothes are covered in paint. She has been painting the ceiling.

Has been painting is the present perfect continuous tense.

We are interested in the action. It does not matter whether something has been finished or not. In the example, the action has not been finished.

Here are some pairs of examples:

Tom's hands are very dirty. He has been fixing the car.
You've been smoking too much lately. You should smoke less.

The ceiling was white. Now it's blue. She has painted the ceiling.

Has painted is the present perfect simple tense.

This time, the important thing is that something has been finished. We are interested in the result of the action, not in the action itself.

The car is working again now. Tom has fixed it.
Somebody has smoked all my cigarettes. The packet is empty.

b We use the continuous form to say how long something has been happening:

Ann has been writing letters all day.
How long have you been reading that book?
Jim has been playing tennis since 2:00.

We use the simple form to say how much we have done, how many things we have done, or how many times we have done something:

Ann has written ten letters today.
How many pages of that book have you read?
Jim has played tennis three times this week.

See Unit 18 for more information about the present perfect and how long?

c Some verbs are not used in the continuous form, for example know. You have to say have known (not have been knowing). For a list of these verbs see Unit 3b.

UNIT 17 Exercises

17.1 Read the situation and then write two sentences, one with the present perfect simple (I have done) and one with the present perfect continuous (I have been doing).

Example: Tom is reading a book. He started two hours ago, and he is on page 53.

(he / read / for two hours) He has been reading for two hours.

(he / read / 53 pages so far) He has read 53 pages so far.

1. Linda is from Canada. Now she is traveling around Europe. She began her trip three months ago.

(she / travel / around Europe for three months)

(she / visit / six countries so far)

2. Sue is a tennis champion. She began playing tennis when she was 11 years old. Now she has just won the national championship for the fourth time.

(she / play / tennis since she was 11)

(she / win / the national championship four times)

3. Bill and Andy make films. They started making films together when they left college.

(they / make / films since they left college)

(they / make / ten films since they left college)

17.2 Imagine that you are talking to a friend. Read the situation and ask a question beginning in the way shown.

Example: Your friend is studying Arabic. How long have you been studying Arabic?

1. Your friend is waiting for you. How long

2. Your friend writes books. How many books

3. Your friend writes books. How long

4. Your friend is fishing by the river. How many fish

.....

17.3 Put the verb into the correct form: present perfect simple (I have done) or continuous (I have been doing).

Examples: I have lost (lost) my key. Can you help me look for it?

You look tired. Have you been working (you/work) too hard?

1. Look! Somebody (break) that window.

2. I (read) the book you gave me, but I
..... (not/finish) it yet.

3. "Sorry I'm late." "That's all right. I (not/wait) long."

4. Hello! I (clean) the windows. So far I

..... (clean) five of them and there are two more to do.

5. There's a strange smell in here. (you/cook) something?

6. My brother is an actor. He (appear) in several movies.

UNIT 18

Present perfect (I have done / I have been doing) with how long, for, since

a Study this example situation:

Bob and Alice are married. They got married exactly 20 years ago, so today is their 20th wedding anniversary.

They have been married for 20 years.

We use the present perfect to say how long something has existed or how long something has been happening.

They are married.

How long have they been married?

They have been married for 20 years.

b We use the present perfect continuous (I have been doing) to say how long something has been happening. Note that the action is still happening now.

- I've been studying English for a long time.
- Sorry I'm late. Have you been waiting long?
- It's been raining since I got up this morning.

Sometimes the action is a repeated action (see also Unit 16b):

- Liz has been driving for ten years.
- How long have you been smoking?

The continuous (I have been doing) or the simple (I have done) can be used for actions repeated over a long period:

- I've been collecting / I've collected stamps since I was a child.

c We use the simple (I have done) for situations that exist for a long time (especially if we say always). Note that the situation still exists now.

- My father has always worked hard. (not has always been working)

We use the continuous for situations over a shorter time. Compare:

- John has been living in Caracas since January.
- John has always lived in Caracas.

d Some verbs (for example be, have, know) are not normally used in the continuous (see Unit 3b for a list and Unit 23 for have):

- How long have Bob and Alice been married?
- Sue has had a cold for the past week. (not has been having)
- Bill and I have known each other since high school.

e Do not use the simple present (I do) or present continuous (I am doing) to say how long something has been happening:

- I've been waiting here for an hour. (not I am waiting)
- How long have you known Jane? (not do you know)

UNIT 18 Exercises

18.1 Are these sentences right or wrong? Correct the ones that are wrong.

Examples: How long have Bob and Alice been married?

WRONG- have known

3. How long has George been unemployed?
4. Have you always been living in this house?
5. How long does Ken have a beard?
6. How long do you know Ann?
7. She has been sick for a long time.

18.2 Write questions with how long?

UNIT 19

Present perfect with how long; simple past with when; since and for a Use the simple past (I did) to ask or say when something happened:

- A: When did it start raining?
- B: It started raining at one o'clock / an hour ago.
- A: When did Joe and Carol first meet?
- B: They first met when they were in college / a long time ago.

Use the present perfect (I have done / I have been doing) to ask or say how long something has been happening (up to the present):

- A: How long has it been raining?
- B: It's been raining since one o'clock / for an hour.
- A: How long have Joe and Carol known each other?
- B: They've known each other since they were in college / for a long time.

b Since and for

We use both since and for to say how long something has been happening:

- I've been waiting for you since 8 o'clock.
- I've been waiting for you for two hours.

We use since when we say the beginning of the period (8 o'clock).

We use for when we say the period of time (two hours).

since		for
8 o'clock	1977	two hours	a week
Monday	Christmas	ten minutes	five years
May 12	lunchtime	three days	a long time
April	we arrived	six months	ages

- She's been working here since April. (= from April until now)
She's been working here for six months. (not since six months)
- I haven't seen Tom since Monday. (= from Monday until now)
I haven't seen Tom for three days. (not since three days)

We do not use for in expressions with all (all day / all morning / all week / all my life, etc.):

- I've lived here all my life. (not for all my life)

c Note the structure How long has it been since ... ?:

- A: How long has it been since you had a vacation?
- B: It's been (= it has been) two years since I had a vacation. (= I haven't had a vacation for two years.)
- It's been ages since Aunt Helen visited us. (= She hasn't visited us for ages.)

UNIT 19 Exercises

19.1 Write questions with how long and when.

Example: It is raining. (how long / it / rain?) How long has it been raining?
(when / it / start / raining?) When did it start raining?

(when / you / first / meet / Tom?)
3. Glen and Mary are married.

2. Randy's father has been a policeman 20 years.
3. Have you been studying English a long time?

UNIT 20

Present perfect (I have done) or simple past (I did)?

a It is often possible to use the present perfect (I have done) or the simple past (I did):

- I've lost my key. Have you seen it anywhere?

or: I lost my key. Did you see it anywhere?

But do not use the present perfect to say when something happened (for example, yesterday, two years ago, when I was a child, etc.). Use a past tense in these sentences:

- I lost my key yesterday. (not have lost)
- Did you see the movie on TV last night? (not have you seen)
- I ate a lot of candy when I was a child. (not have eaten)

Use a past tense to ask when or what time something happened:

- What time did they arrive? (not have they arrived)
- When were you born? (not have been born)

b Do not use the present perfect (I have done) for happenings and actions that are not connected with the present (for example, historical events):

- The Chinese invented printing. (not have invented)
- How many symphonies did Beethoven compose? (not has . . . composed)

c Now compare these sentences:

Present perfect (I have done)

I've smoked 20 cigarettes today.

Today is a period of time that continues up to the present. It is not a finished time. So we use the present perfect.

Dan hasn't been sick this year.

Have you seen Ann this morning?

(It is still morning.)

Have you seen Ann recently?

We've been waiting for an hour. (We are still waiting.)

Pierre has lived in Quebec for six years.

(He still lives there.)

I have never played golf (in my life).

The present perfect always has a connection with the present.

See Units 13–19.

Simple past (I did)

I smoked 20 cigarettes yesterday.

Yesterday is a finished time in the past. So we use the simple past.

Dan wasn't sick last year.

Did you see Ann this morning?

(It is now afternoon.)

Did you see Ann last week?

We waited (or were waiting) for an hour. (We are no longer waiting.)

Pierre lived in Quebec for ten years.

(He no longer lives there.)

I didn't play golf when I was on vacation last summer.

The simple past tells us only about the past.

See Units 11–12.

UNIT 20 Exercises

20.1 Are the underlined parts of these sentences right or wrong? Correct the ones that are wrong.

Examples: Have you heard? Suzanne has gotten married!
The Chinese have invented printing.

How many cigarettes have you smoked today?

UNIT 21

Past perfect (I had done)

a Study this example situation:

	I went to a party last week. Tom went to the party too. Tom went home at 10:30. So, when I arrived at 11:00, Tom wasn't there. When I arrived at the party, Tom wasn't there. He had gone home. This is the past perfect (simple) tense: I/he/she (etc.) had (= I'd / he'd / she'd, etc.) gone I/he/she (etc.) hadn't gone had you/he/she (etc.) gone?
--	--

We form the past perfect with had + the past participle (gone/opened/written, etc.). For irregular past participles see Appendix 2.

Sometimes we talk about something that happened in the past:

- I arrived at the party.

We use the past perfect to say that something had already happened before this time:

- When I arrived at the party, Tom had already gone home.

Here are some more examples:

- When I got home, I found that someone had broken into my apartment and had stolen my fur coat.
- George didn't want to come to the movies with us because he had already seen the film twice.
- It was my first time in an airplane. I was very nervous because I had never flown before.

b The past perfect (I had done) is the past of the present perfect (I have done). Compare these situations:

Present	Past
I'm not hungry. I've just had lunch. The house is dirty. We haven't cleaned it for weeks.	I wasn't hungry. I'd just had lunch. The house was dirty. We hadn't cleaned it for weeks.

c Compare the past perfect (I had done) and the simple past (I did):

- "Was Tom there when you arrived?" "No, he had already gone home."
but: "Was Tom there when you arrived?" "Yes, but he went home soon afterward."
- Ann wasn't home when I called her. She was at work.
but: Ann had just gotten home when I called her. She had been at work.

For the past perfect continuous see Unit 22.

UNIT 21 Exercises

UNIT 22

Past perfect continuous (I had been doing)

a Study this example situation:

Yesterday morning I got up and looked out the window. The sun was shining, but the ground was very wet.

It had been raining.

It wasn't raining when I looked out the window; the sun was shining. But it had been raining. That's why the ground was wet.

Had been raining is the past perfect continuous tense:

I/he/she (etc.) had (= I'd/he'd/she'd, etc.) been doing

Here are some more examples:

- When the boys came into the house, their clothes were dirty, their hair was a mess, and one had a black eye. They had been fighting.
- I was very tired when I arrived home. I'd been working hard all day.

b You can use the past perfect continuous to say how long something had been happening before something else happened:

- The soccer game had to be stopped. They had been playing for half an hour when there was a terrible storm.
- Ken had been smoking for 30 years when he finally gave it up.

c The past perfect continuous (I had been doing) is the past of the present perfect continuous (I have been doing). Compare:

Present	Past
How long have you been waiting ? (until now)	How long had you been waiting when the bus finally came?
He's out of breath. He has been running .	He was out of breath. He had been running .

d Compare the past perfect continuous (I had been doing) with the past continuous (I was doing):

- When I looked out the window, it had been raining. (= It wasn't raining when I looked out; it had stopped.)
- When I looked out the window, it was raining. (= Rain was falling at the time I looked out.)

e Some verbs (for example, know) cannot be used in the continuous form. See Unit 3b for a list of these verbs.

For the past perfect simple see Unit 21.

- We have a new car.
- I have a brother and two sisters.
- Tom has a headache / a cold / the flu / etc.
- When she was a child, she had long blonde hair.

- Tom has got a headache. (= Tom has a headache.)

The question and negative forms are:

- Have you got a headache? (= do you have)
- Has she got any brothers or sisters? (= does she have)
- I haven't got any money. (= I don't have)
- Ann hasn't got a car. (= Ann doesn't have)

But don't use got for the past:

- When she was a child, she had long blonde hair. (not she had got)

c Have for actions

We also use have for a number of actions (especially eating and drinking):

have breakfast / lunch / dinner / a meal / a cup of coffee / a cigarette / etc.
have a good time / a nice day / etc.	have a party (= give a party) have a look (at something)	have a baby (= give birth to a baby)

- We're having a party on Saturday. Would you like to come?

- I don't usually smoke, but I was feeling nervous, so I
- If you're thirsty, why don't you ?
- I haven't seen you since you came back from vacation. ?

UNIT 24

Used to (I used to do)

a Study this example situation:

SMOKING SECTION

Before

NO SMOKING SECTION

Now

This is Dennis. He gave up smoking two years ago. He no longer smokes.

But he used to smoke. He used to smoke 40 cigarettes a day.

He used to smoke means that he smoked regularly for some time in the past, but he doesn't smoke now:

past
now

2 years ago

he used to smoke

he doesn't smoke now

We use used to with the base form (used to do / used to smoke, etc.) to say that something happened regularly in the past but no longer happens:

- I used to play tennis a lot, but now I'm too lazy.
- "Do you go to the movies very often?" "Not now, but I used to."
- Sue used to travel a lot. These days she doesn't go away very often.

We also use used to for past situations (that no longer exist):

- We used to live in a small village, but now we live in Milan.
- This building is now a furniture store. It used to be a movie theater.
- Do you see that hill over there? There used to be a castle on that hill.
- I've started drinking tea lately. I never used to like it before.
- Ann used to have long hair, but she cut it some time ago.

b Used to + base form is always past. There is no present. You cannot say "I use to do." For the present, use the simple present (I do). Compare the present and past:

past	he used to smoke	we used to live	there used to be
present	he smokes	we live	there is c The normal question form is did ... use to ... ?:

- Did you use to eat a lot of candy when you were a child?

The negative form is didn't use to ... (or never used to)

- Jim didn't use to go out very often until he met Jill. (or never used to go out)

d Be careful not to confuse I used to do and I am used to doing (see Unit 59). The structures and meanings are different:

- I used to live alone. (= I lived alone but I no longer live alone.)
- I am used to living alone. (= I live alone and don't find it strange or new because I've been living alone for some time.)

UNIT 24 Exercises

24.1 Complete each sentence with used to . . .

Example: Dennis doesn't smoke anymore, but he used to smoke..... 40 cigarettes a day.

1. The baby doesn't cry so much now, but she every night.
2. She my best friend, but we aren't friends anymore.
3. We live in Barcelona now, but we in Madrid.
4. Now there's only one cafe in the village, but there three.
5. When I was a child I ice cream, but I don't like it now.
6. Now Tom has a car. He a motorcycle.

24.2 Write some sentences about a man who changed his lifestyle. Ron stopped doing some things and started doing other things:

He stopped	{	studying hard going to bed early running three miles every morning	He started	{	smoking staying out late spending a lot of money
------------	---	--	------------	---	--

Make sentences like these:

Examples: He used to study hard.
He never used to smoke. or He didn't use to smoke.

1.
4.

24.3 Write sentences about the present. Remember there is no present tense of used to.

Examples: Ron used to study hard, but now he doesn't study very hard.
 Ron didn't use to smoke, but now he smokes.

1. Mark used to play tennis a lot, but now
2. Mary never used to drink coffee, but now
3. Jill didn't use to be fat, but now
4. Jack didn't use to go out much, but now

24.4 Ask some questions. Mr. Park is an old man now. You are asking someone what he used to do when he was younger.

Example: I know he doesn't smoke now, but did he use to smoke..... ?

1. I know he doesn't play the piano now, but ?
2. I know he isn't very rich now, but ?
3. I know he doesn't go out very often these days, but ?
4. I know he doesn't dance these days, but ?
5. I know he doesn't have many friends now, but ?

UNIT 25

Can, could, and be able to a We use can (do) to say that something is possible or that someone has the ability to do something. The negative is can't (cannot).

- You can see the ocean from our bedroom window.
- Can you speak any foreign languages?
- I'm afraid I can't come to your party next Friday.

Be able to is possible instead of can, but can is more usual:

- Are you able to speak any foreign languages?

But can has only two forms: can (present) and could (past). So sometimes you have to use be able to:

- I haven't been able to sleep recently. (can has no present perfect)
- Sue might not be able to come tomorrow. (can has no infinitive)
- I'm very busy today, but I should be able to meet with you tomorrow.

b Could and was able to

Sometimes could is the past of can. We use could especially with these verbs:

see hear smell taste feel remember understand

- When we went into the house, we could smell something burning.
- She spoke in a low voice, but I could understand what she was saying.

We also use could to say that someone had the general ability to do something:

- My grandfather could speak five languages.
- When Joe was 16, he could run 100 meters in 11 seconds.

But if you mean that someone managed to do something in one particular situation, you have to use was/were able to (not could):

- The fire spread through the building very quickly, but everyone was able (= managed) to escape. (not could escape)
- They didn't want to come with us at first, but finally we were able (= managed) to persuade them. (not could persuade)

Compare could and was able to in this example:

- Jack was an excellent tennis player. He could beat anybody. (= He had the ability to beat anybody.)
- But once he had a difficult game against Bob. Bob played very well, but in the end Jack was able to beat him. (= He managed to beat him in this particular game.)

The negative couldn't is possible in all situations:

- My grandfather couldn't swim.
- We tried hard but we couldn't persuade them to come with us.

For can see also Unit 30. For could see also Units 26 and 30.

UNIT 25 Exercises

25.1 Use can or be able to. Sometimes it is possible to use either; sometimes only be able to is possible.

Examples: George has traveled a lot. He can (or is able to) speak four languages.
I haven't been able to sleep very well lately.

1. Tom drive, but he doesn't have a car.
2. I can't understand Martin. I've never understand him.
3. I used to stand on my head, but I can't do it now.
4. Ask Ann about your problem. She should help you.

25.2 Complete the sentence with could . . .

Example: I can't sing now, but I could sing very well when I was a child.

1. He can't play tennis very well now, but he fairly well when he was younger.
2. She can't run very fast now, but when she was in school she faster than anyone else.
3. I can't swim very far these days, but ten years ago I from one side of the lake to the other.

25.3 Answer the questions with was/were able to.

Example: Did you persuade them?

Yes. It was difficult, but we were able to persuade them

1. Did they find your house?
Yes. It took them a long time, but they
2. Did you win the match?
Yes. It wasn't easy, but I
3. Did the thief escape?
Yes. The police officer chased the thief, but he 25.4 Complete each sentence with could, was/were able to, or couldn't.

Examples: My grandfather was very clever. He could (or was able to) speak five languages.

I looked everywhere for the book, but I couldn't find it.

The fire spread quickly, but everyone was able to escape.

1. He had hurt his leg, so he walk very well.
2. She wasn't at home when I called, but I contact her at her office.
3. I looked very carefully, and I see a figure in the distance.
4. They didn't have any tomatoes in the first store I went to, but I get some in the next store.
5. My grandmother loved music. She play the piano very well.
6. The boy fell into the river, but fortunately we rescue him.

UNIT 26

Could (do) and could have (done)

a Study this example:

Dan: What do you want to do this evening?
Sue: We could go to the movies.

We use could (do) in a number of ways. Sometimes it is the past of can (do) (see Unit 25), but sometimes it has a present or future meaning. For example, we sometimes use could to talk about possible future actions, especially when we make suggestions:

"When you go to New York, you could stay with Linda."

Can is also possible in these sentences. ("We can go to the movies.")
Could is more unsure than can.

We also use could to talk about possible future happenings:

- There could be another rise in the price of gas soon. (= It is possible that there will be.)

Sometimes could means would be able to:

- Why doesn't Tom apply for the job? He could get it.
- I don't know how she works 14 hours a day. I couldn't do it.

b The past of could (do) is could have (done). We use could have (done) to say that we had the ability or the opportunity to do something but did not do it:

- We didn't go out last night. We could have gone to the movies, but we decided to stay home. (We had the opportunity to go out, but we didn't.)
- Why did you stay at a hotel in New York? You could have stayed with Linda. (You had the opportunity to stay with her but you didn't.)
- Why didn't Tom apply for the job? He could have gotten it. (He had the ability to get it.)

We also use could have (done) to say something was a possibility but didn't happen:

- He was lucky when he fell off the ladder. He could have hurt himself.

c Here are some examples of couldn't have (done). "I couldn't have done something" = I wouldn't have been able to do it if I had wanted or tried to do it:

- When I went to New York last year, I decided not to stay with Linda. Later I found out that she was away while I was there, so I couldn't have stayed with her anyway.
- The hockey game was canceled last week. Tom couldn't have played anyway because he was sick.

For could/couldn't see also Units 25, 27b, 28c, 30.

For could in if sentences see Units 34–35 and 36c.

UNIT 26 Exercises

26.1 Make suggestions. Use could.

Example: Where should we go for our vacation? (Mexico) We could go to Mexico......

1. What should we have for dinner tonight? (fish)
2. When should we go and see Tom? (on Friday)
3. What should I give Ann for her birthday? (a book)

26.2 Use could have. Answer the questions in the way shown.

Example: "Did you go to the movies?"

"No. We could have gone to the movies, but we decided not to."

1. "Did you go to the concert last night?" "No. We"
2. "Did John take the exam?" "No. He"
3. "Did you buy a new car?" "No. I"

26.3 Write sentences with could or could have.

Examples: She doesn't want to stay with Linda. But she could stay with Linda.
She didn't want to stay with Linda. But she could have stayed with Linda.

1. He didn't want to help us. But he
2. He doesn't want to help us. But
3. They don't want to lend us any money. But
4. She didn't want to have anything to eat.

26.4 First read this information about Ken:

Ken doesn't know any Spanish.	Ken doesn't know anything about machines.
Ken is very rich and generous.	Ken can't drive.
Ken was sick on Friday night.	Ken was free on Monday afternoon.

A lot of people wanted Ken to do different things last week, but they couldn't contact him. So he didn't do any of these things. Say whether he could have done or couldn't have done these things (if he had known).

Example: His aunt wanted him to drive her to the station.

He couldn't have driven her to the station (because he can't drive).

1. Ann wanted him to come to a party on Friday night.
He because
2. Jim wanted him to play tennis on Monday afternoon.
He
3. Sue wanted him to translate a Spanish newspaper article into English.
..... because
4. Jack wanted Ken to lend him $20.
5. Ken's mother wanted him to fix her washing machine.
..... because

UNIT 27

Must (have) and can't (have)

a Study this example situation:

Liz is a very good tennis player, and not many players beat her. But yesterday she played against Bill and Bill won. So:

Bill must be a very good player (otherwise he wouldn't have won).

We use must to say we are sure that something is true:

- You've been traveling all day. You must be tired. (= I am sure that you are tired.)
- I hear that your exams are next week. You must be studying very hard right now. (= I am sure that you are studying.)
- Carol knows a lot about films. She must like to go to the movies. (= I am sure she likes to go to the movies.)

We use can't to say that we think something is impossible:

- You've just had dinner. You can't be hungry already. (= It is impossible that you are hungry.)
- Tom said that he would be here ten minutes ago, and he is never late. He can't be coming.

Study the structure:

I/you/he (etc.)	{ must can't }	be tired/hungry, etc. be studying/waiting/coming, etc. know/like , etc.
-----------------	---------------------------------	--

b For the past we use must have (done) and can't have (done). Study this example:

We went to Roy's house last night and rang the doorbell. There was no answer. He must have gone out (otherwise he would have answered).

- The phone rang, but I didn't hear it. I must have been asleep.
- I made a lot of noise when I came home. You must have heard me.
- She passed me on the street without speaking. She can't have seen me.
- Tom walked into the wall. He can't have been looking where he was going.

Study the structure:

I/you/he (etc.)	{ must can't }	have	{ been asleep/tired, etc. been looking/waiting, etc. gone/done/seen/heard , etc.
-----------------	---------------------------------	-------------	---

"Couldn't have (done)" is possible instead of "can't have (done)":

- She couldn't have seen me.
- He couldn't have been looking where he was going.

For other meanings of must and can't see Units 25 and 31.

UNIT 27 Exercises

27.1 Complete these sentences using must (have) . . . , couldn't (have) . . . , or can't (have) . . .

Examples: "Is he American?" "Yes, he must be American."

"Did she see you?" "No, she can't have seen me."

1. "Are they married?" "Yes, they must"

27.2 Complete these sentences with must or can't + an appropriate verb.

Example: You've been traveling all day. You must be very tired.

1. Brian has three houses, six cars, a yacht, and a helicopter. He a lot of money.
2. (The doorbell rings.) I wonder who that is. It Jim. He said he would come after 7:00 and it's only 6:30 now.
3. I wonder why Sue isn't at work today. She sick.
4. John seems to know a lot about history. He a lot of books.
5. Jane's putting on her hat and coat. She out.

27.3 Read each situation and write a sentence with must have or can't have. Use the words in parentheses (. . .).

Example: The phone rang but I didn't hear it. (I must / be / asleep)

I must have been asleep.

1. That dress you bought is very good quality. (it must / be / very expensive)
It must
2. I haven't seen Jim for ages. (he must / go / away) He

8. I don't understand how the accident happened. (the driver can't / see / the red light)

UNIT 28

May (have) and might (have)

a Study this example situation:

You are looking for Jack. Nobody knows for sure where he is, but you get some suggestions:

He may be in his office. (= perhaps he is in his office)

He might be having lunch. (= perhaps he is having lunch)

Ask Ann. She might know. (= perhaps Ann knows)

We use may or might to say that something is possible. You can say:

■ He may be in his office. or He might be in his office.

The negative is may not and might not:

■ Jack might not be in his office. (= perhaps he isn't in his office)

■ I'm not sure whether I can lend you any money. I may not have enough.
(= perhaps I don't have enough)

Study the structure:

I/you/he (etc.)	{ may might }	(not)	{ be in his office be having/waiting , etc. know/have/do , etc.
-----------------	--------------------------------	-------	--

b To say what was possible in the past, we use may have (done) and might have (done):

■ A: I wonder why Ann didn't answer the doorbell.

B: Well, I suppose she may have been asleep. (= perhaps she was asleep)

■ A: Why didn't he say hello when he passed us on the street?

B: He might have been daydreaming. (= perhaps he was daydreaming)

■ A: I can't find my bag anywhere.

B: You might have left it in the store. (= perhaps you left it)

Study the structure:

I/you/he (etc.)	{ may might }	(not)	have	{ been asleep been daydreaming/waiting , etc. known/left/had , etc.
-----------------	--------------------------------	-------	------	--

c You can use could instead of may or might. But with could the possibility is smaller:

■ "Where's Jack?" "I'm not sure. He could be in his office, I suppose, but he's not usually there at this time."

For may and might see also Units 29 and 30.

UNIT 28 Exercises

28.1 Make sentences with may or might. The first four sentences are present.

Examples: "Do you know if Jack is in his office?" "I'm not sure. He may be in his office..."
"Do you know if Joan likes ice cream?" "I'm not sure. She might like ice cream..."

1. "Do you know if they are married?" "I'm not sure. They"
2. "Do you know if she wants to go?" "I'm not sure."
3. "Do you know if he's telling the truth?" "I'm"
4. "Do you know if he has a car?" "I"

The next three sentences are past.

Examples: "Do you know if he was serious?" "I'm not sure. He might have been serious..."
"Do you know if they were looking?" "I'm not sure. They may have been looking..."

5. "Do you know if she was sick?" "I'm not sure. She"
6. "Do you know if she told anybody?" "I"
7. "Do you know if they were listening?" ""

Use may not or might not.

Example: "Is Jack in his office?" "I'm not sure. He might not be in his office..."

8. "Does she want to go?" ""
9. "Is he telling the truth?" ""
10. "Are they ready?" ""

28.2 Write sentences to explain each situation. Use the words in parentheses (. . .) to make your sentences.

Example: I can't find George anywhere. I wonder where he is.

- a) (he might / go / shopping) He might have gone shopping.
- b) (he could / play / tennis) He could be playing tennis.

1. Look! Sue's going out. I wonder where she's going.
 - a) (she may / go / to the theater)
 - b) (she could / go / to a party)

 - b) (she may / go / shopping)
5. George didn't come to the party. I wonder why not.
 - a) (he might / have / to go somewhere else)
 - b) (he may not / know / about it)

UNIT 29

May and might (future)

a We use may or might to talk about possible happenings or possible actions in the future. Study these examples:

- I'm not sure where to go on my vacation, but I may go to Puerto Rico.
(= perhaps I will go)
- The weather forecast is not very good. It might rain this afternoon.
(= perhaps it will rain)
- I can't help you. Why don't you ask Tom? He might be able to help you.
(= perhaps he will be able to help)

The negative form is may not or might not:

- Ann may not come to the party tonight. She isn't feeling well.
(= perhaps she won't come)
- There might not be a meeting on Friday because the director is sick.
(= perhaps there won't be a meeting)

It doesn't matter whether you use may or might. You can say:

- I may go to Italy. or I might go to Italy.

b There is also a continuous form: may/might be doing. Compare this with will be doing (see Unit 10a,b):

- Don't call at 8:30. I'll be watching the football game on TV.
- Don't call at 8:30. I may (or might) be watching the football game on TV.
(= perhaps I'll be in the middle of watching it)

You can also use the continuous (may/might be doing) when you are talking about possible plans. Compare:

- I'm going to Puerto Rico in July. (for sure)
- I may (or might) be going to Puerto Rico in July. (it's possible)

But you can also say: I may/might go to Puerto Rico in July.

c May as well, might as well
Study this example:

A: What do you want to do this evening?
B: I don't know. Any ideas?
A: Well, there's a movie on television. It sounds interesting.
B: We might as well watch it. There's nothing else to do.

We use may/might as well to say that we should do something, but only because there is no reason not to do it and because there is nothing better to do. We might as well watch it means, "Why not watch it? There's nothing better to do."

- You'll have to wait an hour for the next bus, so you might as well walk.
- We may as well go to the party. We have nothing else to do.
- "Should we have dinner now?" "We might as well."

For may and might see also Units 28 and 34c. For may only, see Unit 30.

UNIT 29 Exercises

29.1 Talk about future plans. You are not sure what is going to happen. Use may or might.

Example: Where are you going on your vacation? (to Brazil???)

I haven't decided yet, but I may (or might) go to Brazil.

1. What kind of car are you going to buy? (a Toyota???)
I'm not sure yet, but I
2. What are you doing this weekend? (go skiing???)
I don't know for sure, but
3. Where are you going to hang that picture? (in the dining room???)
I haven't made up my mind yet, but
4. When is Tom coming to see us? (tomorrow evening???)
I'm not sure, but
5. What's Jill going to do when she graduates? (go to a business college???)
She hasn't decided yet, but 29.2 Talk about possible happenings. Use the word(s) in parentheses (...).

Examples: Do you think it will rain this afternoon? (may) It may rain this afternoon.

Do you think Ann will come to the party? (might not)

She might not come to the party.

1. Do you think Bob will be late? (may) He
2. Do you think Amy will be able to find our house? (might not) She

4. Do you think Tony will pass the exam? (may not)
5. Do you think they'll be waiting for us when we arrive? (might)
6. Do you think it'll snow later? (may)

29.3 Read these situations and make sentences with may/might as well.

Example: A friend has invited you to a party. You're not very excited about going, but there isn't anything else to do. So you think you should go.

You say: I might as well go. There isn't anything else to do.

1. You're in a coffee shop with a friend. You've just finished your coffee. You're not in a hurry, so you think you should both have another cup.
You say: We Are you ready for one?
2. Someone has given you a free ticket to a concert. You're not very interested in the concert, but you think you should go because you have a free ticket.
You say: I It's a shame to waste a free ticket.
3. You invited some friends to dinner, but they haven't come. The dinner has been ready for half an hour and you think you should begin without them.
You say: We I don't think they are coming.

UNIT 30

Can, could, may, and would: requests, permission, offers, and invitations

a Asking people to do things (requests)

We often use can or could when we ask someone to do something:

Can you wait a moment, please?

Ann, can you do me a favor?

Excuse me. Could you tell me how to get to the bus station?

Do you think you could lend me some money?

I wonder if you could help me.

We also use would to ask someone to do something:

Ann, would you do me a favor?

Would you wait here, please?

b To ask for something you can say Can I have ... ? / Could I have ... ? / May I have ... ?:

- (in a gift shop) Can I have these postcards, please?
- (at the dinner table) Could I have the salt, please?

c Asking for and giving permission

We often use can, could, or may to ask permission to do something:

- (on the telephone) Hello, can I speak to Tom, please?
- "Could I use your telephone?" "Yes, of course."
- "Do you think I could borrow your bicycle?" "Yes, help yourself."
- "May I come in?" "Yes, please do."

To give permission, we use can or may (but not could):

- You can (or may) smoke if you like.

d We sometimes use can or may when we offer to do things. (May is more formal.):

- "Can I get you a cup of coffee?" "That's very nice of you."
- (in a store) "May I help you, ma'am?" "No thank you. I'm being helped."

e For offering and inviting we use Would you like ... ? (not do you like):

- Would you like a cup of coffee? (not do you like)
- Would you like to go to the movies with us tomorrow evening? (not do you like to come)

I'd like (= I would like) is a polite way of saying what you want or what you want to do:

- I'd like some information about hotels, please.
- I'd like to try on this jacket, please.

UNIT 30 Exercises

30.1 Read the situation and write what you would say. Use the words given in parentheses (...).

Example: You've got a $20 bill, and you need some change. You ask somebody to help you.
(Can you ...?) Can you change a $20 bill?

1. You want to borrow your friend's camera. What do you say to him/her? (Could I ...?)
2. You have a car and you want to give somebody a lift. What do you say? (Can I ...?)
3. You have to go to the airport, but you don't know how to get there. You ask a passerby. (Could you ...?)
4. You are telephoning the owner of an apartment that was advertised in a newspaper. You are interested in the apartment, and you want to stop by and see it today. (Do you think I ...?)
5. You are at a meeting with your boss. You want to smoke a cigarette. What do you ask first? (May I ...?)
6. You want to leave work early because you have some important things to do. What do you ask your boss? (Do you think I ...?)
7. You want to invite someone to come and stay with you for the weekend. (Would you like ...?)
8. The person in the next room has some music on very loud. How do you ask him politely to turn it down? (Do you think you ...?)

30.2 Decide how to say what you want to say.

Examples: You have to carry some heavy boxes upstairs. Ask someone to help you.
Do you think you could give me a hand with these boxes?
A friend has just come to see you in your apartment. Offer him some coffee or tea. Can I get you some coffee or tea?

1. You want your friend to show you how to change the film in your camera. What do you say to him/her?
2. You're on a train. The woman next to you has finished reading her newspaper. Now you want to look at it. What do you say?
3. You need a match to light your cigarette. You don't have any, but the man sitting next to you has some. What do you ask him?
4. There is a concert tonight and you are going with some friends. You think Mary would enjoy it too. Invite her.
5. You're in the post office. You want three airmail stamps. What do you say?
6. You are sitting on a crowded bus. There is an old lady standing. Offer her your seat.
7. You are having a party next Saturday. Invite your friend Tim.

UNIT 31

Have to and must

a We use have to (do) and must (do) to say that it is necessary to do something:

- Oh, it's later than I thought. I $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{have to} \\ \text{must} \end{array} \right\}$ go now.
- You $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{have to} \\ \text{must} \end{array} \right\}$ have a passport to visit most foreign countries.

There is sometimes a difference between must and have to. With must the speaker is expressing personal feelings, saying what he or she thinks is necessary:

- I must write to Ann. I haven't written to her for ages. (= The speaker personally feels that he or she must write to Ann.)
- The government really must do something about unemployment. (= The speaker personally feels that the government must do something.)

With have to the speaker is not expressing feelings. The speaker is just giving facts. For example:

- Karen's eyes are not very good. She has to wear glasses for reading.
- I can't meet you on Friday. I have to work.

b You use must to talk only about the present and future:

- We must go now.
- Must you leave tomorrow?

Have to can be used in all forms. For example:

- I had to go to the hospital. (past)
- I might have to go to the hospital. (base form)
- Have you ever had to go to the hospital? (present perfect)

Note that we use do/does/did with have to in questions and negative sentences:

- What do I have to do to get a driver's license? (not "have I to do")
- Why did you have to go to the hospital? (not "had you to go")
- Tom doesn't have to work on Saturdays. (not "hasn't to work")

c Mustn't and don't have to are completely different. "You mustn't do something" means "it is necessary that you do not do it":

- You mustn't tell anyone what I said. (= Don't tell anyone.)
- I promised I'd be on time. I mustn't be late. (= I must be on time.)

"You don't have to do something" means "it is not necessary to do it; you don't need to do it":

- I don't have to wear a suit to work, but I usually do.
- She stayed in bed this morning because she didn't have to go to work.

d You can use "have got to" instead of "have to." So you can say:

- I've got to work tomorrow. or I have to work tomorrow.

UNIT 31 Exercises

31.1 Complete these sentences with must or have to (in its correct form). Sometimes it is possible to use either; sometimes only have to is possible.

Examples: Well, it's 10:00. I must (or have to) go now.

Ann wasn't feeling well last night. She had to leave the party early.

1. You really work harder if you want to pass that exam.
2. Some children wear uniforms when they go to school.
3. Last night Don suddenly became ill. We call the doctor.
4. Ann has wear glasses since she was eight years old.

6. I'm sorry I couldn't come yesterday. I work late.
7. Tom may go away next week.
8. We couldn't repair the car ourselves. We take it to a garage.
9. When you come to Houston again, you come and see us.

31.2 Make questions with have to.

Example: "Tom had to go to the police station."

"Why did he have to go to the police station?"

1. "Linda has to leave tomorrow." "What time exactly"
2. "We had to answer a lot of questions on the exam."
"How many questions"
3. "George had to pay a parking fine." "How much"
4. "I have to get up early tomorrow." "Why"

31.3 Make negative sentences with have to.

Example: "Did they change planes?"

"No, it was a direct flight, so they didn't have to change planes."

1. "Did you pay to get into the concert?"
"No, we had free tickets, so we"
2. "Does Jack shave?" "No, he has a beard, so"
3. "Did you get up early this morning?"
"No, it's my day off, so"
4. "Do you work?" "No, I'm extremely rich, so"

31.4 Complete these sentences with mustn't or don't/doesn't have to.

Examples: I don't want anyone to know. You mustn't tell anyone what I said.

I don't have to wear a suit to work, but I usually do.

3. You forget what I told you. It's very important.
4. She get up so early. She gets up early because she likes to.
5. We leave yet. We've got plenty of time.

UNIT 32

Should

a Study this example:

Tom has just come back from the movies:

Ann: Hello, Tom. Did you enjoy the movie?

Tom: Yes, it was great. You should go and see it.

Tom is advising Ann to go and see the movie. “You should go” means that it would be a good thing to do. We often use should (do) when we say what we think is a good thing to do or the right thing to do.

- The government should do something about the economy.
- “Should we invite Sue to the party?” “Yes, I think we should.”

“You shouldn’t do something” means that it is not a good thing to do:

- You’ve been coughing a lot lately. You shouldn’t smoke so much.
- Tom really shouldn’t go out. He has too much homework to do.

Should is not as strong as must:

- You should stop smoking. (= It would be a good idea.)
- You must stop smoking. (= It is necessary that you stop.)

b We often use should when we ask for or give an opinion about something. Often we use I think / I don’t think / do you think?:

- I think the government should do something about the economy.
- I don’t think you should work so hard.
- “Do you think I should apply for this job?” “Yes, I think you should.”

c We also use should to say something is not “right” or not what we expect:

- The price on this package is wrong. It says 65¢ but it should be 50¢.
- Those children shouldn’t be playing. They should be at school.

d For the past, we use should have (done) to say that someone did the wrong thing:

- The party was great. You should have come. Why didn’t you?
- I feel sick. I shouldn’t have eaten so much chocolate.
- She shouldn’t have been listening to our conversation. It was private.

e We also use should to say that something will probably happen:

- A: Do you think you’ll be home late tonight?
- B: I don’t think so. I should be home at the usual time.

Here, “I should be home” means “I will probably be home.” You can use should to say what will probably happen.

f You can use ought to instead of should in the sentences in this unit:

- It’s really a good movie. You ought to go and see it.
- She’s been studying very hard, so she ought to pass the exam.

UNIT 32 Exercises

32.1 You are giving advice to a friend. Use should or shouldn't.

Example: Your friend is always coughing because he smokes too much. Advise him to stop smoking. - You should stop smoking......

1. Your friend has a bad toothache. Advise her to go to the dentist. You
2. Your friend rides his bicycle at night without lights. You think this is dangerous. Advise him not to do it.
3. Your friend is going to visit Greece. Advise her to learn a few words of Greek before she goes.

32.2 This time give your opinion about something. Use I think / I don't think Example: Tom has just been offered a job. You think it would be a good idea for him to accept it. I think Tom should accept the job......

1. You think it would be a good idea for all drivers to wear seat belts.
I think
2. You don't think it would be a good idea for Jill and Sam to get married.
I
3. Your friend has a bad cold. Tell him that you think it would be a good idea for him to stay home tonight.

32.3 Read the situations and write sentences with should (have) and shouldn't (have). Sometimes you have to use the present, sometimes the past.

Examples: The speed limit is 55 miles an hour, but Tom is doing 70.

He shouldn't be driving so fast......

When we got to the restaurant there were no empty tables. We hadn't reserved one. We should have reserved a table......

1. It's very cold. Mrs. Taylor, who has been sick lately, is standing at the bus stop without a coat. She
2. We went for a walk. While we were walking we got hungry, but we hadn't brought anything with us to eat. We said: We
3. I went to Paris. Marcel lives in Paris, but I didn't go to see him while I was there. When I saw him later, he said: You

5. The driver in front of me stopped suddenly without warning, and I drove into the back of her car. It wasn't my fault.
6. The children normally go to bed at 9:00. It is now 9:30. They are not in bed; they are watching television. (two sentences)
7. The accident happened because Tom was driving on the wrong side of the road.

UNIT 33

Subjunctive (I suggest you do)

a Study this example:

Mary said to Pete, "Why don't you buy some new clothes?"

Mary suggested (that) Pete buy some new clothes.

The subjunctive is always the same as the base form (I buy, he buy, she buy, etc.).

I/he/she/it we/you/they	}	do/buy/be , etc.
----------------------------	---	-------------------------

b You can use the subjunctive after these verbs:

suggest propose recommend insist demand

- I suggest (that) you take a vacation.
- They insisted (that) we have dinner with them.
- I insisted (that) he have dinner with me.
- He demanded (that) she apologize to him.
- The doctor recommended (that) I rest for a few days.

You can use the subjunctive for the present, past, or future:

- I insist (that) you come with us.
- They insisted (that) I go with them.

Note the subjunctive be (usually passive):

- I insisted (that) something be done about the problem.
- The chairperson proposed (that) the plans be changed.

c Other structures are possible after insist and suggest:

- They insisted on my having dinner with them. (see Unit 57a)
- It was a beautiful evening, so I suggested going for a walk. (see Unit 51)

You cannot use the infinitive after suggest:

- She suggested that he buy some new clothes. (not suggested him to buy)
- What do you suggest I do? (not suggest me to do)

d Should is sometimes used instead of the subjunctive.

- She suggested that he should buy some new clothes.
- The doctor recommended that I should rest for a few days.

UNIT 33 Exercises

33.1 Write a sentence that means the same as the first sentence. Begin in the way shown.

Example: "Why don't you buy some new clothes?" she said to him.

She suggested that he buy some new clothes.

- "You really must stay a little longer," she said to me. She insisted that
- "Why don't you visit the museum after lunch?" I said to her.
I suggested that
- "I think it would be a good idea to see a specialist," the doctor said to me. The doctor recommended that
- "You have to pay the rent by Friday at the latest," the landlord said to the tenant.
The landlord demanded
- "Why don't you go away for a few days?" Jack said to me.
Jack suggested that
- "Let's have dinner early," Alice said to us.
Alice proposed that

33.2 Complete these sentences with an appropriate verb.

Examples: I suggest that you take a vacation.

I insisted that something be done about the problem.

- Our friends recommended that we our vacation in the mountains.
- You were not invited to the party. I demand that you the house immediately.
- The workers at the factory are demanding that their wages increased.
- She doesn't use her car very often, so I suggested that she it and use the money for something else.
- You have insulted me! I insist that you
- The local council has proposed that a new shopping center built.
- What do you suggest I to the party? A dress?
- I didn't want her to come to the party, but Jack insisted that she invited.

33.3 Tom is out of shape and his friends made some suggestions:

Write sentences beginning "(Ann) suggested . . ." etc.

- Ann suggested that he give up smoking.
- Bill suggested that he
- Sandra suggested
- Linda

UNIT 34

If sentences (present/future)

a Compare these examples:

Tom: I think I left my lighter at your house. Have you seen it?

Ann: No, but I'll look. If I find it, I'll give it to you.

In this example there is a real possibility that Ann will find the lighter. So she says: "If I find ... I'll ..." (see also Unit 9c).

Ann: If I found a $100 bill on the street, I would keep it.

This is a different type of situation. Ann is not thinking about a real possibility; she is imagining the situation. So she says: "If I found ... I would ..." (not "If I find ... I'll ...").

When you imagine a future happening like this, you use a past tense form (did/came/found, etc.) after if. But the meaning is not past:

- What would you do if you won a million dollars?
- If we didn't go to their party next week, they would be very angry.
- Ann wouldn't lend me any money if I asked her.

b We do not normally use would in the if part of the sentence:

- I'd be very frightened if someone pointed a gun at me. (not if someone would point)
- If we didn't go to their party next week, they would be angry. (not if we wouldn't go)

Sometimes it is possible to say if ... would, especially when you ask someone to do something in a formal way:

- I would be very grateful if you would send me your brochure and price list as soon as possible. (from a formal letter)

c In the other part of the sentence (not the if part) we use would/wouldn't. Would is often shortened to 'd, especially in spoken English:

- If you stopped smoking, you'd probably feel healthier.
- They wouldn't come to the party if you invited them.

You can also use could and might:

- They might be angry if I didn't visit them. (= perhaps they would be)
- If it stopped raining, we could go out. (= we would be able to go out)

d Do not use when in sentences like the ones in this unit:

- Tom would be angry if I didn't visit him. (not when I didn't visit)
- What would you do if you were bitten by a snake? (not when you were)

See also Unit 9c.

For if sentences see also Units 35 and 36.

UNIT 34 Exercises

34.1 Put the verb into the correct form.

Examples: If I found a $100 bill on the street, I would keep..... (keep) it.
They'd be very angry if you didn't visit..... (not/visit) them.

1. If the company offered me the job, I think I (take) it.
2. I'm sure Liz will lend you some money. I would be very surprised if she (refuse).
3. Many people would be out of work if that factory (close) down.
4. If she sold her car, she (not/get) much money for it.
5. They're expecting us. They would be disappointed if we (not/come).
6. Would George be angry if I (take) his bicycle without asking?
7. Ann gave me this ring. She (be) terribly upset if I lost it.
8. If someone (walk) in here with a gun, I'd be very frightened.
9. What would happen if you (not/go) to work tomorrow?
10. I'm sure she (understand) if you explained the situation to her.

34.2 Make questions.

Example: Perhaps one day somebody will give you a lot of money.
What would you do if someone gave you a lot of money?.....

1. Perhaps one day a millionaire will ask you to marry him/her.
What would you do if
2. Perhaps one day you will lose your passport in a foreign country.
What
3. Perhaps one day somebody will throw an egg at you.
What
4. Perhaps one day your car will be stolen.
What
5. Perhaps one day somebody will park a car on your foot.
.....

No. If he, he
2. Are you going to invite Bill to the party? (I / have to invite Linda too)
No. If I
3. Are you going to bed now? (I / not / sleep)
No.
4. Is she going to apply for the job? (she / not / get it)
No.

UNIT 35

If and wish sentences (present)

a Study this example situation:

Tom wants to call Sue, but he can't because he doesn't know her telephone number. He says:

If I knew her number, I would call her.

Tom says "If I knew her number . . ." This tells us that he doesn't know her number. He is imagining the situation. The real situation is that he doesn't know her number.

When you imagine a situation like this, you use a past tense form ("I did / I had / I knew," etc.) after if. But the meaning is present, not past:

- Tom would travel if he had more money. (but he doesn't have much money)
- If I didn't want to go, I wouldn't. (but I want to go)
- We wouldn't have any money if we didn't work. (but we work)

b We also use the past for a present situation after wish. We use wish to say that we regret something, that something is not as we would like it to be:

I wish I knew Sue's telephone number. (I don't know it.)

Do you ever wish you could fly? (You can't fly.)

I wish it didn't rain so much in this city. (It rains a lot.)

It's crowded here. I wish there weren't so many people. (There are a lot of people.)

I wish I didn't have to work. (I have to work.)

c In if sentences and after wish we use were instead of was:

- If I were you, I wouldn't buy that coat. (but I am not you)
- I'd go out if it weren't raining. (but it is raining)
- I wish my room were larger. (but it isn't very large)

d Do not use would in the if part of the sentence or after wish:

- If I were rich, I would buy a castle. (not if I would be rich)
- I wish I were taller. (not I wish I would be taller.)

But sometimes I wish . . . would . . . is possible. See Unit 37.

Could sometimes means "would be able to" and sometimes "was able to":

- She could (= would be able to) get a job more easily if she could (= was able to) type.

For if sentences and wish see also Units 34, 36, and 37.

UNIT 35 Exercises

35.1 Put the verb into the correct form.

Examples: If I knew..... (know) her number, I would call her.

I wouldn't buy..... (not/buy) that coat if I were you.

1. I (give) you a cigarette if I had one, but I'm afraid I don't.
2. This soup would taste better if it (have) more salt in it.
3. If you (not/go) to bed so late every night, you wouldn't be so tired all the time.
4. I wouldn't mind living in England if the weather (be) better.
5. I'd help you if I (can), but I'm afraid I can't.
6. If I were you, I (not/marry) him.
7. We would gladly buy that house if it (not/be) so small.

35.2 Read the situation and write a sentence with if.

Example: We don't visit you very often because you live so far away.

But if you didn't live so far away, we would visit you more often.

1. People don't understand him because he doesn't speak very clearly.
But if he, people.....
2. I'm not going to buy that book because it's too expensive.
But if that book
3. She doesn't go out very often because she can't walk without help.
But if
4. He's fat because he doesn't get any exercise.
But
5. We can't have lunch outside because it's raining.
.....
6. I can't meet you tomorrow evening because I have to work.
.....

1. I can't give up smoking (but I'd like to). I wish I
2. I don't have any cigarettes (and I need one). I wish

9. I'm not lying on a beautiful sunny beach (and that's a shame).
.....

UNIT 36

If and wish sentences (past)

a Study this example situation:

Last month Ann was sick. Tom didn't know this, and he didn't go to see her. They met again after Ann got better. Tom said:

If I had known that you were sick, I would have gone to see you.

The real situation was that Tom didn't know Ann was sick. So he says If I had known . . . When you are talking about the past, you use the past perfect (I had done / I had been / I had known, etc.) after if.

- If I had seen you when you passed me in the street, I would have said hello. (but I didn't see you)
- I would have gone out if I hadn't been so tired. (but I was too tired)
- If he had been looking where he was going, he wouldn't have walked into the wall. (but he wasn't looking)

Do not use would (have) in the if part of the sentence:

- If I had seen you, I would have said hello. (not if I would have seen)

Both would and had can be shortened to 'd:

- If I'd seen (= had seen) you, I'd have said (= would have said) hello.

b Use the past perfect (I had done) after wish when you say that you regret something that happened or didn't happen in the past:

- I wish I had known that Ann was sick. I would have gone to see her. (I didn't know that she was sick.)
- I feel sick. I wish I hadn't eaten so much. (I ate too much.)
- Do you wish you had studied science instead of languages? (You didn't study science.)
- The weather was terrible. I wish it had been warmer. (It wasn't warm.)

You cannot use would have after wish:

- I wish it had been warmer. (not would have been)

c Would have (done) is the past form of would (do):

- If I had gone to the party last night, I would be tired now. (I am not tired now – present.)
- If I had gone to the party last night, I would have seen Ann. (I didn't see Ann – past.)

Might have and could have are possible instead of would have:

- If we'd played better, we might have won. (= perhaps we would have won)
- We could have gone out if the weather hadn't been so bad. (= we would have been able to go out)

For if sentences and wish see also Units 34, 35, and 37.

UNIT 36 Exercises

36.1 Put the verb into the correct form.

Examples: If I had known (know) that you were sick last week, I'd have gone to see you.
Tom wouldn't have taken (not/take) the exam if he had known that it would be so difficult.

1. Jim got to the bus stop in time. If he (miss) the bus, he would have been late for his interview.
2. It's good that Ann reminded me about Tom's birthday. I (forget) if she hadn't reminded me.
3. We might not have stayed at this hotel if Debbie (not/recommend) it to us.
4. I'd have sent you a postcard while I was on vacation if I (have) your address.

36.2 Read the situation and write a sentence with if.

Example: She didn't eat anything because she wasn't hungry.
If she had been hungry, she would have eaten something

1. The accident happened because the driver in front stopped so suddenly.
If the driver in front
2. I didn't wake George because I didn't know he wanted to get up early.
If I
3. I was able to buy the car because Jim lent me the money.

UNIT 37

Would

For would and would have in if sentences (conditional), see Units 34, 35, and 36. For would in offers, invitations, etc., see Unit 30. This unit explains some other uses of would.

a Sometimes we use would after I wish Study this example:

It is raining. Tom wants to go out, but not in the rain. He says:

I wish it would stop raining.

This means that Tom is complaining about the rain and wants it to stop. We use I wish . . . would . . . when we want something to happen or somebody to do something. The speaker is complaining about the present situation.

- I wish someone would answer that telephone. It's been ringing for about five minutes.
- The music next door is very loud. I wish they would turn it down.

We often use I wish . . . wouldn't to complain about the way people do things:

- I wish you wouldn't drive so fast. It makes me nervous.

We use I wish . . . would when we want something to change or somebody else to do something. So you cannot say "I wish I would . . ."

For more information about wish, see Units 35 and 36.

b Would/wouldn't is sometimes the past of will/won't:

present Tom: I'll lend you some money, Ann.

past Tom said that he would lend Ann some money.

present Ann: I promise I won't be late.

past Ann promised that she wouldn't be late.

present Tom: Darn it! The car won't start.

past Tom was angry because the car wouldn't start.

c You can also use would when you look back on the past and remember things that often happened:

- When we were children, we lived by the sea. In summer, if the weather was nice, we would all get up early and go for a swim.
- Whenever Linda was angry, she would just walk out of the room.

Used to is also possible in these sentences:

- . . . we all used to get up early and go . . .

See Unit 24 for used to.

UNIT 37 Exercises

37.1 Read the situation and then write a sentence with I wish . . . would . . .

Example: It's raining. You want to go out, but not in the rain. So you want it to stop raining.

What do you say? I wish it would stop raining.

1. You're waiting for Tim. He's late and you're getting impatient. You want him to come.
What do you say? I wish
2. A baby is crying and you're trying to sleep. You want the baby to stop crying. What do you say? I

What do you say? I wish somebody
4. Brian has been wearing the same old clothes for years. You think he needs some new clothes, and you want him to buy some. What do you say to him?

37.2 Use I wish . . . wouldn't . . .

Example: Tom drives very fast. You don't like this. What do you say to him?

I wish you wouldn't drive so fast.

1. You are telling your friend about the man in the apartment next door. He often plays the piano in the middle of the night, and you don't like this. What do you say to your friend?

1. I wonder why Steve hasn't written to me. He promised
2. I wonder why Ann told Tom what I said. She promised
3. I wonder why they haven't come. They

37.4 These sentences are about things that often happened in the past. Put in would with one of these verbs: be ~~walk~~ take shake

Example: Whenever Carol was angry, she would walk out of the room.

1. We used to live next to a railroad track. Every time a train went past, the whole house
2. That cafe is nearly always empty now. I remember a few years ago it crowded every night.
3. When he went out, Jack always an umbrella with him, whether it was raining or not.

UNIT 38

In case

a Study this example situation:

Jeff is a soccer referee. He always wears two watches during a game because it is possible that one watch will stop.

He wears two watches in case one of them stops.

In case one of them stops = "because it is possible that one of them will stop."

Here are some more examples of in case:

- John might call tonight. I don't want to go out in case he calls. (= because it is possible that he will call)
- I'll draw a map for you in case you can't find our house. (= because it is possible that you won't be able to find it)

b Do not use will after in case. Use a present tense when you are talking about the future:

- I don't want to go out tonight in case Sue calls. (not "in case she will call") c In case is not the same as if. Compare these sentences:

- We'll buy some more food if Tom comes. (= Perhaps Tom will come; if he comes, we'll buy some more food; if he doesn't come, we won't buy any more food.)
- We'll buy some more food in case Tom comes. (= Perhaps Tom will come; we'll buy some more food now, whether he comes or not; then we'll already have the food if he comes.)

Compare:

- This letter is for Ann. Can you give it to her if you see her?
- This letter is for Ann. Can you take it with you in case you see her?

d You can use in case to say why someone did something in the past:

- We bought some more food in case Tom came. (= because it was possible that Tom would come)
- I drew a map for her in case she couldn't find our house.
- We rang the bell again in case they hadn't heard it the first time.

e "In case of..." is different from in case. In case of fire means "if there is a fire":

- In case of fire, please leave the building as quickly as possible.
- In case of emergency, telephone this number. (= if there is an emergency)

UNIT 38 Exercises

38.1 Tom is going for a long walk in the country. He has decided to take these things with him: his camera, some chocolate, an umbrella, a towel, a map, and some lemonade. He is taking these things because:

perhaps he'll get thirsty	perhaps he'll get lost
perhaps he'll want to go swimming	perhaps it will rain
perhaps he'll want to take some pictures	perhaps he'll get hungry

Now write sentences with in case saying why Tom has decided to take these things.

Example: He's going to take his camera in case he wants to take some pictures.

1. He's going to take some chocolate in case
2. He's going to take
3.
4.
5.

38.2 Write sentences with in case.

Example: It was possible that John would call. So I didn't go out.

I didn't go out in case John called.

I gave him my address in case

She
4. It was possible that I would forget the name of the street. So I wrote it down.
.....
5. It was possible that they hadn't received my first letter. So I wrote them a second letter.
.....

38.3 Put in case or if in these sentences.

Examples: John might call tonight. I don't want to go out in case he calls.

Could you give this book to Bill if you see him?

1. I hope you'll come to Tokyo sometime. you come, you must visit us.
2. I've just painted the door. I'll put a "wet paint" sign next to it someone doesn't realize the paint is still wet.

UNIT 39

Unless, as long as, and provided/providing (that) a

Unless

Study this example situation:

Joe is always listening to music. If you speak to him normally, he can't hear you. If you want him to hear you, you have to shout.

Joe can't hear unless you shout.

This means: "Joe can hear only if you shout."

Unless means except if. We use unless to make an exception to something we say.

Here are some more examples of unless:

- Don't tell Ann what I said unless she asks you. (= except if she asks you)
- I'll come tomorrow unless I have to work. (= except if I have to work)
- I wouldn't eat between meals unless I were extremely hungry.
(= except if I were extremely hungry)

We often use unless in warnings:

- We'll be late unless we hurry. (= except if we hurry)
- Unless you work harder, you're not going to pass the exam. (= except if you work harder)
- The thief said he would hit me unless I told him where the money was.
(= except if I told him)

Instead of unless it is possible to say if . . . not:

- Don't tell Ann what I said if she doesn't ask you.
- We'll be late if we don't hurry.

b

As long as provided (that) providing (that)

These expressions mean but only if:

- You can use my car as long as (or so long as) you drive carefully.
(= but only if you drive carefully)
- Traveling by car is convenient provided (that) you have somewhere to park.
(= but only if you have somewhere to park)
- Providing (that) she studies hard, she should pass the exam. (= but only if she studies hard)

c

When you are talking about the future, do not use will with unless, as long as, provided, or providing. Use a present tense:

- We'll be late unless we hurry. (not unless we will hurry)
- Providing she studies hard . . . (not providing she will study)

See Unit 9 for more information about this rule.

UNIT 39 Exercises

39.1 Read the sentence and then write a new sentence with the same meaning. Use unless.

.....
5. She has to apologize to me or I won't forgive her.

39.2 Read the sentence with only if and then write a new sentence with unless.

UNIT 40

Passive (1) (be done / have been done)

a Active and passive Study this example:

This house was built in 1920.

This is a passive sentence. Compare:

Somebody built this house in 1920. (active)

This house was built in 1920. (passive)

We often prefer the passive when it is not so important who or what did the action. In this example, it is not so important (or not known) who built the house.

In a passive sentence, if you want to say who did or what caused the action, use by:

- This house was built by my grandfather. (= my grandfather built it)
- Have you ever been bitten by a dog? (= Has a dog ever bitten you?)

b In passive sentences we use the correct form of be (is/are/was/were/has been, etc.) + the past participle:

(be) done (be) cleaned (be) damaged (be) built (be) seen

For irregular past participles (done/seen/written, etc.) see Appendix 2.

For the passive of the present and past tenses see Unit 41.

c We use the base form (... be done, be cleaned, be built, etc.) after modal verbs (will, can, must, etc.) and some other verbs (for example: have to, be going to, want to). Compare:

Active: We can solve this problem.

Passive: This problem can be solved.

- The music at the party was very loud and could be heard from far away.

UNIT 42

Passive (3)

- a Some verbs can have two objects. For example, offer:
- They didn't offer Ann the job. (the two objects are Ann and the job)
- So it is possible to make two different passive sentences:

- Ann wasn't offered the job.
- The job wasn't offered to Ann.

It is more usual for the passive sentence to begin with the person.
Other verbs like offer that can have two objects are:

ask tell give send show teach pay

Here are some examples of passive sentences with these verbs:

- I was given two hours to make my decision. (= they gave me two hours)
- The men were paid $1500 to do the job. (= someone paid the men $1500)
- Have you been shown the new machine? (= has anyone shown you the new machine?)

- b Born: Remember that be born is a passive verb and is usually past:

- Where were you born? (not are you born) }
- I was born in Chicago. (not I am born) } simple past
- How many babies are born in this hospital every day? – simple present

- c The passive -ing form is being done / being cleaned, etc.:

Passive: I don't like being told what to do.

- I remember being given a toy drum on my fifth birthday. (= I remember someone giving me . . .)
- Hurry up! You know Mr. Miller hates being kept waiting. (= he hates people keeping him waiting)
- She climbed over the wall without being seen. (= without anyone seeing her)

- There was a fight at the party, but nobody got hurt. (= nobody was hurt)
- Did Ann get fired from her new job? (= was Ann fired from her new job?)

You can use get in the passive to say that something happens to someone or something.
Often the action is not planned; it happens by chance:

- The dog got run over by a car. (= the dog was run over)

In other types of situation get is not usually possible:

- George is liked by everyone. (not gets liked)

Get is used mainly in informal spoken English. You can use be in all situations.

UNIT 42 Exercises

42.1 Read the sentence and then write a new sentence with the same meaning. Begin in the way shown each time.

Example: They didn't offer Ann the job. Ann wasn't offered the job.....

UNIT 43

It is said that ... / He is said to ..., etc., and supposed to

a Study this example situation:

This is Mary. She is very old, and nobody knows exactly how old she is. But:

It is said that she is 108 years old.

She is said to be 108 years old.

Both these sentences mean: "People say that she is 108 years old."

You can also use these structures with:

thought	believed	reported	understood
known	expected	alleged	considered

It is said that Mary eats ten eggs a day.

or Mary is said to eat ten eggs a day.

It is believed that the wanted man is living in New York.

or The wanted man is believed to be living in New York.

It is expected that the strike will begin tomorrow.

or The strike is expected to begin tomorrow.

It is alleged that he stole $100.

or He is alleged to have stolen $100.

It was alleged that he stole $100.

or He was alleged to have stolen $100.

These structures are often used in news reports:

It is reported that two people were killed in the explosion.

or Two people are reported to have been killed in the explosion.

b Supposed to

Sometimes (be) supposed to means "said to":

- Let's go and see that movie. It's supposed to be very good. (= It is said to be very good; people say that it's very good.)
- He is supposed to have stolen $100. (= He is said to have stolen $100.)

But sometimes supposed to has a different meaning. You can use supposed to to say what is planned or arranged (and this is often different from what really happens):

- I'd better hurry. It's nearly 8:00. I'm supposed to be meeting Ann at 8:15. (= I arranged to meet Ann; I said I would meet Ann.)
- The train was supposed to arrive at 11:30, but it was 40 minutes late. (= The train should have arrived at 11:30, according to the schedule.)
- You were supposed to clean the windows. Why didn't you do it?

We use not supposed to to say what is not allowed or not advisable:

- You're not supposed to park here. (= You aren't allowed to park here.)
- Mr. Jenkins is much better after his illness, but he's still not supposed to do any heavy work.

UNIT 43 Exercises

43.1 Read the sentence and then write another sentence with the same meaning.

Examples: It is believed that the wanted man is living in New York.

The wanted man is believed to be living in New York.

2. People say that he has 22 children. He
3. People say that he sleeps on a bed of nails. He
4. People say that he inherited a lot of money. He
5. People say that he writes poetry. He

43.3 Now use supposed to with its other meaning. In each example what happens is not what is supposed to happen. Use supposed to or not supposed to with one of these verbs:

~~clean~~ come be ~~smoke~~ call study have

Examples: Mary, you're smoking! But you know you are not supposed to smoke in this room.

Why are the windows still dirty? You were supposed to clean them.

3. Don't put sugar in your tea. You know you sugar.
4. Oh no! I Ann, but I completely forgot.
5. They arrived very early – at 2:00. They until 3:30.

UNIT 44

Have something done

a Study this example situation:

The roof of Bill's house was damaged in a storm, so he arranged for a worker to repair it. Yesterday the worker came and did the job.

Bill had the roof repaired yesterday.

This means: Bill didn't repair the roof himself. He arranged for someone else to do it for him.

- Compare:
- Bill repaired the roof. (= he did it himself)
 - Bill had the roof repaired. (= he arranged for someone else to do it)

Now study these sentences:

- Did Ann design her business cards herself or did she have them designed?
- Are you going to repair the car yourself, or are you going to have it repaired?

To say that we arrange for someone else to do something for us, we use the structure have something done. The word order is important: the past participle (done/repaired, etc.) comes after the object (the roof):

	have +	object +	past participle
Bill	had	the roof	repaired	yesterday.
Where did you	have	your hair	done?
We are	having	the house	painted	right now.
Tom has just	had	a telephone	installed	in his house.
How often do you	have	your car	serviced?
Why don't you	have	that coat	cleaned?
I want to	have	my picture	taken.

b "Get something done" is possible instead of have something done (mainly in informal spoken English):

- I think you should get your hair cut. (= have your hair cut)

c Have something done sometimes has a different meaning. For example:

- He had all his money stolen while he was on vacation.

This doesn't mean that he arranged for somebody to steal his money! "He had all his money stolen" means only: "All his money was stolen."

With this meaning, we use have something done to say that something (often something not nice) happened to someone: George had his nose broken in a fight. (= his nose was broken)

UNIT 44 Exercises

44.1 Answer the questions in the way shown.

Example: "Did Liz make that dress herself?" "No, she had it made."

1. "Did you cut your hair yourself?" "No, I"
2. "Did they paint the house themselves?" "No, they"
3. "Did Jim cut down that tree himself?" "No,"
4. "Did Sue repair the car herself?" "No,"

44.2 This time complete the sentences. Use the words in parentheses (. . .).

Examples: We are having the house painted (the house / paint) at the moment.
Did you have your hair cut.... (you / your hair / cut) last week?

1. Your hair is too long. I think you should (it / cut).
2. How often (you / your car / tune up)?
3. The engine in Tom's car couldn't be repaired, so he had to (a new engine / put in).
4. (you / your newspaper / deliver) or do you buy it yourself at the store?
5. A: What are those workers doing in your garden?
B: Oh, I (a swimming pool / build).
6. A: Can I see the pictures you took on your vacation?
B: I'm afraid not. I (not / the film / develop) yet.
7. Is it true that many years ago he (his portrait / paint) by a famous artist?

44.3 Now read each situation and then write a sentence with have something done.

Example: Jill's coat was dirty, so she took it to the cleaners. Now it is clean. What has Jill done? She has had her coat cleaned.

1. Tom thinks his eyesight is getting worse, so he's going to the eye doctor. What is Tom going to do there? He is
2. Sue is at the beauty parlor at the moment. A hairdresser is cutting her hair. What is Sue doing?
3. Ann's watch was broken, so she took it to a jeweler. Now it's working again. What has Ann done?

44.4 Now use have something done with its second meaning (see section c).

Example: George's nose was broken in a fight. What happened to George?
He had his nose broken in a fight.

1. John's wallet was stolen from his pocket. What happened to John? He
2. Fred's hat was blown off by the wind. What happened to Fred?
3. Carol's passport was taken from her at the police station. What happened to Carol?
.....

UNIT 45

Reported speech (1)

a Study this example situation:

You want to tell someone else what Tom said. There are two ways of doing this:

You can repeat Tom's words (direct speech):
Tom said, "I'm feeling sick."

Or you can use reported speech:
Tom said (that) he was feeling sick.

Compare the two sentences:

direct	Tom said, "I am feeling sick."	you use these to show it is direct speech
reported	Tom said (that) he was feeling sick. b When we use reported speech, we are usually talking about the past. So verbs usually change to the past in reported speech. For example:

am/is → was have/has → had can → could are → were will → would do/want/know → did/wanted/knew, etc.

Study these examples. You met Tom. Here are some things he said to you:

I'm going away for a few days. I'll call you when I get back.

Ann has bought a new car.

I want to go on vacation, but I don't know where to go.

I'm going to quit my job.

I can't come to the party on Friday.

My parents are very well.

Now you tell someone else what Tom said (in reported speech):

- Tom said (that) his parents were very well.
- Tom said (that) he was going to quit his job.
- Tom said (that) Ann had bought a new car.
- Tom said (that) he couldn't come to the party on Friday.
- Tom said (that) he wanted to go on vacation, but he didn't know where to go.
- Tom said (that) he was going away for a few days and would call me when he got back.

c The simple past (I did) can usually stay the same in reported speech, or you can change it to the past perfect (I had done): did → did or had done direct Tom said "I woke up feeling sick and so I stayed in bed."

reported Tom said (that) he woke (or had woken) up feeling sick and so he stayed (or had stayed) in bed.

For reported speech see also Units 46 and 48b.

UNIT 45 Exercises

45.1 Yesterday you ran into a friend of yours, Helen. Helen told you a lot of things. Here are some of the things she said to you:

1. I'm thinking of going to live in France.
 2. My father is in the hospital.
 3. Sue and Jim are getting married next month.
 4. I haven't seen Bill for a while.
 5. I've been playing tennis a lot lately.
 6. Barbara has had a baby.
 7. I don't know what Fred is doing.
 8. I hardly ever go out these days.
 9. I work 14 hours a day.
 10. I'll tell Jim I saw you.
 11. You can come and stay with me if you are ever in Toronto.
 12. Tom had an accident last week, but he wasn't injured.
 13. I saw Jack at a party a few months ago, and he seemed fine.

Later that day you tell another friend what Helen said. Use reported speech.

1. Helen said that she was thinking of going to live in France.
2. Helen said that
4.
5.
6.
7.
8.
9.
10.
11.
13.

45.2 In this exercise someone says something to you that is the opposite of what they said before. You have to answer I thought you said ...

Example: "That restaurant is expensive." "I thought you said it wasn't expensive."

1. "Ann is coming to the party." "I thought you said she"
2. "Bill passed his exam." "I thought you said"
3. "Ann likes Bill." "I thought"
4. "I've got many friends." "I thought you said you"
5. "Jack and Karen are going to get married." "....."
6. "Tom works very hard." "....."
7. "I want to be rich and famous." "....."
8. "I'll be here next week." "....."
9. "I can afford a vacation this year." "....."

UNIT 46

Reported speech (2)

- a It is not always necessary to change the verb when you use reported speech. If you are reporting something and you feel that it is still true, you do not need to change the tense of the verb:

direct Tom said, "New York is bigger than London."
reported Tom said (that) New York is (or was) bigger than London.
direct Ann said, "I want to go to Turkey next year."
reported Ann said (that) she wants (or wanted) to go to Turkey next year.

Notice that it is also correct to change the verb into the past.

But you must use a past tense when there is a difference between what was said and what is really true. Study this example situation:

You met Ann. She said, "Jim is sick." (direct speech)
 Later that day you see Jim playing tennis and looking fine. You say:
 "I'm surprised to see you playing tennis, Jim. Ann said that you were sick."
 (not that you are sick, because he isn't sick)

Must, might, could, would, should, and ought stay the same in reported speech. May in direct speech normally changes to might in reported speech.

b Say and tell

If you say who you are talking to, use tell:

- Tom told me (that) he didn't like Brian. (not Tom said me . . .)

Otherwise use say:

- Tom said (that) he didn't like Brian. (not Tom told (that) he . . .)

Also: you can't say "Tom told about his trip to Mexico." You have to say:

- Tom told us (or me/them/Ann, etc.) about his trip to Mexico.

If you don't say who he told, you have to say:

- Tom talked (or spoke) about his trip to Mexico. (but not said about)

c We also use the infinitive (to do/to stay, etc.) in reported speech, especially with tell and ask (for orders and requests):

direct "Stay in bed for a few days," the doctor said to me.
reported The doctor told me to stay in bed for a few days.
direct "Don't shout," I said to Jim.
reported I told Jim not to shout.
direct "Please don't tell anyone what happened," Ann said to me.
reported Ann asked me not to tell anyone what (had) happened.
direct "Can you open the door for me, Tom?" Ann asked.
reported Ann asked Tom to open the door for her.

Said is also possible with the infinitive:

- The doctor said to stay in bed for a few days. (but not said me)

UNIT 46 Exercises

46.1 Write what you would say in these situations.

Example: Ann says, "I'm tired." Five minutes later she says, "Let's play tennis." What do you say? You said you were tired.

1. Your friend says, "I'm hungry," so you go to a restaurant. When you get there he says, "I don't want to eat." What do you say? "You said"
2. Tom tells you, "Ann has gone away." Later that day you meet her. What do you say? "Tom told"
3. George said, "I don't smoke." A few days later you see him smoking a cigarette. What do you say to him? "You said"
4. You arranged to meet Jack. He said, "I won't be late." At last he arrives – 20 minutes late. What do you say? "You"
5. Sue said, "I can't come to the party tonight." That night you see her at the party. What do you say to her? "....."
6. Ann says, "I'm working tomorrow evening." Later that day she says, "Let's go out tomorrow evening." What do you say? "....."

46.2 Now complete these sentences with said, told, or talked.

Example: Tom ...said..... that he didn't like Brian.

1. Jack me that he was enjoying his new job.
2. Amy it was a nice restaurant, but I didn't like it very much.
3. The doctor that I would have to rest for at least a week.
4. Mrs. Taylor us she wouldn't be able to come to the next meeting.
5. Ann Tom that she was going away.
6. George couldn't help me. He to ask Jack.
7. At the meeting the director about the problems facing the company.
8. Jill us all about her trip to Japan.

46.3 Now read each sentence and write a new sentence with the same meaning.

Examples: "Listen carefully," he said to us. He told us to listen carefully.
"Don't wait for me if I'm late," Ann said.
Ann said not to wait for her if she was late.

1. "Eat more fruit and vegetables," the doctor said.
The doctor said
2. "Read the instructions before you use the machine," he said to me.
He told
3. "Shut the door but don't lock it," she said to us.
She told
4. "Can you speak more slowly? I can't understand," he said to me.
He asked because
5. "Don't come before 6:00," I said to her.
I told

UNIT 47

Questions (1)

- a We usually make questions by changing the word order: we put the auxiliary verb (AV) before the subject (S): $S + AV \rightarrow AV + S$ it	is	→	is	it?	Is it raining?

you	can	→	can	you?	When can you come and see us?
Tom	has	→	has	Tom?	Where has Tom gone?

We make questions with the verb be in the same way:

they were	→	were they?	Were they surprised?
-----------	---	------------	-----------------------------

- b In simple present questions use do/does:

- Do you like music? (not like you) ■ Do you have a light?
- Where does Jack live? (not where lives Jack)

In simple past questions use did:

- When did they get married? (not when got they)
- Why did Ann sell her car? (not why sold Ann)
- Did you have a good time?

But be careful with who/what/which questions. If who/what/which is the subject of the sentence, do not use do/does/did. Compare:

In these examples who/what/which is the subject:

- Who wants something to eat? (not who does want)
- Who invented the steam engine? (not who did invent)
- What happened to you last night? (not what did happen)
- Which switch operates this machine? (not which switch does operate)

- c We use negative questions especially:

To show surprise:

- Didn't you hear the bell? I rang it four times.

In exclamations:

- Doesn't that dress look nice! (= that dress looks nice)

When we expect the listener to agree with us:

- "Haven't we met somewhere before?" "Yes, I think we have."

Notice the meaning of yes and no in answers to negative questions:

- Didn't Dave pass his exams? — Yes. (= Yes, he passed them.)
No. (= No, he didn't pass them.)

Note the word order in negative questions with Why ... ?:

- Why didn't you lock the door? (not why you didn't lock)
- Why don't we go out to eat? (not why we don't go)
- Why can't you help me? (not why you can't help me)
- Why wasn't Mary invited to the party? (not why Mary wasn't)

UNIT 47 Exercises

47.1 Ask questions about Ed and Liz.

Example: (Ed and Liz / be / married?) Are Ed and Liz married? "Yes, they are."

1. (where / Ed and Liz live?) "In Detroit."
2. (how long / they / be / married?) "15 years."
3. (what / Liz do for a living?) "She's a math teacher."
4. (she / like being a teacher?) "Yes, she does."
5. (what / Ed do for a living?) "He's a police officer."
6. (he / enjoy his job?) "Yes, very much."
7. (he / arrest anyone yesterday?) "No."
8. (they / have / a car?) "Yes."
9. (when / they / buy it?) "A year ago."
10. (they / go / on vacation next summer?) "Yes."
11. (where / they / go?) "To Florida."

47.2 This time make questions with who or what.

Examples: "Somebody hit me." "Who hit you.....?"
"I hit somebody." "Who did you hit.....?"

1. "Something happened." "What?"
2. "Someone lives in that house." "Who?"
3. "Somebody gave me this key." "Who?"
4. "Henry gave me something." "What?"
5. "Tom meets someone every day." "Who?"
6. "I fell over something." "What?"
7. "Something fell on the floor." "What?"
8. "This word means something." "What?"

47.3 Make negative questions. Each time you are surprised.

Example: "We won't see Ann this evening." "Oh! (she / not / come to the party tonight?)"
Isn't she coming to the party tonight?.....

1. "I hope we don't meet Brian tonight." "Why? (you / not / like him?)"
2. "I'll have to borrow some money." "Why? (you / not / have / any?)"
3. "Don't go and see that movie." "Why? (it / not / be / good?)"

47.4 Make negative questions with "Why . . . ?"

Examples: (I didn't lock the door.) Why didn't you lock the door?.....
(Mary wasn't invited to the party.) Why wasn't Mary invited to the party?.....

1. (I don't like George.) you?
2. (Jim wasn't at work today.) Why?
3. (I'm not ready yet.) Why?
4. (Sue doesn't eat fruit.)?
5. (Maria can't come to the meeting.)?

UNIT 48

Questions (2) (Do you know where ... ? / He asked me where ...)

- a When we ask people for information, we sometimes begin our question with Do you know ... ? or Could you tell me ... ?. If you begin a question in this way, the word order is different from the word order in a simple question:

Compare: Where has Tom gone? (simple question)

Do you know where Tom has gone?

When the question (Where has Tom gone?) is part of a bigger sentence (Do you know ...), it loses the normal question word order. Compare:

- When will Ann arrive? Do you have any idea when Ann will arrive?
- What time is it? Could you tell me what time it is?
- Why are you laughing? Tell us why you are laughing.

Be careful with do/does/did questions:

- When does the movie begin? Do you know when the movie begins?
- Why did Ann leave early? I wonder why Ann left early.

Use if or whether when there is no other question word:

- Did he see you? Do you know if (or whether) he saw you?

- b The same changes in word order happen in reported questions:

direct The police officer said to us, "Where are you going?"

reported The police officer asked us where we were going.

direct Tom said, "What time do the banks close?"

reported Tom wanted to know what time the banks closed.

In reported questions the verb usually changes to the past (were, closed). For more information about this see Unit 45.

Now study these examples. Here are some questions you were asked at a job interview:

Now you tell a friend (in reported speech) what the interviewer asked you:

- She asked (me) if I was presently employed.
- She asked whether (or if) I had a driver's license.
- She wanted to know whether (or if) I could type.
- She wanted to know how long I had been working in my present job.
- She asked (me) what I did in my spare time.
- She asked (me) why I had applied for the job. (or why I applied)

UNIT 48 Exercises

48.1 Make a new sentence from these questions.

Example: Where has Tom gone? Do you know where Tom has gone.....?

1. Where is the post office? Could you tell me
2. What does this word mean? Do you know
3. What time is it? I wonder
4. Where did you park your car? Can't you remember
5. Is Ann coming to the meeting? I don't know
6. Where does Jack live? Do you have any idea
7. What time did he leave? Do you know
8. Where can I change some money? Could you tell me
9. What qualifications do I need? I want to know
10. Why didn't Mary come to the party? I don't know
11. How much does it cost to park here? Do you know

48.2 You are making a phone call. You want to speak to Sue, but she isn't there. Someone else answers the phone. You want to know three things: (1) Where has she gone? (2) When will she be back? and (3) Did she go out alone? Complete the conversation:

1. "Do you know?" "Sorry. I have no idea."
2. "Never mind. I don't suppose you know " "No, I'm afraid I don't."
3. "One more thing. Do you happen to know?"
"I'm afraid I didn't see her go out."

48.3 You have been away for a while and have just come back to your hometown. You meet Jerry, a friend of yours. He asks you lots of questions:

1. How are you?

2. How long have you been back?

3. What are you doing now?

4. Where are you living?

5. Are you glad to be back?

6. Are you going away again?

7. Why did you come back?

8. Do you still smoke?

9. Can you come to dinner on Friday?

Now you tell another friend what Jerry asked you. Use reported speech.

1. He asked me how I was.....
2. He asked me
3. He asked
4. He
5.
6.
7.
8.
9.

UNIT 49

Auxiliary verbs in short answers/ questions, etc.: So/Neither am I, etc.

a

Can you swim? I have lost my key. He might not come.

In these sentences can, have, and might are auxiliary (= helping) verbs.

We often use auxiliary verbs when we don't want to repeat something:

- "Are you working tomorrow?" "Yes, I am." (= I am working tomorrow)
- He could lend us the money, but he won't. (= he won't lend us the money)

Use do/does/did for simple present and past short answers:

- "Does he smoke?" "He did, but he doesn't anymore."

b

We use auxiliary verbs in short questions:

- "It rained every day during our vacation." "Did it?"
- "Ann isn't feeling very well today." "Oh, isn't she?"
- "I've just seen Tom." "Oh, have you? How is he?"

These short questions (Did it?, isn't she?, have you?) are not real questions. We use them to show polite interest in what someone has said, and they help to keep the conversation going.

Sometimes we use short questions to show surprise:

- "Jim and Sue are getting married." "Are they? Really?"

c

We also use auxiliary verbs with so and neither:

- "I'm feeling tired." "So am I." (= I am feeling tired too)
- "I never read newspapers." "Neither do I." (= I never read them either)

Note the word order after so and neither (verb before subject):

- I passed the exam and so did Tom. (not so Tom did)

Nor can be used instead of neither:

- "I can't remember her name." "Nor can I." / "Neither can I."

Not . . . either can be used instead of neither and nor:

- "I don't have any money." "Neither do I." or "I don't either."

d

I think so / hope so, etc.

We use so in this way after a number of verbs, especially think, hope, guess, suppose, and I'm afraid:

- "Is she Canadian?" "I think so."
- "Will Eric come?" "I guess so."
- "Has Ann been invited to the party?" "I suppose so."

The negative form depends on the verb:

I think so – I don't think so
 I hope so / I'm afraid so – I hope not / I'm afraid not
 I guess – I guess not
 I suppose so – I don't suppose so or I suppose not

- "Is she Italian?" "I don't think so."
- "Is it going to rain?" "I hope not." (not I don't hope so)
- "Are you going to drive in this snowstorm?" "I guess not."

UNIT 49 Exercises

49.1 You are talking to someone. Answer him or her in the way shown.

Examples: I'm hungry. Are you? I'm not.

6. I don't like living in the city.
7. I'm not going to have anything to eat.
8. I've never been to Korea.
9. I thought the exam was easy.

49.2 You are talking to a friend. You both have the same ideas, taste, etc. Use So ... or Neither ... each time.

A: Does the concert begin at 7:30? B: (think)

UNIT 50

Tag questions (are you? doesn't he?, etc.)

a

You're not working late, are you? It was a good film, wasn't it?

Are you? and wasn't it? are tag questions (= mini-questions that we put on the end of a sentence). In tag questions we use the auxiliary verb (see Unit 49). For the present and past use do/does/did: They came by car, didn't they?

b

Normally we use a positive tag question with a negative sentence:

negative sentence +	positive tag
Tom won't be late,	will he?
They don't like us,	do they?
That isn't George over there,	is it?

And normally we use a negative tag question with a positive sentence:

positive sentence +	negative tag
Ann will be here soon,	won't she?
Tom should pass his exam,	shouldn't he?
They were very angry,	weren't they?

Notice the meaning of yes and no in answers to tag questions:

- You're not going to work today, are you? $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Yes. (= I am going)} \\ \text{No. (= I'm not going)} \end{array} \right.$

c

The meaning of a tag question depends on how you say it. If the voice goes down, you aren't really asking a question; you are only asking the other person to agree with you:

- "Tom doesn't look very well today, does he?" "No, he looks awful."
- She's very attractive. She has beautiful eyes, doesn't she?

But if the voice goes up, it is a real question:

- "You haven't seen Ann today, have you?" "No, I'm afraid I haven't."
(= Have you seen Ann today?)

We often use a negative sentence + positive tag to ask for things or information, or to ask someone to do something. The voice goes up at the end of the tag in sentences like these:

- "You wouldn't have a cigarette, would you?" "Yes, here you are."
- "You couldn't do me a favor, could you?" "It depends what it is."
- "You don't know where Ann is, do you?" "Sorry, I have no idea."

d

After Let's... the tag question is shall we?:

- Let's go out for a walk, shall we?

After the imperative (do/don't do something) the tag is will you?:

- Open the door, will you?

Notice that we say aren't I? (= am I not):

- I'm late, aren't I?

UNIT 50 Exercises

50.1 Put a tag question on the end of each sentence.

Examples: Tom won't be late, will he...? They were very angry, weren't they?

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. Ann's on vacation,? | 9. There are a lot of people here,? |
| 2. You weren't listening,? | 10. Let's have dinner,? |
| 3. Sue doesn't like onions,? | 11. This isn't very interesting,? |
| 4. Jack applied for the job,? | 12. I'm too fat,? |
| 5. You have a camera,? | 13. You wouldn't tell anyone,? |
| 6. You can type,? | 14. I shouldn't have gotten angry,? |
| 7. He won't mind if I leave early,? | 15. They had to go home,? |
| 8. Tom could help you,? | 16. He'd never seen you before,? |

50.2 Read the situation and then write a sentence with a tag question. In each example you are asking your listener to agree with you.

Example: You are with a friend outside a restaurant. You are looking at the prices. It's very expensive. What do you say? It's very expensive, isn't it?

1. You look out of the window. It's a beautiful day. What do you say to your friend? It's
2. You've just come out of a movie theater with your friend. You both really enjoyed the movie. You thought it was great. What do you say? The movie
3. Bob's hair is much shorter. Clearly he has had his hair cut. What do you say to him? You
4. You are shopping. You are trying on a jacket. You look in the mirror: it doesn't look very good. What do you say to your friend? It
5. You are talking about Bill. You know that Bill works very hard. Everyone knows this. What do you say about Bill? Bill

50.3 In these situations you are asking people for information, asking people to do things, etc. Make sentences like those in section c.

Example: You want a cigarette. Perhaps Tom has one. Ask him.

Tom, you don't have a cigarette, do you?

1. Jack is just going out. You want him to get some stamps. Ask him.
Jack, you couldn't
2. You're looking for Ann. Perhaps Alan knows where she is. Ask him.

.....

UNIT 51

Verb + ing

a

stop	enjoy	dislike	admit	consider	miss finish	mind	imagine	deny	involve	postpone delay	suggest	regret	avoid	practice	risk

If these verbs are followed by another verb, the structure is usually verb + -ing:

- Stop talking!
- I'll do the shopping when I've finished cleaning the apartment.
- I don't miss working late every night.
- Have you ever considered going to live in another country?
- I can't imagine George riding a motorcycle.
- When I'm on vacation, I enjoy not having to get up early.

The following expressions also take -ing:

give up (= stop)	keep or keep on (= do something continuously or repeatedly) go on (= continue) put off (= postpone)

- Are you going to give up smoking?
- He kept (on) interrupting me while I was speaking.

Note the passive form (being done / being seen / being told, etc.):

- I don't mind being told what to do.

You cannot normally use the infinitive (to do / to dance, etc.) after these verbs and expressions:

- I enjoy dancing. (not to dance)
- Would you mind closing the door? (not to close)
- Jill suggested going to the movies. (not to go)

b

When you are talking about finished actions, you can also say having done / having stolen, etc. But it is not necessary to use this form. You can also use the simple -ing form for finished actions:

- He admitted stealing (or having stolen) the money.
- They now regret getting (or having gotten) married.

c

With some of the verbs in this unit (especially admit, deny, regret, and suggest) you can also use a that... structure:

- He denied that he had stolen the money. (or denied stealing)
- Jill suggested that we go to the movies. (or suggested going)

For suggest see also Unit 33.

For verbs + -ing see also Units 54 and 55.

UNIT 51 Exercises

51.1 Complete the sentences with these verbs:

try	steal	meet	look	write	make	be run

Example: Do you miss ..playing.. tennis every afternoon?

1. Could you please stop so much noise?
2. I don't enjoy letters.
3. Does your job involve a lot of people?
4. I considered the job, but in the end I decided against it.
5. If you use the shower, try and avoid water on the floor.

10. Why do you keep on at me like that?
11. They had to postpone away because their son was sick.
12. If you cross the street without looking, you risk over by a car.

UNIT 52

Verb + infinitive

a

agree	offer	decide	appear	forget	need refuse	attempt	plan	seem	learn (how)	mean promise	manage	arrange	pretend	dare	intend threaten	fail	hope	afford	tend

If these verbs are followed by another verb, the structure is usually verb + infinitive:

- It was late, so we decided to take a taxi home.
- I like George, but I think he tends to talk too much.

- They agreed to lend me some money when I told them the position I was in.

Note these examples with the negative not to . . . :

- We decided not to go out because of the weather.
- She pretended not to see me as she passed me on the street.

With other important verbs you cannot use the infinitive. For example think and suggest:

- Are you thinking of buying a car? (not thinking to buy)
- Jill suggested going to the movies (not suggested to go)

b

There is a continuous infinitive (to be doing) and a perfect infinitive (to have done). We use these especially after seem, appear, and pretend:

- I pretended to be reading. (= I pretended that I was reading)
- You seem to have lost weight. (= it seems that you have lost weight)
- He appears to be doing a good job. (= it appears that he is doing a good job)

c

Dare: You can say dare to do or dare do (without to):

- I wouldn't dare to ask him. or I wouldn't dare ask him.

d

After the following verbs you can use a question word (what/where/how, etc.) + infinitive:

ask decide know remember forget explain understand

We asked	how	to get	to the station.
Have you decided	where	to go	for your vacation?
Tom explained (to me)	how	to change	the tire on the car.
I don't know	whether	to go	to the party or not.

Also: show/tell/ask someone what/how/where to do something:

- Can someone show me how to change the film in this camera?
- Ask Jack. He'll tell you what to do.

For verbs + infinitive see also Units 53–55.

10. The teacher was very strict. Nobody dared during his class.
11. I don't need to the meeting, do I?

| 3. Is that man looking for something? | He appears |
| 4. Has that car broken down? | It seems |

a

want ask expect help would like would prefer

We expected to be late.

He would like to come.

verb + object + infinitive

I asked Tom to help me.

We expected him to be late.

He would like me to come.

After help you can use the verb with or without to:

■ Can somebody help me (to) move this table?

Be especially careful with want. Do not say "want that . . .":

■ Everyone wanted him to win the race. (not wanted that he won)

■ Do you want me to come early? (not want that I come)

b

tell remind force enable persuade order warn invite teach (how) get (= persuade)

■ Who taught you (how) to drive?

■ He warned me not to touch anything.

■ I got Jack to fix my car.

Here is an example in the passive:

■ I was warned not to touch anything.

You cannot use suggest with the infinitive (see also Unit 33c):

■ Tom suggested that I buy a car. (not Tom suggested me to buy)

c

advise encourage allow permit

There are two possible structures after these verbs. Compare:

verb + -ing (without an object)

I wouldn't advise staying at that hotel.

They don't allow smoking in this building. (= Smoking is not allowed in this building.)

verb + object + infinitive

I wouldn't advise you to stay at that hotel.

They don't allow you to smoke in this building. (= You are not allowed to smoke in this building.)

d

Make and let

These verbs have the structure verb + base form (do, read, etc.):

■ Hot weather makes me feel uncomfortable. (= causes me to feel)

■ I only did it because they made me do it. (= forced me to do it)

■ She wouldn't let me read the letter. (= allow me to read)

Do not use to after make and let:

■ They made me do it. (not they made me to do it)

■ Tom let me drive his car yesterday. (not Tom let me to drive)

But in the passive make is followed by to (to do):

■ I only did it because I was made to do it.

UNIT 53 Exercises

53.1 Read each sentence and write a second sentence from the words given.

Example: Jill didn't have any money.

UNIT 54

- I enjoy being alone. (not enjoy to be)
- Why do you dislike living here? (not dislike to live)
- Tom doesn't mind working at night. (not mind to work)

c

Would like is followed by the infinitive:

- I would like to be rich.
- Would you like to come to a party?

Notice the difference in meaning between I like and I would like. I would like is a polite way of saying I want. Compare:

- I like playing tennis. or I like to play tennis. (= enjoy it in general)
- I would like to play tennis today. (= I want to play)

See also Unit 30.

We also use the infinitive after would love/hate/prefer:

- Would you prefer to have dinner now or later?
- I'd love to be able to travel around the world.

d

You can also say "I would like to have done something" (= I regret that I didn't or couldn't do something):

- It's too bad we didn't visit Tom. I would like to have seen him again.
- We'd like to have taken a vacation, but we didn't have enough money.

The same structure is possible after would love/hate/prefer:

- Poor Jim! I would hate to have been in his position.
- I'd love to have gone to the party, but it was impossible.
- We went to a restaurant but I didn't enjoy it. I'd prefer to have eaten at home.

5. It's too bad I didn't see the movie. (like)

UNIT 55

Infinitive or -ing? (2) – begin, start, continue, remember, try

a

begin start continue

These verbs can usually be followed by -ing or the infinitive. So you can say:

- The baby began crying. or The baby began to cry.
- It has started raining. or It has started to rain.
- He continued working after his illness. or He continued to work after his illness.

b

Remember to do and remember doing

You remember to do something before you do it. Remember to do something is the opposite of “forget to do something”:

- I remembered to lock the door before I left, but I forgot to shut the windows. (= I remembered to lock the door, and then I locked it)
- Please remember to mail the letter. (= don’t forget to mail it)

You remember doing something after you do it. I remember doing something = I did something, and now I remember it:

- I clearly remember locking the door before I left. (= I locked it, and now I clearly remember this)
- He could remember driving along the road just before the accident happened, but he couldn’t remember the accident itself.

c

Try to do and try doing

Try to do = attempt to do, make an effort to do:

- I was very tired. I tried to keep my eyes open, but I couldn’t.
- Please try to be quiet when you come home. Everyone will be asleep.

Try doing

Try also means “do something as an experiment or test”:

- Try some of this tea – maybe you’ll like it. (= drink some of it to see if you like it)
- We tried every hotel in town, but they were all full. (= we went to every hotel to see if they had a room)

If try (with this meaning) is followed by a verb, we say try -ing:

- “I can’t find anywhere to live.” “Why don’t you try putting an ad in the newspaper?” (= do this to see if it helps you to find a place to live)
- I’ve got a terrible headache. I tried taking an aspirin, but it didn’t help. (= I took an aspirin to see if it would stop my headache)

UNIT 55 Exercises

55.1 Here is some information about Tom when he was a child.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. He was in the hospital when he was four. | 3. He fell into the lake. |
| 2. He went to Los Angeles when he was eight. | 4. He cried on his first day of school. |
| | 5. He said he wanted to be a doctor. |
| | 6. He was bitten by a dog. |

He can still remember 1, 2, and 4. But he can't remember 3, 5, and 6. Make sentences beginning He can remember . . . or He can't remember . . .

- | | |
|--|---------|
| 1. He can remember being in the hospital. | 4. |
| 2. | 5. |
| 3. | 6. |

55.2 Your friend has some problems, and you have to be helpful. For each problem write a question with try.

Example: I can't find a place to live. (put an ad in the newspaper)

Have you tried putting an ad in the newspaper?

- My electric shaver is not working. (change the batteries)
Have you tried
- I can't contact Fred. He's not at home. (phone him at work)
Have you
- I'm having trouble sleeping at night. (take sleeping pills)
Have
- The television picture isn't very good. (move the antenna)
.....

55.3 Put the verb into the correct form: -ing or the infinitive. (Sometimes either form is possible.)

Examples: Please remember to mail (mail) this letter.

Look! It's started to snow .. or .. snowing .. (snow).

- A: You lent me some money a few months ago.
B: Did I? That's strange. I don't remember (lend) you any money.

- He tried (reach) the shelf, but he wasn't tall enough.
- "Did you remember (call) Ann?" "Oh no, I completely forgot."
- I asked them to be quiet, but they continued (make) a lot of noise.

UNIT 56

Preposition + -ing

- a If a verb comes after a preposition (in/at/with/about, etc.), the verb ends in -ing. Study these examples:

Are you interested	in	working	for us?
I'm not very good	at	learning	languages.
I'm fed up	with	studying.
The children are excited	about	going	on vacation.
What are the advantages	of	having	a car?
This knife is only	for	cutting	bread.
John went to work	in spite of	feeling	sick. (See Unit 104.)
I bought a new bicycle	instead of	going	away on vacation.

- b You can use -ing with before and after:

- Before going out I called Ann.

You can also say: "Before I went out I . . ."

- What did you do after leaving school?

You can also say: ". . . after you left school?"

- c You can use by -ing to say how something happened:

- They got into the house by breaking a kitchen window and climbing in.
- You can improve your English by doing a lot of reading.

- d You can use -ing after without:

- Jim left without finishing his dinner.
- She ran five miles without stopping.
- He climbed through the window without anybody seeing him. (or . . . without being seen.)
- She needs to work without people disturbing her. (or . . . without being disturbed.)
- It's nice to go on vacation without having to worry about money.

- e To is a part of the infinitive. For example:

- They decided to go out.
- I want to play tennis.

But to is also a preposition. For example:

- Tom went to Hawaii.
- I prefer cities to the country.
- He gave the book to Mary.
- I'm looking forward to the weekend.

If a preposition is followed by a verb, the verb ends in -ing (see section a). So, if to is a preposition and it is followed by a verb, you must say to -ing. For example:

- I prefer bicycling to driving. (not to drive)
- I'm looking forward to seeing Sue again. (not to see)

For be/get used to -ing see Unit 59.

UNIT 56 Exercises

56.1 Read the sentence and then write a second sentence with the same meaning. Each time begin in the way shown.

Example: I called Ann, and then I went out. After I called Ann, I went out......

1. Liz went to bed, but first she had a hot drink.
Before
2. The plane took off, and soon afterward it crashed.

UNIT 57

Verb + preposition + -ing a Many verbs have the structure verb (V) + preposition (P) + object. For example, talk about:

- We talked about the problem. (the problem is the object)

If the object is another verb, it ends in -ing:

- We talked about going to Japan. (V + P + -ing)

Here are some more verbs that have the structure V + P + -ing:

succeed in	Has Tom succeeded	in	finding a job yet?
feel like*	I don't feel	like	going out tonight.
think about/of	Are you thinking	of/about	buying a house?
dream of	I've always dreamed	of	being rich.
approve/disapprove of	She doesn't approve	of	smoking.
look forward to	I'm looking forward	to	meeting her.
insist on	She insisted	on	buying me a cup of coffee.
decide against	We decided	against	moving to California.
apologize for	He apologized	for	keeping me waiting.

I feel like doing = I'd like to do, I'm in the mood to do.

We say "apologize to someone for something":

- He apologized to me for keeping me waiting. (not he apologized me)

With some of these verbs you can also use the structure verb + preposition + someone + -ing. For example:

- We are all looking forward to Peter (or Peter's) coming home.
- She doesn't approve of her son (or son's) staying out late at night.
- They insisted on me (or my) staying with them. (See also Unit 33c.)

b These verbs have the structure verb + object + preposition + -ing:

accuse	They accused	me	of	telling lies.
suspect	Did they suspect	the man	of	being a spy?
congratulate	I congratulated	Ann	on	passing the exam.
prevent	What prevented	him	from	coming to the wedding?
stop	We stopped	everyone	from	leaving the building.
thank	I thanked	her	for	being so helpful.
forgive	Please forgive	me	for	not writing to you.
warn	They warned	us	against	buying the car.

Some of these verbs are often used in the passive:

- I was accused of telling lies.
- Was the man suspected of being a spy?
- We were warned against buying it.

UNIT 57 Exercises

Expressions + -ing

When these expressions are followed by a verb, the verb ends in -ing:

(Have) difficulty/trouble...

- People often have great difficulty reading my writing.

Remember that we say "difficulty" (not difficulties) and "trouble" (not troubles):

You can also say "(have) difficulty in -ing":

- He's shy. He has difficulty in talking to people he doesn't know well.

Go -ing

We use go -ing for a number of activities (especially sports):

go shopping	go swimming	go skiing	go fishing
go climbing	go sailing	go riding	go sightseeing

- How often do you go swimming?
- I'm going skiing next year.
- I have to go shopping this morning.
- I've never been sailing.

UNIT 59

Be/get used to something (I'm used to ...)

a Study this example situation:

Jane is American, but she has lived in Britain for three years. When she first drove a car in Britain, she found it very difficult because she had to drive on the left instead of on the right. Driving on the left was strange and difficult for her because:

She wasn't used to it.
She wasn't used to driving on the left.

After a lot of practice, driving on the left became less strange:

- She got used to driving on the left.

Now after three years, driving on the left is no problem for her:

- She is used to driving on the left.

I'm used to something = it is not new or strange for me:

- Frank lives alone. He doesn't mind this because he has lived alone for 15 years. So he is used to it. He is used to living alone.
- My new shoes felt a bit strange at first because I wasn't used to them.
- Our new apartment is on a very busy street. I suppose we'll get used to the noise, but at the moment we find it very annoying.
- Fred has a new job. He has to get up much earlier – at 6:30. He finds this difficult right now because he isn't used to getting up so early.

b Notice that we say “She is used to driving on the left.” (not she is used to drive). To in be/get used to is a preposition, not a part of the infinitive (see also Unit 56e). So we say:

- Frank is used to living alone. (not is used to live)
- Jane had to get used to driving on the left. (not get used to drive)

c Do not confuse I am used to doing (be/get used to) with I used to do. They are different in structure and in meaning.

I am used to (doing) something = something isn't strange for me:

- I am used to the weather in this country.
- I am used to driving on the left because I've lived in Britain a long time.

I used to do something means only that I did something regularly in the past (see Unit 24). You can't use this structure for the present. The structure is “I used to do” (not I am used to do):

- Nowadays I usually stay in bed until late. But when I had a job, I used to get up early.

UNIT 59 Exercises

59.1 Read these situations and write three sentences with used to, as in the example.

Example: Jane is American. She went to Britain and found driving on the left difficult.

- a) At first she wasn't used to driving on the left.
 - b) But soon she got used to driving on the left.
 - c) Now she has no problems. She is used to driving on the left.
1. Juan came to the United States from Spain. In Spain he always had dinner late in the evening. But in the United States dinner was at 6:00. Juan found this strange at first.

 - c) Now he finds it normal. He
 2. Diana is a nurse. She started working nights two years ago. At first she found it strange and didn't like it.
 - a) At first she
 - b) But after a while
 - c) Now she doesn't mind it at all.

59.2 Read these situations and write a sentence with be/get used to.

Example: Frank lives alone. He doesn't mind this. He has always lived alone.

(he / used / live / alone) He is used to living alone.

1. Ron sleeps on the floor. He doesn't mind this. He has always slept on the floor.
(he / used / sleep / on the floor) He
2. Sue moved from a big house to a much smaller one. What did she have to get used to?
(she had / used / live / in a smaller house) She had
3. Jack once went to the Middle East. It was too hot for him.
(he / not / used / the heat)
4. Bill doesn't have any money. He doesn't find this unusual because he has never had any money. (he / used / have / no money)
5. Amy is going to live in your country. What will she have to get used to? (Write your own answer!) She'll have to 59.3 Put the verb into the correct form, -ing or infinitive (I am used to doing or I used to do). If necessary, study Unit 24 first.

Examples: Jane had to get used to driving on the left. (drive)

8. Tom used to to a lot of parties when he was a student. (go)

UNIT 60

Infinitive of purpose – “I went out to mail a letter.” So that...

a We use the infinitive (to do) to talk about the purpose of doing something (= why someone does something):

- I went out to mail a letter. (= because I wanted to mail a letter)
- She called me to invite me to a party.
- We shouted to warn everyone of the danger.

We also use the infinitive to talk about the purpose of something, or why someone has/wants/needs something:

- This wall is to keep people out of the garden.
- The President has two bodyguards to protect him.
- I need a bottle opener to open this bottle.

You can also use in order to (do something):

- We shouted in order to warn everyone of the danger.

Do not use for in these sentences:

- I'm going to Mexico to learn Spanish. (not for learning / for to learn)

b We also use the infinitive to say what can be done or must be done with something:

- It's usually difficult to find a place to park downtown. (= a place where you can park)
- Do you have a lot of work to do this evening? (= work that you must do)
- Would you like something to eat?
- There were no chairs to sit on, so we all had to sit on the floor.
- She is lonely. She has nobody to talk to.

We also say time/opportunity/chance/money/energy to do something:

- They gave me some money to buy some food. (not for buying)
- Did you have time to answer all the questions on the exam?
- These days I don't get much chance to watch television. I'm too busy.
- Do you have much opportunity to speak English? (= much chance to speak)

c Sometimes you have to use so that (not the infinitive) to talk about the purpose of doing something. We use so that:

i) when the purpose is negative (so that ... won't/wouldn't ...):

- I hurried so that I wouldn't be late. (= because I didn't want to be late)
- Leave early so that you won't (or don't) miss the bus.

ii) with can and could (so that ... can/could ...):

- He's learning English so that he can study in the United States.
- We moved to London so that we could visit our friends more often.

iii) when one person does something so that another person does something else:

- I gave him my address so that he could contact me.
- He wore glasses and a false beard so that nobody would recognize him.

UNIT 60 Exercises

60.1 Use the words in parentheses (. . .) to answer these questions.

UNIT 61

Prefer and would rather a Prefer to do and prefer doing

You can use “prefer to do” or “prefer doing” to say what you prefer in general.

- I don’t like cities. I prefer to live (or I prefer living) in the country.

Study the difference in structure:

	I prefer	(doing)	something	to (doing)	something else
but:	I prefer	to do	something	rather than (do)	something else

- I prefer tea to coffee.

- Tom prefers driving to traveling by train.

but: Tom prefers to drive rather than travel by train.

- I prefer to live in the country rather than (live) in a city.

Use would prefer to say what someone wants (to do) in a particular situation. You can say would prefer to (do) or would prefer (do)ing:

- “Would you prefer tea or coffee?” “Coffee, please.”
- “Should we go by train?” “Well, I’d prefer to go by car.” or “Well, I’d prefer going by car.”

b Would rather (do) = would prefer to do. After would rather we use the base form. Compare:

Should we go by train?	{	Well, I’d prefer to go by car.
		Well, I’d rather go by car. (not to go)

- “Would you rather have tea or coffee?” “Coffee, please.”
- I’m tired. I’d rather not go out this evening, if you don’t mind.
- “Do you want to go out this evening?” “I’d rather not.”

Note the structure:

I’d rather do something than (do) something else

- I’d rather stay at home than go to the movies.

c Would rather someone did something

When you want someone else to do something, you can say I’d rather you did ... / I’d rather he did ..., etc. We use the past in this structure, but the meaning is present or future, not past. Compare:

I’d rather cook dinner now.
I’d rather you cooked dinner now. (not I’d rather you cook)

- “Shall I stay here?” “Well, I’d rather you came with us.”
- I’d rather you didn’t tell anyone what I said.
- “Do you mind if I smoke?” “I’d rather you didn’t.”

UNIT 61 Exercises

61.1 Make sentences using "I prefer (something) to (something else)."

Example: (driving / traveling by train) I prefer driving to traveling by train.

1. (San Francisco / Los Angeles) I prefer San Francisco
2. (calling people / writing letters) I prefer
3. (going to the movies / watching movies on TV)
I

Now rewrite sentences 2 and 3 using the structure "I prefer to do (something) . . ."

Example: I prefer to drive rather than travel by train.

4. (2) I prefer to call
5. (3) I

61.2 Answer these questions using I'd rather . . . Use the words in parentheses (. . .) for your answers.

Example: Would you like to walk? (go by car) I'd rather go by car.

1. Would you like to play tennis? (go for a swim) I'd
2. Do you want to watch television? (read a book) I
3. Shall we leave now? (wait for a few minutes)
4. Would you like to go to a restaurant? (eat at home)
5. Should we decide now? (think about it for a while)

Now make sentences using I'd rather . . . than . . . (see section b).

Example: (walk / go by car) I'd rather walk than go by car.

6. (go for a swim / play tennis) I'd rather
7. (read a book / watch television) I
8. (wait for a few minutes / leave now)
9. (eat at home / go to a restaurant)
10. (think about it for a while / decide now)

61.3 Use "I'd rather you (did something)." You are talking to a friend. You say you'll do something, but really you want your friend to do it.

Example: I'll cook the dinner if you really want me to, but I'd rather you cooked it.

1. I'll call Tom if you really want me to, but I'd rather
2. I'll do the dishes if you really want me to, but
3. I'll go to the bank if you really want me to, but
4. I'll tell Ann what happened if you really want me to, but

UNIT 62

Had better do something It's time someone did something a Had better do something

The meaning of had better (I'd better) is similar to should. "I'd better do something" = I should do something or it is advisable for me to do something; if I don't do this, something bad might happen:

- I have to meet Tom in ten minutes. I'd better go now or I'll be late.
- "Should I take an umbrella?" "Yes, you'd better. It might rain."
- We've almost run out of gas. We'd better stop at the next gas station to fill up.

The negative form is had better not ('d better not):

- You don't look very well. You'd better not go to work today.
- "Are you going out tonight?" "I'd better not. I've got a lot of work to do."

The form is always "had better" (usually 'd better in spoken English). We say had but the meaning is present or future, not past:

- I'd better go to the bank this afternoon.

Remember that had better is followed by the base form (not to . . .):

- It might rain. We'd better take an umbrella. (not better to take)

b It's time . . .

You can say "it's time (for someone) to do something":

- It's time to go home.
- It's time for us to go home.

There is another structure: It's time someone did something:

- It's nearly midnight. It's time we went home.

We use the past (went) after It's time someone . . ., but the meaning is present or future, not past:

- Why are you still in bed? It's time you got up. (not time you get up)

We use the structure It's time someone did something especially when we are complaining or criticizing, or when we think someone should have already done something:

- It's time the children were in bed. It's long past their bedtime.
- You've been wearing the same clothes for ages. Isn't it time you bought some new ones?
- I think it's time the government did something about pollution.

We also say { "It's high time"
"It's about time" } someone did something."

This makes the complaint or criticism stronger:

- You're very selfish. It's high time you realized that you're not the most important person in the world.
- It's about time Jack did some studying for his exams.

UNIT 62 Exercises

62.1 Read each situation and write a sentence with had better.

UNIT 63

See someone do and see someone doing

a Study this example situation:

Tom got into his car and drove away. You saw this. You can say:

- I saw Tom get into his car and drive away.

In this structure we use the base form (get, drive, etc.):

Remember that we use the base form (not to):

- I saw her go out. (not to go out)

b Now study this example situation:

Yesterday you saw Ann. She was waiting for a bus. You can say:

- I saw Ann waiting for a bus.

In this structure we use -ing (waiting):

c Now study the difference in meaning between the two structures:

"I saw him do something" = he did something (simple past) and I saw this. I saw the complete action from beginning to end:

- He fell to the ground. I saw this. → I saw him fall to the ground.
- The accident happened. We saw this. → We saw the accident happen.

"I saw her doing something" = she was doing something (past continuous) and I saw this. I saw her when she was in the middle of doing something. This does not mean that I saw the complete action:

- She was walking along the street. I saw this when I drove past in my car. → I saw her walking along the street.

The difference is not always important. Sometimes you can use either form:

- I've never seen Tom dance. or I've never seen Tom dancing.

d We use these structures especially with see and hear, and also with watch, listen to, feel, and notice:

- | | |
|---|---|
| ■ I didn't hear you come in. | ■ I could hear it raining . |
| ■ He suddenly felt someone touch him on the shoulder. | ■ The missing girls were last seen playing near the river. |
| ■ Did you notice anyone go out? | ■ Listen to the birds singing ! |

After smell and find you can use the -ing structure only:

- Can you smell something burning?
- She found him reading her letters.

UNIT 63 Exercises

63.1 Answer these questions, beginning in the way shown.

- Examples: "Does Tom ever dance?" "I've never seen him dance (or dancing)."
- "How do you know I came in late?" "I heard you come in late."
- "Does Liz ever smoke?" "I've never seen"
 - "How do you know the man took the money?" "I saw"
 - "Did Jack lock the door?" "Yes, I heard"
 - "Did the bell ring?" "I'm not sure. I didn't hear"
 - "How do you know Ann can play the piano?" "I've heard"
 - "Did Bill trip over the dog?" "Yes, I saw"
 - "Did the girl fall into the river?" "I didn't see"

63.2 In each of these situations you and a friend saw, heard, or smelled something. This is what you said at the time:

- Look! There's Ann! She's waiting for a bus.
- Look! There's Sue! She's playing tennis.
- Look! There's Tom! He's eating in that restaurant.
- Listen! That's Bill. He's playing the guitar.
- I can smell something! Dinner's burning!
- Look! There's Dave! He's talking to Chuck.

Later you tell someone what you saw, heard, or smelled.

- We saw Ann waiting for a bus.
- We saw
- in a restaurant.

63.3 Complete these sentences. Use one of the following verbs in the correct form.

run explode ~~burn~~ slam cry ~~happen~~ sit collide open

- We listened to the old woman her story from beginning to end.

- I heard someone the door in the middle of the night. It woke me up.
- We couldn't find Tom at first. Finally we found him in the garden.

UNIT 64

-ing clauses – “Feeling tired, I went to bed early.”

a A clause is a part of a sentence. Some sentences have two clauses:

- Feeling tired, I went to bed early.

In this sentence, “I went to bed early” is the main clause.

Feeling tired is the -ing clause.

b When two things happen at the same time, you can use -ing for one of the verbs. The main clause usually comes first:

- She was sitting in an armchair reading a book. (= she was sitting, and she was reading)
- I ran out of the house shouting. (= I was shouting when I ran out of the house)

We also use -ing when one action happens during another. Use -ing for the longer action. The longer action is the second part of the sentence.

- Jim hurt his arm playing tennis. (= while he was playing)
- I cut myself shaving. (= while I was shaving)

You can also use -ing after while or when:

- Jim hurt his arm while playing tennis. (= while he was playing)
- Be careful when crossing the street. (= when you are crossing)

c When one action happens before another action, you can use having (done) for the first action:

- Having found a hotel, they looked for somewhere to have dinner.
- Having finished our work, we went home.

You could also say After -ing:

- After finishing our work, we went home.

If the second action happens immediately after the first, you can use the simple -ing form (doing instead of having done):

- Taking a key out of his pocket, he opened the door.

These structures are used mainly in written English.

d You can also use an -ing clause to explain something or to say why someone did something. The -ing clause usually comes first:

- Feeling tired, I went to bed early. (= because I felt tired)
- Being unemployed, she doesn't have much money. (= because she is unemployed)
- Not having a car, she finds it difficult to get around. (= because she doesn't have a car)
- Having already seen the film twice, I didn't want to go to the movies. (= because I had already seen it twice)

These structures are used more in written than in spoken English.

UNIT 64 Exercises

64.1 From each pair of sentences make one sentence using an -ing clause.

UNIT 65

Uncountable nouns (gold, music, advice, etc.)

Nouns can be countable or uncountable. For countable nouns see Unit 66.

a Uncountable nouns are, for example: gold music blood excitement

Uncountable nouns are things we cannot count. They have no plural. You cannot say "musics," "bloods," or "excitements."

b Before uncountable nouns you can say the/some/any/much/this/his, etc.:

the music some gold much excitement his blood

But you cannot use a/an before an uncountable noun. So you cannot say "a music," "an excitement," or "a blood."

You can also use uncountable nouns alone, with no article (see Unit 70):

■ This ring is made of gold. ■ Blood is red.

c Many nouns can be used as countable or as uncountable nouns. Usually there is a difference in meaning. For example:

paper I bought a paper. (= a newspaper – countable)
I bought some paper. (= material for writing on – uncountable) hair There's a hair in my soup! (= one single hair – countable)
She has beautiful hair. (= hair on her head – uncountable) experience We had many interesting experiences on our vacation. (= things that happened to us – countable)
You need experience for this job. (= knowledge of something because you have done it before – uncountable)

d Some nouns are usually uncountable in English but often countable in other languages. Here are the most important of these:

advice	bread	information	permission	traffic	weather
baggage	chaos	luggage	progress	travel	work
behavior	furniture	news	scenery	trouble

These nouns are uncountable, so (i) you cannot use a/an before them; and (ii) they cannot be plural:

- Tom gave me some good advice. (not some good advices)
- Where are you going to put all your furniture? (not furnitures)
- We don't have much luggage to carry. (not many luggages)
- I'm afraid I have some bad news. (not a bad news)

Remember that news is not plural:

- The news is very depressing today. (not The news are . . .)

Do not use travel to mean trip/journey:

- We had a good trip. (not a good travel)

Note these pairs of countable (C) and uncountable (UNC) nouns:

- I'm looking for a job. (C) but I'm looking for work. (UNC)
- What a beautiful view! (C) but What beautiful scenery! (UNC)

Countable nouns are things we can count. We can make them plural:

two dogs six jobs some girls many suggestions

- What awful shoes!
- Dogs are animals.
- Ann has blue eyes.
- Are most of your friends students?

- Some friends of mine are coming to stay for the weekend.

Do not use some when you are talking about things in general:

For some and any see Unit 80.

The speaker says "the sandwich" because the listener now knows which sandwich he means – the sandwich he had for lunch.

UNIT 69

The (2)

a Study these sentences:

- The rose is my favorite flower.
- The giraffe is the tallest of all animals.

In these examples the . . . doesn't mean one particular thing. The rose = roses in general, the giraffe = giraffes in general. We use the + a singular countable noun in this way to talk about a type of plant, animal, etc. Note that you can also use a plural noun without the:

- Roses are my favorite flowers. (but not The roses . . . – see Unit 70)

We also use the + a singular countable noun when we talk about a type of machine, an invention, etc. For example:

- When was the telephone invented?
- The bicycle is an excellent means of transportation.

We also use the for musical instruments:

- Can you play the guitar? (not Can you play guitar?)

b The + adjective

We use the with some adjectives (without a noun). The meaning is always plural. For example, the rich = rich people in general:

- Do you think the rich should pay more taxes?

We use the especially with these adjectives:

the rich	the old	the blind	the sick	the disabled	the injured
the poor	the young	the deaf	the dead	the unemployed	the homeless

- That man over there is collecting money for the homeless.
- Why doesn't the government do more to help the unemployed?

These expressions are always plural. You cannot say "a blind" or "an unemployed." You have to say "a blind man," "an unemployed woman," etc.

You can use the with some nationality adjectives when you mean "the people of that country." For example:

- The French are famous for their food. (= the French people)
- The English are known for being polite. (= the English people)

You can use the in this way with these nationality words:

the British	the Welsh	the Spanish	the Dutch

You can also use the with nationality words ending in -ese (the Japanese / the Chinese, etc.). With other nationalities you have to use a plural noun ending in -s:

(the) Russians (the) Italians (the) Arabs (the) Germans (the) Turks

For the see also Units 67, 68, and 70–73.

Bloor Street
Wilshire Boulevard

Fifth Avenue
Broadway

Piccadilly Circus
Red Square

- b Many names (for example, of airports or universities) are two or three words:

Kennedy Airport Boston University

The first word is usually the name of a person ("Kennedy") or a place ("Boston"). We do not usually say the with names like these:

Pearson International Airport
Penn Station

Buckingham Palace
Hyde Park

But we say "the White House," "the Royal Palace" because "white" and "royal" are not names. This is only a general rule. There are exceptions. See section (c) for hotels, etc., and section (e) for names with of.

UNIT 73 Exercises

73.1 Use the map to answer the questions in the way shown. Write the name of the place and the street it is on. On maps we don't normally use the; in your sentences, use the if necessary.

UNIT 74

Singular or plural?

a We use some nouns only in the plural. For example:

You can also use a pair of . . . with these words:

- I need some new slacks. or I need a new pair of slacks.

b We do not often use the plural of person ("persons"). Instead we use people:

- He is a nice person. They are nice people. (not nice persons)

c These nouns end in -s but they are not usually plural:

mathematics physics economics athletics gymnastics news

- Gymnastics is my favorite sport.
- What time is the news on television? (See also Unit 65d.)

These words end in -s and can be singular or plural:

means	a means of transportation	many means of transportation series	a television series	two television series species	a species of bird	200 species of bird

d We always use a plural verb with the police:

- The police have arrested Tom.
- Are the police paid well?

e Sometimes we use a plural noun with a singular verb. We do this when we talk about a sum of money, a period of time, a distance, etc.:

- Five thousand dollars (= it) was stolen in the robbery. (not were stolen)
- Three years (= it) is a long time to be without a job. (not are)

f We say "a vacation of three weeks" but "a three-week vacation":

- I have a three-week vacation in July. (not a three-weeks vacation)

Here, three-week is used as an adjective before "vacation." When we use "three-weeks" as an adjective, it loses the s. So we say:

a ten-dollar bill (not dollars)	two 14-year-old girls
a four-week English course	a six-hour journey

You can also say "I have three weeks' vacation." See Unit 75d.

UNIT 74 Exercises

...’s (apostrophe s) and ...of...

- a We normally use ’s when the first noun is a person or an animal:
 the manager’s office (not the office of the manager)
Mr. Evans’s daughter the horse’s tail a police officer’s hat Otherwise (with things) we normally use ...of... the door of the room (not the room’s door)
 the beginning of the story (not the story’s beginning) Sometimes you can use ’s when the first noun is a thing. For example, you can say:
the book’s title or the title of the book
 But it is safer and more usual to use ...of... (but see also section b).

- b You can usually use ’s when the first noun is an organization (= a group of people). So you can say:
the government’s decision or the decision of the government the company’s success or the success of the company
 It is also possible to use ’s with places. So you can say:
the city’s new theater the world’s population
France’s system of government Italy’s largest city

- c After a singular noun we use ’s. After a plural noun (which ends in -s) we use only an apostrophe (’):
 my sister’s room (one sister) Mr. Carter’s house my sisters’ room (more than one sister) the Carters’ house (Mr. and Mrs. Carter)
 If a plural noun does not end in -s, we use ’s:
 a children’s book

Note that you can use ’s after more than one noun:
Jack and Jill’s wedding Mr. and Mrs. Carter’s house

But we would not use ’s in a sentence like this:

- I met the wife of the man who lent us the money. (“the man who lent us the money” is too long to be followed by ’s)

Note that you can use ’s without a following noun:

- Tom’s apartment is much larger than Ann’s. (= Ann’s apartment)

- d You can also use ’s with time words (tomorrow, etc.):
 ■ Tomorrow’s meeting has been canceled.
 ■ Do you still have last Saturday’s newspaper?
 You can also say: yesterday’s ... today’s ... this evening’s ... next week’s ...
Monday’s ... etc.

We also use ’s (or only an apostrophe (’) with plurals) with periods of time:

- I have a week’s vacation.
- I have three weeks’ vacation.
- I need eight hours’ sleep a night.
- My house is very near here – only about five minutes’ walk.

Compare this structure with “a three-week vacation” (Unit 74e).

UNIT 76

Reflexive pronouns (myself / yourself, etc.), by myself

a The reflexive pronouns are:

singular:	myself	yourself (one person)	himself/herself/itself/
plural:	ourselves	yourselves (more than one person)	themselves

We use a reflexive pronoun when the subject and object are the same:

- Tom cut himself while he was shaving. (not Tom cut him)
- The old lady sat in a corner talking to herself.
 - Don't get angry. Control yourself! (said to one person)
 - If you want more to eat, help yourselves. (said to more than one person)
 - The party was great. We enjoyed ourselves very much.

But we do not use "myself," etc., after bring/take something with . . .:

- I went out and took an umbrella with me. (not with myself)

b We do not use "myself," etc., after feel/relax/concentrate:

- I feel great after going for a swim. (not I feel myself great)
- Why don't you try and concentrate?
- It's good to relax.

We do not normally use "myself," etc., after wash/dress/shave:

- I got up, shaved, washed, and dressed. (not shaved myself, etc.)

But we say: I dried myself.

Note how we use meet:

- What time shall we meet? (not meet ourselves / meet us) c Study the difference between -selves and each other:

- Tom and Ann stood in front of the mirror and looked at themselves.
(= Tom and Ann looked at Tom and Ann) but: Tom looked at Ann and Ann looked at Tom. They looked at each other.

You can use one another instead of each other:

- Sue and Ann don't like each other (or one another).

d We also use myself, etc., in another way. For example:

- "Who fixed your bicycle for you?" "Nobody. I fixed it myself."

I fixed it myself = I fixed it, not anybody else. We use myself here to emphasize I. Here are some more examples:

- I'm not going to do it for you. You can do it yourself.
- Let's paint the house ourselves. It will be much cheaper.
- The movie itself wasn't very good, but I liked the music.
- I don't think Tom will get the job. Tom himself doesn't think he'll get it. (or Tom doesn't think he'll get it himself.)

e By myself/yourself, etc. = alone. We say:

- I like living by myself.
- Did you go on vacation by yourself?
- Jack was sitting by himself in a corner of the cafe.

- Ann has bought some new shoes.
- They don't have any children.
- I've got something in my eye.
- He's lazy. He never does any work.

We use any in the following sentences because the meaning is negative:

- He left home without any money. (He didn't have any money.)
- She refused to say anything. (She didn't say anything.)

b We often use any/anyone/anything, etc., after if:

- If any letters arrive for me, can you send them to this address?
- If anyone has any questions, I'll be glad to answer them.
- If you need anything, just ask.

- Anyone who wants to take the exam must give me their names before Friday. (= if there is anyone who . . .)
- I'll send on any letters that arrive for you. (= if there are any)

c In questions we usually use any (not some):

- Do you have any money?
- Has anybody seen Tom?

But we often use some in questions when we expect the answer "yes":

- What's wrong with your eye? Have you got something in it? (= I think you have something in your eye, and I expect you to say "yes")

We use some in questions, especially when we offer or ask for things:

- Would you like some tea?
- Can I have some of those apples?

d Any also has another meaning. Any/anyone/anybody/anything/anywhere can mean it doesn't matter which/who/what/where:

- Come and see me any time you want. (= it doesn't matter when)

- "Sing a song." "Which song shall I sing?" "Any song. I don't care."

e Someone/somebody/anyone/anybody are singular words:

But we often use they/them/their after these words:

- If anyone wants to leave early, they can. (= he or she can)
- Somebody has spilled their (= his or her) coffee on the carpet.

For some of / any of see Unit 78. For not . . . any see Unit 81.

No/none/any

No/any + one/-body/-thing/-where a No none no one nobody nothing nowhere

- No system of government is perfect.
- "Where are you going?" "Nowhere. I'm staying here."
- None of these books are mine.
- "What did you do?" "Nothing."

You can also use these words in the middle or at the end of a sentence. But don't use "not" with these words. They are already negative:

- I saw nothing. (not I didn't see nothing.)

In the middle or at the end of a sentence, we more often use: not . . . any/anyone/anybody/anything/anywhere:

- We don't have any money. (= We have no money.)
- The station isn't anywhere near here. (= . . . is nowhere near here)

Where there is another negative word, you don't need "not":

b No and none

We use no with a noun. No = not a or not any:

- We had to walk because there was no bus. (= there wasn't a bus)
- I can't talk to you now. I have no time. (= I don't have any time)
- There were no stores open. (= There weren't any stores open.)

We use none alone (without a noun):

- "How much money do you have?" "None."

Or we use none of:

none of these shops none of my money none of it/us/you/them

After none of + a plural word ("none of the girls / none of them," etc.), you can use a singular or a plural verb. A plural verb is more usual, especially in spoken English:

- None of the people I met were English.

c After no one/nobody we often say they/them/their:

- Nobody called, did they? (= did he or she)

UNIT 82

Much, many, little, few, a lot, plenty a Much many few little

We use much and little with uncountable nouns:

much time much luck little energy little money

We use many and few with plural nouns:

many friends many people few cars few countries

b A lot (of) lots (of) plenty (of)

We use a lot of / lots of / plenty of with uncountable and plural nouns:

a lot of luck lots of time plenty of money
a lot of people lots of books plenty of ideas

Plenty = more than enough:

- "Have some more to eat." "No, thank you. I've had plenty."
- There's no need to hurry. We have plenty of time.

c We use much and many mainly in negative sentences and questions:

- We didn't spend much money.
- Do you have many friends?

In positive sentences it is usually better to use a lot (of). Much is not normally used in positive sentences:

- We spent a lot of money. (not we spent much money)
- There has been a lot of rain recently. (not much rain)

But we use too much and so much in positive sentences:

- I can't drink this tea. There's too much sugar in it.

d Little / a little / few / a few

Little and few (without a) are negative ideas:

- Hurry up! There's little time. (= not much, not enough time)
- He's not popular. He has few friends. (= not many, not enough friends)

We often use very before little and few (very little and very few):

- There's very little time.
- He has very few friends.

"A little" and "a few" are more positive ideas. A little / a few = some, a small amount, or a small number:

- Let's go and have a cup of coffee. We have a little time before the train leaves. (= some time, enough time to have a drink)
- "Do you have any money?" "Yes, a little. Do you want to borrow some?"
- I enjoy my life here. I have a few friends and we get together. (a few friends = not many but enough to have a good time)
- "When did you last see Tom?" "A few days ago." (= some days ago)

But "only a little" and "only a few" have a negative meaning:

- Hurry up! We only have a little time.
- The town was very small. There were only a few houses.

UNIT 82 Exercises

82.1 Complete these sentences with much, many, and a lot (of). Sometimes there are two possibilities.

Examples: There weren't many people at the party I had seen before.

UNIT 83

All, every, and whole

a All everyone everybody everything

We do not normally use all to mean everyone/everybody:

- Everybody enjoyed the party. (not All enjoyed . . .)
- Ann knows everyone on her street. (not . . . all on her street)

Sometimes you can use all to mean everything, but it is usually better to say everything:

- He thinks he knows everything. (not knows all)
- It was a terrible vacation. Everything went wrong. (not all went wrong)

But you can use all in the expression all about:

- They told us all about their vacation.

We also use all to mean the only thing(s):

- All I've eaten today is a sandwich. (= the only thing I've eaten)

b We use a singular verb after every/everyone/everybody/everything:

- Every seat in the theater was taken.
- Everybody looks tired today.
- Everything she said was true.

But we often use they/them/their after everyone/everybody, especially in spoken English:

- Has everyone got their tickets? (= his or her ticket)
- Everybody said they would come. (= he or she would come)

c All and whole

We use whole mainly with singular nouns:

- Have you read the whole book? (= all the book, not just a part of it)
- He was very quiet. He didn't say a word the whole evening.
- She has spent her whole life in South America.

We say the/my/her, etc., before whole. Compare:

the whole book / all the book her whole life / all her life

You can also say "a whole . . .":

- Jack ate a whole loaf of bread yesterday. (= a complete loaf)

We do not normally use whole with uncountable nouns:

- all the money (not the whole money)

d Every/all/whole with time words

We use every to say how often something happens. So we say every day / every week / every Monday / every ten minutes / every three weeks, etc.:

- We go out every Friday night.
- The buses run every ten minutes.
- Ann goes to see her mother every three weeks.

All day / the whole day = the complete day:

- We spent all day / the whole day on the beach.
- I've been trying to find you all morning / the whole morning.

Note that we say all day / all week, etc. (not all the day / all the week)

For all see also Units 78 and 102c.

UNIT 83 Exercises

83.1 Complete these sentences with all, everything, or everyone/everybody.

Examples: Ann knows everyone (or everybody) on her street.

Now make sentences for 3 and 5 again. This time use all instead of whole.

8. (3) She
9. (5) It

83.3 Now say how often something happens. Use every with these periods of time:

four years ten minutes four hours six months ~~five minutes~~

1. Tom is sick in bed. He has some medicine. He has to take it
2. The Olympic Games take place
3. Everyone should have a checkup with the dentist
4. We live near a busy airport. A plane flies over the house

UNIT 84

Relative clauses (1) – clauses with who/that/which

a Study this example:

The man who lives next door is very friendly.
└ relative clause ┘

A clause is a part of a sentence. A relative clause tells us which person or thing (or what kind of person or thing) the speaker means:

- The man who lives next door ... (who lives next door tells us which man)
- People who live in Paris ... (who live in Paris tells us what kind of people)

We use who in a relative clause when we are talking about people. We use who instead of he/she/they:

the man – he lives next door – is very friendly
 → The man who lives next door is very friendly.
 we know a lot of people – they live in Boston
 → We know a lot of people who live in Boston.

- An architect is someone who designs buildings.
- What was the name of the man who lent you the money?
- The girl who was injured in the accident is now in the hospital.
- Anyone who wants to take the exam must sign up before next Friday.

It is also possible to use that instead of who:

- The man that lives next door is very friendly.

But sometimes you must use who for people – see Unit 87.

b When we are talking about things, we use that (not who) in a relative clause. We use that instead of it/they:

where are the eggs? – they were in the refrigerator
 Where are the eggs that were in the refrigerator?

- I don't like stories that have unhappy endings.
- Jerry works for a company that makes typewriters.
- Everything that happened was my fault.
- The window that was broken has now been repaired.

You can also use which for things (but not for people):

- Where are the eggs which were in the refrigerator?

That is more usual than which in the sentences in this unit. But sometimes you must use which – see Unit 87.

c Remember that we use who/that/which instead of he/she/they/it:

- Do you know the man who lives next door? (not ... who he lives ...)

Now study the next unit for more information about relative clauses.

UNIT 84 Exercises

84.1 Explain what these words mean. Choose the right meaning from the list and then write a sentence with who. Use a dictionary if necessary.

he/she steals from a store	he/she breaks into a house and steals things he/she doesn't eat meat	he/she fills prescriptions for medicine
he/she designs buildings	he/she buys something from a store

1. (an architect) An architect is someone who designs buildings.
2. (a burglar) A burglar is someone.....
3. (a vegetarian) A vegetarian
4. (a customer)
5. (a shoplifter)
6. (a pharmacist)

84.2 Read the two sentences and then write one sentence with the same meaning. Use a relative clause in your sentence.

Example: A girl was injured in the accident. She is now in the hospital.

The girl who was injured in the accident is now in the hospital.

1. A man answered the phone. He told me you were out.
The man.....
2. A waitress served us. She was very impolite and impatient.
The
3. Some boys were arrested. They have now been released.
The boys

84.3 The sentences in this exercise are not complete. Choose the most appropriate ending from the list and make it into a relative clause.

he invented the telephone	it makes typewriters
she runs away from home	it gives you the meanings of words they are never on time	it won the race
they stole my car	it can support life
they used to hang on that wall	it was found last week

1. Jerry works for a company that (or which) makes typewriters.
2. The book is about a girl
3. What was the name of the horse?
4. The police have caught the men
5. Alexander Bell was the man
6. Where are the pictures?
7. The police are still trying to identify the body
8. A dictionary is a book
9. I don't like people
10. It seems that Earth is the only planet

UNIT 85

Relative clauses (2) – clauses with or without who/that a Look again at these examples from Unit 84:

- The man who lives next door is very friendly. (or that lives)
- Where are the eggs that were in the refrigerator? (or which were)

In these sentences who and that are subjects of the verbs in the relative clauses: the man lives next door, the eggs were in the refrigerator. You cannot leave out who or that in these sentences.

Sometimes who and that are objects of the verbs:

the man – I wanted to see him – was away on vacation

→ The man who (or that) I wanted to see was away on vacation.

have you found the keys? – you lost them

→ Have you found the keys that you lost?

When who or that are objects of the verb in the relative clause, you can leave them out:

- The man I wanted to see was away on vacation. (but not The man I wanted to see him was away on vacation.)
- Have you found the keys you lost? (but not Have you found the keys you lost them?)
- The dress Ann bought doesn't fit her very well. (= the dress that Ann bought)
- The woman Jerry is going to marry is Mexican. (= the woman who/that Jerry is going to marry)
- Is there anything I can do? (= is there anything that I can do?)

b There are often prepositions (in/at/with, etc.) in relative clauses. Study the position of the prepositions in these sentences:

do you know the girl? – Tom is talking to her

→ Do you know the girl (who/that) Tom is talking to ?

the bed – I slept in it last night – wasn't very comfortable

→ The bed (that) I slept in last night wasn't very comfortable.

- The man (who/that) I sat next to on the plane talked all the time.
- Are these the books (that) you have been looking for?
- The girl (who/that) he fell in love with left him after a few weeks.

c You cannot use what instead of that:

- Everything (that) he said was true. (not everything what he said)
- I gave her all the money (that) I had. (not all . . . what I had)

What = the thing(s) that:

- Did you hear what I said? (= the words that I said)
- I won't tell anyone what happened. (= the thing that happened)

UNIT 85 Exercises

85.1 The sentences in this exercise are not complete. Complete each one with a relative clause. Use the sentences in the box to make your relative clauses.

we met her yesterday	we wanted to visit it	Tom tells them
Tom recommended it	we had it for dinner	you lost them

7. Why do you always disagree with everything I say?
8. I don't agree with you've just said.
9. This is an awful movie. It's the worst I've ever seen.

UNIT 86

Relative clauses (3) – whose, whom, and where

a Whose

We use whose in relative clauses instead of his/her/their:

we saw some people –	their	car had broken down
→ We saw some people	whose	car had broken down.

We use whose mostly for people:

- A widow is a woman whose husband is dead. (her husband is dead)
- What's the name of the girl whose car you borrowed? (you borrowed her car)
- The other day I met someone whose brother I went to school with. (I went to school with his brother)

b Whom

Whom is possible instead of who (for people) when it is the object of the verb in the relative clause (like the sentences in Unit 85):

- The man whom I wanted to see was away on vacation. (I wanted to see him)

You can also use whom with a preposition (to/from/with whom, etc.):

- The woman with whom he fell in love left him after a few weeks. (he fell in love with her)

But we do not often use whom. In spoken English we normally prefer who or that (or you can leave them out – see Unit 85):

- The man (who/that) I wanted to see . . .
- The woman (who/that) he fell in love with . . .

For whom see also Units 87 and 88.

c Where

You can use where in a relative clause to talk about places:

the hotel – we stayed	there	– wasn't very clean
→ The hotel	where	we stayed wasn't very clean.

- I recently went back to the town where I was born. (or the town (that) I was born in)
- I would like to live in a country where there is plenty of sunshine.

d

We use that (or we leave it out) when we say the day / the year / the time, (etc.) that something happened:

- Do you still remember the day (that) we first met?
- The last time (that) I saw her, she looked very well.
- I haven't seen them since the year (that) they got married.

e

You can say the reason why something happens or the reason that something happens. You can also leave out why and that:

- The reason (why/that) I'm calling you is to invite you to a party.

UNIT 86 Exercises

86.1 You were on vacation with a friend of yours. You met some people who had some bad experiences during their vacation. You met:

1. some people / their car broke down
2. a man / his wife got sick and was taken to the hospital
3. a woman / her husband was arrested by the police
4. a girl / her passport was stolen
5. a couple / their luggage disappeared

You can't recall the names of these people. Ask your friend, making sentences with whose.

1. What was the name of the people whose car broke down.....?
2. What was the name of the man.....?
3. What.....?
4.?
5.?

86.2 The sentences in this exercise are not complete. Complete them with where Use the sentences in the box to make your relative clauses.

5. I protested to the woman
6. The reason is that they can't afford one.
7. Do you know the name of the hotel.....?
8. Nineteen forty-five was the year

UNIT 87

Relative clauses (4) – “extra information” clauses (1) a Look again at these examples from Units 84 and 85:

- The man who lives next door is very friendly.
- Jerry works for a company that makes typewriters.
- Have you found the keys (that) you lost?

In these examples, the relative clauses tell us which person or thing (or what kind of person or thing) the speaker means:

“The man who lives next door” tells us which man.

“a company that makes typewriters” tells us what kind of company.

“the keys (that) you lost” tells us which keys.

But not all relative clauses are like this. For example:

- Tom’s father, who is 78, goes swimming every day.
- The house at the end of the street, which has been empty for two years, has just been sold.

In these examples the relative clauses (who is 78 and which has been empty for two years) do not tell us which person or thing the speaker means. We already know which person or thing is meant: “Tom’s father” and “the house at the end of the street.” The relative clauses in these sentences give us extra information about the person or thing.

b In these “extra information” relative clauses you have to use who for people and which for things. You cannot use that, and you cannot leave out who or which.

When you write clauses like this, you have to put commas (,) at the beginning and at the end of the clause. Study these examples:

- Mr. Yates, who has worked for the same company all his life, is retiring next month.
- The strike at the car factory, which lasted ten days, is now over.

When the clause comes at the end of the sentence, you have to put a comma before the clause:

- Yesterday I met John, who told me he was getting married.
- She told me her address, which I wrote down on a piece of paper.

Remember that we use who/which instead of he/she/it/they:

- Last night we went to Ann’s party, which we enjoyed very much. (not which we enjoyed it very much)

c You can also use whose, whom, and where in relative clauses with “extra information”:

- Martin, whose mother is Spanish, speaks both Spanish and English fluently.
- Mr. Hill is going to Canada, where his son has been living for five years.
- My sister, whom (or who) you once met, is visiting us next week.

For more information about whose, whom, and where see Unit 86.

See also the next unit for “extra information” relative clauses.

UNIT 87 Exercises

87.1 Write these sentences again, giving extra information in a relative clause. Sometimes the relative clause is in the middle of the sentence, sometimes at the end. Use the sentence in parentheses (. . .) to make your relative clauses.

Examples: Tom's father goes swimming every day. (Tom's father is 78.)

Tom's father, who is 78, goes swimming every day.

She told me her address. (I wrote her address down on a piece of paper.)

.....

UNIT 88

Relative clauses (5) – “extra information” clauses (2)

You should study Unit 87 before you study this unit.

a Prepositions + whom/which

In “extra information” clauses you can use a preposition before whom (for people) and which (for things). So you can say “to whom / with whom / about which / for which,” etc.:

- Mr. Carter, to whom I spoke last night, is very interested in our plan.
- Fortunately we had a map, without which we would have gotten lost.

But in spoken English we often keep the preposition after the verb in the relative clause.

When we do this, we normally use who (not whom):

- This is Mr. Carter, who I was telling you about.
- Yesterday we visited the National Museum, which I’d never been to before.

b All of/most of, etc. + whom/which Study these examples:

- | |
|--|
| Jack has three brothers. All of them are married. (2 sentences) → Jack has three brothers, all of whom are married. (1 sentence) Ann has a lot of books. She hasn’t read most of them. (2 sentences) → Ann has a lot of books, most of which she hasn’t read. (1 sentence) |
|--|

You can also say:

none of/many of/much of/(a) few of/some of any of/half of/each of/both of/neither of either of/one of/two of, etc.	}	+ whom (people) + which (things)
--	---	--

- He tried on three jackets, none of which fit him.
- They’ve got three cars, two of which they never use.
- Sue has a lot of friends, many of whom she went to school with.
- Two men, neither of whom I had seen before, came into my office.

c Which (not what) Study this example:

- | | | |
|------------------------------|------|------------------------------------|
| Jim passed his driving test. | This | surprised everybody. (2 sentences) |
|------------------------------|------|------------------------------------|
- | | | |
|---|--------------|-----------------------------------|
| Jim passed his driving test, | which | surprised everybody. (1 sentence) |
| relative clause | | |

In this example which = the fact that he passed his driving test. You cannot use what instead of which in sentences like this:

- She couldn’t come to the party, which was a pity. (not . . . what was a pity)
- The weather was very good, which we hadn’t expected. (not . . . what we hadn’t expected)

For what see Unit 85c.

UNIT 88 Exercises

UNIT 89 -ing and -ed clauses ("the woman talking to Tom," "the man injured in the accident") a A clause is a part of a sentence. Some clauses begin with -ing or -ed:

- Do you know the woman talking to Tom? (-ing clause)
- The man injured in the accident was taken to the hospital. (-ed clause)

b We use -ing clauses to say what someone (or something) is doing or was doing at a particular time:

- Do you know the woman talking to Tom? (the woman is talking to Tom)
- The police officers investigating the robbery are looking for three men. (the police officers are investigating the robbery)
- I was awakened by a bell ringing. (the bell was ringing)
- Who was that man standing outside? (the man was standing outside)
- Can you hear someone singing? (someone is singing)

For see/hear someone doing something see Unit 63.

When you are talking about things (and sometimes people), you can use an -ing clause for permanent characteristics (what something does all the time, not just at a particular time):

- The road joining the two villages is very narrow. (the road joins the two villages)
- I live in a pleasant room overlooking the garden. (the room overlooks the garden)

c -ed clauses have a passive meaning:

- The man injured in the accident was taken to the hospital. (the man was injured in the accident)
- None of the people invited to the party can come. (the people have been invited to the party)

Injured and invited are past participles. Many verbs have irregular past participles that do not end in -ed. For example: stolen/made/bought/written, etc.:

- The money stolen in the robbery was never found. (the money was stolen in the robbery)
- Most of the goods made in this factory are exported. (the goods are made in this factory)

For a full list of irregular verbs see Appendix 2.

d We often use -ing and -ed clauses after there is / there was, etc.:

- Is there anybody waiting to see me?
- There were some children swimming in the river.
- When I arrived, there was a big red car parked outside the house.

For more information about -ing clauses see Unit 64.

UNIT 89 Exercises

89.1 Rewrite the sentences. Each time use the information in parentheses (. . .) to make an -ing clause.

UNIT 90

Adjectives ending in -ing and -ed (boring/bored, etc.)

Jane has been doing the same job for a very long time. Every day she does exactly the same thing over and over. She doesn't enjoy it any more and would like to do something different.

Jane's job is boring.
Jane is bored (with her job).

Someone is -ed if something (or someone) is -ing. Or, if something is -ing, it makes you -ed. So:

- Jane is bored because her job is boring.
- Jane's job is boring, so Jane is bored. (not Jane is boring)

Now study these examples:

Someone is interested because something (or someone) is interesting:

UNIT 91

Adjectives: Word order ("a nice new house") After verbs ("Do you feel tired?") a Sometimes we use two or more adjectives together:

- Tom lives in a nice new house.
- In the kitchen there was a beautiful large round wooden table.

Adjectives like new/large/round/wooden are fact adjectives. They give us objective information about something (age, size, color, etc.). Adjectives like nice/beautiful are opinion adjectives. They tell us what someone thinks of something.

Opinion adjectives usually go before fact adjectives:

	opinion	fact
a	nice	sunny	day
	delicious	hot	soup
an	intelligent	young	man
a	beautiful	large round wooden	table

b Sometimes there are two or more fact adjectives. Very often (but not always) we put fact adjectives in this order:

a tall young man (1→2)

big blue eyes (1→3)

a small black plastic bag (1→3→5)

a large wooden table (1→5)

an old Russian song (2→4)

an old white cotton shirt (2→3→5)

Adjectives of size and length (big/small/tall/short/long, etc.) usually go before adjectives of shape and width (round/fat/thin/slim/wide, etc.):

a large round table a tall thin woman a long narrow street

c We also use adjectives after some verbs, especially be/get/become:

Are you tired? Be careful! I'm getting hungry.

We also use adjectives after: feel smell taste sound seem look:

- Do you feel tired?
- Dinner smells good.
- This coffee tastes strong.
- Tom sounded angry when I spoke to him on the phone.
- Your friend seems very nice.

But after other verbs you must use an adverb (see also Units 92 and 93):

- Drive carefully! (not drive careful)
- Susan plays the piano very well. (not plays . . . very good)
- Tom shouted at me angrily. (not shouted . . . angry)

Look We use an adjective after look when it means seem:

- Tom looked sad when I saw him.

But after look at we use an adverb:

- Tom looked at me sadly. (not looked at me sad)

UNIT 91 Exercises

UNIT 92

Adjectives and adverbs (1) (quick/quickly)

a Study these examples:

- Our vacation was too short – the time went quickly.
- The driver of the car was seriously injured in the accident.

Quickly and seriously are adverbs. Many adverbs are made from an adjective + -ly:

adjective:	quick	serious	careful	quiet	heavy	bad
adverb:	quickly	seriously	carefully	quietly	heavily	badly

For spelling rules see Appendix 3. For hard/fast/well see Unit 93.

Not all words ending in -ly are adverbs. Some adjectives end in -ly too. For example:
friendly lively elderly lonely silly lovely b Adjective or adverb?

An adjective tells us more about a noun. We use adjectives before nouns and after a few verbs (especially be):

- Tom is a careful driver.
- Be quiet, please!
- We didn't go out because of the heavy rain.
- I was disappointed that my exam results were so bad.

For adjectives after look/smell/feel, etc., see Unit 91c.

- Tom drove carefully along the narrow road. (not drove careful)
- Speak quietly, please! (not speak quiet)
- We didn't go out because it was raining heavily. (not raining heavy)
- I was disappointed that I did so badly on the exam. (not did so bad)

Compare: She speaks perfect English. (adjective + noun)

She speaks English perfectly. (verb + object + adverb)

c We also use adverbs before adjectives and other adverbs. For example:

reasonably cheap	(adverb + adjective)
terribly sorry	(adverb + adjective) incredibly quickly	(adverb + adverb)

- It's a reasonably cheap restaurant and the food is extremely good.
- Oh, I'm terribly sorry. I didn't mean to push you.
- Maria learns languages incredibly quickly.
- I was bitterly disappointed that I didn't get the job.
- The examination was surprisingly easy.

You can use an adverb before a past participle (injured/organized, etc.):

- The meeting was very badly organized.
- The driver of the car was seriously injured in the accident.
- The building was totally destroyed in the fire.

UNIT 92 Exercises

- Your English is very good. You speak English well.
- Susan is a good pianist. She plays the piano well.

We often use well with past participles (dressed/known, etc.):

well dressed (not good dressed) well known well educated

But well is also an adjective with the meaning "in good health":

- "How are you today?" "I'm very well, thanks." (not I'm very good)

b Fast/hard/late These words are both adjectives and adverbs:

adjective

Ann is a hard worker.

The train was late.

adverb

Jack can run very fast.

Ann works hard. (not works hardly)

I got up late this morning.

The adverb lately = recently:

- Have you seen Tom lately?

c Hardly has a completely different meaning from hard:

Hardly = almost not. Study these examples:

- We've done hardly any work. or We've hardly done any work.

Hardly ever = almost never:

UNIT 93 Exercises

We use such with an adjective with a noun: such a stupid story

You can also use so with an adverb:

Compare so and such in these sentences:

a The position of enough:

Enough goes after adjectives and adverbs:

- He didn't get the job because he wasn't experienced enough. (not enough experienced)
- You won't pass the exam if you don't work hard enough.
- She can't get married yet. She's not old enough.

- Some of us had to sit on the floor because there weren't enough chairs.

You can also use enough alone (without a noun):

- I don't have enough money for a vacation.
- He wasn't experienced enough for the job.
- This shirt is too big for me. I need a smaller size.

But we do not usually say "enough/too . . . for doing something." We use the infinitive after enough and too. So we say "enough money to do something," "old enough to do something," "too young to do something," etc.:

- I don't have enough money to take a vacation. (not for taking)
- He wasn't experienced enough to do the job.

- The food was so hot that we couldn't eat it.

and: The food was very hot. We couldn't eat it.

or we say:

- The food was too hot to eat. (without "it")

Here are some more examples like this:

- That picture is too heavy to hang on the wall.
- I had to carry my wallet in my hand. It was too big to put in my pocket.
- The water wasn't clean enough to swim in.

UNIT 96

The infinitive after adjectives

a Compare these two sentences:

Jim doesn't speak very clearly. { A It is difficult to understand him.
B He is difficult to understand.

Sentences A and B have the same meaning. But note that we say "He is difficult to understand." (not He is difficult to understand him.)

You can use the structure in sentence B after difficult/easy/impossible/hard and after a few other adjectives:

- Your writing is almost impossible to read. (not . . . to read it)
(= It is almost impossible to read your writing.)
- Do you think this water is safe to drink? (not . . . to drink it)

You can also use this structure with an adjective + noun:

- This is a very difficult question to answer. (not . . . to answer it)
- Jill is an interesting person to talk to.
- I enjoyed the soccer game. It was an exciting game to watch.

- If I have any more news, you'll be the first to know.
- The next plane to arrive at gate 4 will be Flight 61 from Buenos Aires.
- Who was the last person to leave the building last night?

- I was sorry to hear that your father is ill.
- Was Tom surprised to see you when you visited him?
- I was delighted to get your letter last week.

Other adjectives you can use in this way include:

happy	pleased	disappointed	amazed
glad	sad	relieved	astonished

d Note the structure (it is) nice of someone to do something. This structure is possible after a number of adjectives, including:

nice	mean	silly	polite	generous

- It was nice of you to take me to the airport. Thank you very much.
- It was careless of Jack to leave the door unlocked when he went out.

UNIT 97

Comparison (1) – cheaper, more expensive, etc.

a Study these examples:

Let's go by car. It's cheaper.

Don't go by train. It's more expensive.

Cheaper and more expensive are comparative forms.

After comparatives we use than:

- It's cheaper to go by car than to go by train.

For than see also Unit 99.

b We use -er for the comparative of short adjectives and adverbs:

cheap/cheaper hard/harder large/larger thin/thinner

- This jacket is too small. I need a larger size.
- Ann works harder than most of her friends.

We prefer -er with some two-syllable adjectives, especially adjectives ending in -y. For example:

lucky/luckier funny/funnier easy/easier pretty/prettier and also: quiet/quieter narrow/narrower simple/simpler

- The examination was easier than we expected.
- It's too noisy here. Can we go somewhere quieter?

For spelling rules see Appendix 3.

c We use more ... (not -er) for other two-syllable adjectives and longer adjectives:

more modern more serious more expensive more comfortable

- More expensive hotels are usually more comfortable than cheaper ones.
- Her illness was more serious than we first thought.

We also use more ... for adverbs that end in -ly:

more slowly more seriously more quietly more carefully

- Could you speak more slowly, please?

We also say more often:

- I don't play tennis much now. I used to play more often.

But we say earlier (not more early):

- You're always tired in the mornings. You should go to bed earlier.

d Before the comparative of adjectives and adverbs you can use:

a (little) bit a little much a lot far (= a lot)

- Let's go by car. It's much (or a lot) cheaper.
- Don't go by train. It's much (or a lot) more expensive.
- Ann works a lot (or much) harder than most of her friends.
- Could you speak a (little) bit (or a little) more slowly?
- Her illness was far more serious than we first thought.

UNIT 97 Exercises

quiet thin

1. This jacket is too small. I need a /larger..... size.
2. You look..... Have you lost weight?
3. He's not so enthusiastic about his studies. He's in having a good time.

8. I like the country. It's and living in the city. (healthy/peaceful)

97.3 This exercise is similar, but this time you also need to use a bit / a little / much / a lot / far. Use than where necessary.

Example: Her illness was much more serious than.... we first thought. (much / serious)

1. It's today it was yesterday. (a little / warm)
2. You're driving too fast. Can you drive ? (a bit / slowly)

6. This apartment is too small. I need something (much / big)
7. It's to learn a foreign language in the country where it is spoken. (a lot / easy)

a Some adjectives and adverbs have irregular comparative forms:

good/well	better	Let me ask him. I know him better than you do.
bad/badly	worse	The garden looks better since you tidied it up. “Is your headache better?” “No, it’s worse .”
far	further (or farther)	The situation was much worse than we expected. I’m very tired. I can’t walk much further . (or . . . much farther .)

Further (but not farther) can also mean more or additional:

- Let me know immediately if you hear any further news. (= any more news)

Note the comparative words more and less:

- I smoke more than I used to.
- We’ve got less time than I thought.

b Older and elder

The comparative of old is older:

- Tom looks older than he really is. (not elder)

We use elder when we are talking about members of a family. We say (my) elder brother/sister/son/daughter (older is also possible):

- My elder (or older) brother is a pilot.

We use elder only before a noun:

- My brother is older than me. (not elder than me)

For eldest see Unit 100c.

c Sometimes you can use two comparatives together. For example: harder and harder, more and more, more and more difficult. We use this structure to say that something is changing continuously:

- It’s becoming harder and harder to find a job.
- Your English is improving. It’s getting better and better.
- It’s becoming more and more difficult to find a job.
- These days more and more people are learning English.

d Note the structure the + comparative the better. For example:

- “What time shall we leave?” “The sooner the better.” (= it will be best if we leave as soon as possible)
- “What size box do you want?” “The bigger the better.” (= it will be best if the box is as big as possible)

We also use the . . . the . . . (with two comparatives) to say that one thing depends on another thing:

- The warmer the weather, the better I feel.
- The earlier we leave, the sooner we will arrive.
- The more expensive the hotel, the better the service.
- The more electricity you use, the higher your bill will be.
- The more you have, the more you want.

UNIT 98 Exercises

98.1 Complete these sentences using these words: better worse further older elder
You have to use some of these words more than once. Use than where necessary.

UNIT 99

Comparison (3) – as . . . as/than

a Study this example situation:

Joe, Henry, and Arthur are all millionaires. They are all very rich. Joe has $10 million, Henry has $6 million, and Arthur has $2 million. So:

Henry is rich.

He is richer than Arthur.

But he isn't as rich as Joe. (= Joe is richer than Henry is)

Here are some more examples of not as . . . as:

You can also say "not so . . . as" (instead of "not as . . . as"):

- Henry isn't so rich as Joe.

b You can also use as . . . as (but not "so . . . as") in positive sentences and in questions:

- There's plenty of food, so eat as much as you like.

We also say twice as . . . as, three times as . . . as, etc.

- Their house is about three times as big as ours.

c We say the same as (not the same like):

- Ann's salary is the same as mine. (or Ann gets the same salary as me.)
- Tom is the same age as George.
- "What would you like to drink?" "I'll have the same as last time."

d After than and as it is more usual to say me/him/her/them/us when there is no verb. Compare these sentences:

- | | |
|--|---|
| ■ You are taller than I am . | but: You are taller than me . |
| ■ They have more money than we have . | but: They have more money than us . |

UNIT 100

Superlatives – the longest, the most enjoyable, etc.

a Study these examples:

What is the longest river in the world?
 What was the most enjoyable vacation you've ever had?
Longest and most enjoyable are superlative forms.

b We use -est or most . . . to form the superlative of adjectives and adverbs. In general we use -est for shorter words and most . . . for longer words. (The rules are the same as those for the comparative – see Unit 97.) For example:

long/longest	hot/hottest	easy/easiest	hard/hardest
but: most famous	most boring	most difficult	most expensive

For spelling rules see Appendix 3.

- Yesterday was the hottest day of the year.
- That was the most boring movie I've ever seen.
- "Why did you stay at that hotel?" "It was the cheapest we could find."
- She is a really nice person – one of the nicest people I know.

Note the irregular superlatives best and worst:

- That was a delicious meal. It's one of the best I've ever had.
- Why does he always come to see me at the worst possible moment?

Don't forget that we normally use the with superlatives: "the best," "the most boring," etc.

c Oldest and eldest

The superlative of old is oldest:

- That house over there is the oldest building in the town. (not the eldest)

We use eldest when we are talking about the members of a family (oldest is also possible):

- My eldest (or oldest) son is 13 years old.
- Are you the eldest (or oldest) in your family?

d After superlatives, we use in with places (towns, buildings, etc.):

- What's the longest river in the world? (not of the world)
- We were lucky to have one of the nicest rooms in the hotel.

Also: (the best . . .) in the class / in the company, etc.

But: the happiest day of my life, the hottest day of the year.

Note that we often use the present perfect (I have done) after a superlative (see also Unit 14a):

- What's the best movie you've ever seen?
- That was the most delicious meal I've had in a long time.

e We sometimes use most + adjective (without the) to mean very:

- The book you lent me was most interesting. (= very interesting)
- Thank you for the money. It was most generous of you. (= very generous)

UNIT 100 Exercises

100.1 Complete the sentences with a superlative and preposition.

8. I haven't had to make such a difficult decision in years.
This is years.

100.3 Here are some questions for you to answer. But first write the questions using the words in parentheses (...). Then answer them.

1. (what / large / city / your country?) What is the largest city in your country?.....
2. (who / famous singer / your country?) Who your country?
3. (what / popular sport / your country?) What.....
4. (what / expensive thing / you / ever bought?)
5. (what / happy / day / your life?) What was
6. (what / stupid thing / you / ever done?)
7. (who / intelligent person / you know?) you know?
8. (who / beautiful person / you know?)

UNIT 101

Word order (1) – verb + object; place and time

a Verb + object

The verb and the object of the verb normally go together. We do not usually put other words between them:

	verb	+	object
I	like		children	very much. (not I like very much children.)
Did you	see		Norman	yesterday?
Ann often	plays		tennis.

Here are some more examples. Notice how each time the verb and the object go together:

- Do you clean the house every weekend? (not Do you clean every weekend the house?)
- Everybody enjoyed the party very much. (not Everybody enjoyed very much the party.)
- Our guide spoke English fluently. (not . . . spoke fluently English.)
- I not only lost all my money – I also lost my passport. (not I lost also my passport.)
- At the end of the street you'll see a supermarket on your left. (not . . . see on your left a supermarket.)

For the position of words like also and often before the verb, see Unit 102.

b Place and time

We usually say the place (where?) before the time (when? / how often? / how long?):

	place	time
Tom walks	to work	every morning.	(not Tom walks every morning to work.)
She has been	in Canada	since April.
We arrived	at the airport	early.

Here are some more examples:

- I'm going to Paris on Monday. (not I'm going on Monday to Paris.)
- Don't be late. Make sure you're here by 8 o'clock.
- Why weren't you at home last night?
- You really shouldn't go to bed so late.

It is often possible to put the time at the beginning of the sentence:

- On Monday I'm going to Paris.
- Every morning Tom walks to work.

Note that you cannot use early or late at the beginning of the sentence in this way.

There is more information about word order in Unit 102.

UNIT 101 Exercises

101.1 Decide whether the word order is right or wrong. Correct the sentences that are wrong.

Examples: I like children very much.

RIGHT.....

Tom walks every morning to work.

WRONG: to work every morning

1. Jim doesn't like very much baseball.
2. Ann drives every day her car to work.
3. When I heard the news, I called Tom immediately.
4. Maria speaks very well English.
5. After eating quickly my dinner, I went out.
6. You watch all the time television. Can't you do something else?
7. Liz smokes about 20 cigarettes every day.
8. I think I'll go early to bed tonight.
9. You should go to the dentist every six months.
10. When I heard the alarm, I got immediately out of bed.
11. Did you learn a lot of things at school today?
12. We went last night to the movies.

101.2 Put the parts of a sentence in the correct order. The first nine sentences are like those in section a.

Example: (children / very much / I like) I like children very much......

1. (she won / easily / the game) She won.....
2. (again / please don't ask / that question) Please
3. (tennis / every weekend / does Ken play?) Does

7. (at the top of the page / your name / please write)
8. (some interesting books / we found / in the library)
9. (across from the park / a new hotel / they are building)

The next six sentences are like those in section b.

10. (to the bank / every Friday / I go) I go
11. (home / why did you come / so late?) Why.....
12. (around town / all morning / I've been walking)
13. (recently / to the theater / have you been?)
14. (to London / for a few days next week / I'm going)
15. (on Saturday night / I didn't see you / at the party)

UNIT 102

Word order (2) – adverbs with the verb

- a We put some adverbs (for example always, also, probably) with the verb in the middle of a sentence:

- Tom always goes to work by car.
- We were feeling very tired. We were also hungry.
- Your car has probably been stolen.

- b Study these rules for the position of adverbs in the middle of a sentence. (They are only general rules, so there are exceptions.)

- i) If the verb is one word (goes, cooked, etc.), we usually put the adverb before the verb:

	adverb	verb
Tom	always	goes	to work by car.

- I cleaned the house and also cooked dinner. (not cooked also)
- Jack hardly ever watches television and rarely reads newspapers.
- She almost fell over as she came down the stairs.

Note that these adverbs (always/often/also, etc.) go before have to:

- We always have to wait a long time for the bus.

But adverbs go after am/is/are/was/were:

- We were feeling very tired. We were also hungry.
- Why are you always late? You're never on time.
- The traffic isn't usually as bad as it was this morning.

- ii) Sometimes a verb is two or more words (can remember, doesn't smoke, has been stolen, etc.). We usually put the adverb after the first part of the verb:

	verb 1	adverb	verb 2
I	can	never	remember	his name.
Ann	doesn't	usually	smoke.
	Are you	definitely	going	to the party tomorrow?
Your car	has	probably	been	stolen.

- My parents have always lived in Chicago.
- Jill can't cook. She can't even boil an egg.
- The house was only built a year ago and it's already falling down.

In negative sentences probably goes before the negative. So we say:

- I probably won't see you. or I will probably not see you.
(but not I won't probably see you.)

- c We also use all and both in these positions:

- We all felt sick after the meal.
- Jack and Tom have both applied for the job.
- We are all going out to eat tonight.
- My parents are both teachers.

UNIT 102 Exercises

102.1 Decide whether the underlined words are in the right position or not. Correct the sentences that are wrong.

Examples: Tom goes always to work by car.

WRONG...Tom always goes

I cleaned the house and also cooked dinner.

RIGHT.....

1. I have a good memory for faces, but I always forget names.
2. Those tourists over there probably are French.
3. Amy gets hardly ever angry.
4. We both were astonished when we heard the news.
5. I soon found the keys I had lost.
6. I did some shopping and I went also to the bank.
7. Jim has always to hurry in the morning because he gets up so late.
8. The baby is very good. She seldom cries during the night.
9. I usually am very tired when I get home from work.
10. I usually take a bath when I get home from work.

102.2 Rewrite the sentences to include the word in parentheses (. . .).

Example: Ann doesn't smoke. (usually) Ann doesn't usually smoke.

1. Have you been arrested? (ever) Have
2. I don't have to work on Saturdays. (usually) I
3. Does Tom sing when he's taking a shower? (always)
4. I'll be home late tonight. (probably)
5. We are going away tomorrow. (all)
6. (Don't take me seriously.) I was joking. (only) I
7. Did you enjoy the party? (both)
8. (I've got a lot of housework to do.) I must write some letters. (also)
I

102.3 Put the words in parentheses into the sentences in the correct order.

Example: I ~~can never remember~~ his name. (remember / never / can)

1. I sugar in my tea. (take / usually)
2. "Where's Jim?" "He home early." (gone / has / probably)
3. Ann very generous. (is / always)
4. John and Carol in Vancouver. (both / were / born)
5. Tim is a good pianist. He very well. (sing / also / can)
6. Our television set down. (often / breaks)
7. We a long time for the bus. (have / always / to wait)
8. My eyesight isn't very good. I with glasses. (read / can / only)
9. I early tomorrow. (probably / leaving / will / be)
10. I'm afraid I able to come to the party. (probably / be / won't)
11. If we hadn't taken the same train, we each other. (never / met / might / have)

UNIT 103

Still and yet Anymore / any longer / no longer a Still and yet

We use still to say that a situation or action is continuing. Still usually goes in the middle of the sentence with the verb (see Unit 102b for the exact position):

- It's 10:00 and Tom is still in bed.
- "Have you given up smoking?" "No, I still smoke."
- Are you still living in the same house, or have you moved?
- When I went to bed, Ann was still working.
- Do you still want to go to the party, or have you changed your mind?

We use yet when we ask if something has happened or when we say that something has not happened. We use yet mainly in questions and negative sentences. Yet usually goes at the end of the sentence:

- I'm hungry. Is dinner ready yet?
- Have you finished writing that letter yet?
- It's 10:00 and Tom hasn't gotten up yet. (or . . . isn't up yet.)
- We don't know where we're going on our vacation yet.

We often use yet with the present perfect ("Have you finished writing that letter yet?"). See also Unit 15b.

Now compare still and yet in these sentences:

- Jack lost his job a year ago and he is still unemployed.
Jack lost his job a year ago and hasn't found another job yet.
- Is it still raining?
Has it stopped raining yet?

Still is also possible in negative sentences:

- He said he would be here an hour ago, and he still hasn't come.

This is similar to "he hasn't come yet." But still . . . not shows a stronger feeling of surprise or impatience. Compare:

- She hasn't written to me yet. (but I expect she will write soon)
- She still hasn't written to me. (she should have written before now)

b We use not . . . anymore, not . . . any longer, and no longer to say that a situation has changed. Anymore and any longer go at the end of the sentence:

- Mr. Davis doesn't work here anymore (or any longer). He left about six months ago.
- We were good friends once, but we aren't friends anymore (or any longer).

No longer goes in the middle of the sentence (see Unit 102b):

- We are no longer friends.
- She no longer loves him.

We do not normally use no more in this way:

- He is no longer a student. (not He is no more a student.)

UNIT 103 Exercises

103.1 Ask some questions about a friend, Dave. You haven't seen Dave for a very long time. When you last saw him:

- | | |
|--|---------------------------------|
| 1. he was living on Market Street | 4. he had a beard |
| 2. he was single | 5. he wanted to be a politician |
| 3. he was working in a factory | 6. he smoked lot |

You meet someone who has met Dave recently. Ask questions about Dave, using still.

- | | |
|--|---------|
| 1. Is he still living on Market Street? | 4. |
| 2. single? | 5. |
| 3. | 6. |

103.2 Write sentences with yet.

Example: It's still raining. (stopped) It hasn't stopped raining yet.

- George is still here. (gone) He
- The concert is still going on. (finished) It
- The children are still asleep. (woken up)
- Ann is still on vacation. (come back)
- Linda is still up. (gone to bed)
- We're still waiting for him to reply to our letter. (replied)
- I'm still thinking about what color to paint the wall. (decided)

103.3 Use still and not . . . anymore.

Example: Tom used to play tennis and soccer. (still / tennis but . . .)

He still plays tennis, but he doesn't play soccer anymore.

- Jack used to have long hair and a beard. (still / long hair but . . .)
He, but
- She was in the hospital and she was in critical condition. (still / hospital but . . .)
....., but
- She was a student, and she was studying economics. (still / a student but . . .)
.....
- I was feeling tired and sick. (still / tired but . . .)
.....
- He was a good player, and he was the best on the team. (still / good player but . . .)
.....
- I used to like George and Ken. (still / George but . . .)
.....

Now use no longer instead of not . . . anymore in sentences 1–4.

- | | |
|---|------------------|
| 7. (1) He no longer has a beard. | 9. (3) She |
| 8. (2) | 10. (4) |

UNIT 104

Although / though / even though In spite of / despite

a Study this example situation:

Last year Jack and Jill spent their vacation at the beach.

It rained a lot, but they enjoyed themselves. You can say:

Although it rained a lot, they enjoyed themselves.
(= It rained a lot, but they . . .) or:

In spite of } the rain, they enjoyed themselves.
Despite }

b After although we use a subject + verb:

- Although she smokes 20 cigarettes a day, she seems quite healthy.
- Although it rained a lot, we enjoyed our vacation.
- I didn't get the job, although I had all the necessary qualifications.

After in spite of (or despite) we use a noun, a pronoun (this/that/what, etc.), or -ing:

- In spite of the rain, we enjoyed our vacation.
- I didn't get the job, despite my qualifications.
- She wasn't well, but in spite of this she went to work.
- Despite what I said last night, I still love you.
- I'm not tired, in spite of working hard all day.

Note that we say "in spite of," but despite (without of).

You can also say in spite of / despite the fact that . . . :

- In spite of the fact that I was tired, I couldn't sleep.
- She seems healthy, despite the fact that she smokes 20 cigarettes a day.

Compare although and in spite of / despite:

- Although the traffic was bad, I arrived on time.
 In spite of the traffic, I arrived on time.
- I couldn't sleep, although I was very tired.
 I couldn't sleep, despite being very tired.

c Sometimes we use though instead of although:

- I didn't get the job, though I had all the necessary qualifications.

In spoken English we often use though at the end of a sentence:

- The house isn't very nice. I like the garden though. (= but I like the garden)
- I see him every day. I've never spoken to him though. (= but I've never spoken to him)

Even though is a stronger form of although:

- Even though I was really tired, I couldn't sleep.

UNIT 104 Exercises

104.1 Complete these sentences. Each time use although + a sentence from the box.

I didn't speak the language	he has a very responsible job
I had never seen him before	we don't like her very much it was quite cold	he had promised to be on time

1. Although he has a very responsible job., he isn't particularly well paid.
2. Although, I recognized him from a photograph.
3. I didn't wear a coat,
4. We thought we'd better invite her to the party,
5., I managed to make myself understood.
6. He was late,

104.2 Complete these sentences with although or in spite of.

Example: Although it rained a lot, we enjoyed our vacation.

1. all my careful plans, a lot of things went wrong.
2. I had planned everything carefully, a lot of things went wrong.
3. I love music, I can't play a musical instrument.
4. being very tired, we kept on walking.
5. The heat was turned all the way up, but this the house was still cold.
6. Keith decided to quit his job, I advised him not to.

104.3 Read these sentences and then write a new sentence with the same meaning. Use the word(s) in parentheses (. . .) in your sentences.

Example: I couldn't sleep, although I was tired. (despite)

I couldn't sleep despite being tired. (or despite the fact (that) I was tired).

1. Although he's got a French name, he is in fact American. (despite)
Despite
2. In spite of her injured foot, she managed to walk home. (although)
.....
3. I decided to accept the job, although the salary was low. (in spite of)
I decided
4. We lost the match, although we were the better team. (despite)
.....
5. In spite of not having eaten for 24 hours, I didn't feel hungry. (even though)
.....

104.4 Use the words in parentheses to make a sentence with though at the end.

Example: The house isn't very nice. (like / garden) I like the garden though.

1. She's very nice. (don't like / husband) I
2. It's very warm. (a bit windy) It
3. We didn't like the food. (ate) We

a Study this example:

Our football team lost yesterday. We all played badly. Bill is our best player, but yesterday even Bill played badly.

We use even to say that something is unusual or surprising. We say even Bill . . . because he is a good player and it is unusual for him to play badly. If he played badly, it must have been a bad day for the team.

- These photographs aren't very good. Even I could take better photographs than these. (I'm certainly not a good photographer, so they must be bad.)
- It's a very rich country. Even the poorest people own cars. (so the rich people must be very rich)
- She always wears a coat – even in summer.
- Nobody would lend him the money – not even his best friend. (or Even his best friend wouldn't lend him the money.)

b Very often we use even with the verb in the middle of a sentence (see Unit 102b for the exact position):

- Don has traveled all over the world. He has even been to the Antarctic. (It's very unusual to go to the Antarctic, so he must have traveled a lot.)
- He always wears a tie. He even wears a tie in bed!
- They are very rich. They even have their own private jet.

Here are some examples with not even:

- I can't cook. I can't even boil an egg. (so I certainly can't cook, because boiling an egg is very simple)
- They weren't very friendly to us. They didn't even say hello.
- She's in good shape. She's just run five miles and she's not even out of breath.

c You can use even with comparatives (hotter / more surprised, etc.):

- It was very hot yesterday, but today it's even hotter.
- I got up at 6:00, but Carol got up even earlier.
- I knew I didn't have much money, but I've got even less than I thought.
- I was surprised to get a letter from her. I was even more surprised when she appeared at my door the next day.

d You can use even with if, when, and though:

- I'll probably see you tomorrow. But even if I don't, we're sure to see each other before the weekend.
- She never shouts, even when she's angry. (you expect people to shout when they are angry)
- He has bought a car, even though he can't drive.

For if and when see Unit 9c. For even though see Unit 104.

UNIT 105 Exercises

105.1 Complete a conversation. Use even or not even.

Example: A: We lost the game. The whole team played badly.

B: Really? Even..... Bill? A: Yes, even Bill played badly.....

1. A: Everyone was on time for work this morning.
B: Really? Sue? A: Yes,.....

4. A: Nobody knows where Peter has gone.
B: Really? Not his wife? A: No,.....
5. A: Everybody passed the exam.
B: Really? George? A: Yes,.....

105.2 Make sentences with even. Use the words in parentheses (. . .).

Example: He wears a tie all the time. (in bed) He even wears a tie in bed.....

1. They painted the whole room white. (the floor)
They white.
2. He has to work every day. (on Sundays) He.....
3. You could hear the noise from a long way away. (from the next street)

4. They have the window open all the time. (when it's freezing)

6. There isn't anything in this town. (a movie theater) There.....

8. He didn't tell anyone where he was going. (his wife)
.....

1. We found a very cheap hotel, but the one Jack found was
2. That's a very good idea, but I have an one.
3. The cafe is always crowded, but today it's than usual.
4. This church is 500 years old, but the house next to it is
5. I did very little work for the exam, but you did

As (time) – “I watched her as she worked.” As (reason) – “As I was feeling tired, I went to bed.”

a As (time): two things happening together

You can use as when two things happen at the same time or over the same period of time:

- I watched her as she opened the letter.
- As they walked along the street, they looked in the store windows.
- Turn off the light as you go out, please.

We use as especially for two short actions happening at the same time:

- George arrived as I left. (= he arrived and I left at the same time)
- We all waved goodbye to Tom as he drove away in his car.

You can also use just as (= exactly at that moment):

- George arrived just as I left.
- Just as I sat down, the phone rang.

We also use as when two changes happen over the same period of time:

- As the day wore on, the weather got worse.
- I began to enjoy the job more as I got used to it.

b As (time): one thing happening during another

You can say that you did something as you were doing something else (= in the middle of doing something else).

When we use as in this way, both actions are usually quite short:

- The man slipped as he was getting off the train.
- Jill burned herself as she was taking the cake out of the oven.
- The thief was seen as he was climbing over the wall.

You can also use just as:

- Just as we were going out, it started to rain.
- I had to leave just as the conversation was getting interesting.

For the past continuous (was getting / were going, etc.) see Unit 12.

Note that we use as only if two actions happen together. Do not use as if one action follows another:

- When I got home, I took a bath. (not as I got home)

c As (reason)

As sometimes means “because”:

- As I was feeling tired, I went to bed early. (= because I was feeling tired)
- As they live near us, we see them quite often.
- As tomorrow is a national holiday, all the stores will be closed.
- As we had nothing better to do, we watched television the whole evening.

For as and like see Unit 107. For as . . . as see Unit 99.

UNIT 106 Exercises

106.1 Make one sentence with as (time) from each pair of sentences.

Example: She opened the letter. I watched her. I watched her as she opened the letter.

1. We posed for the photograph. We smiled.
We smiled
2. He explained what I had to do. I listened carefully.
I
3. The two teams ran onto the field. The crowd cheered.
The crowd
4. She passed me on the street. She didn't look at me.
.....

In the following sentences use just as.

Example: I sat down. Just at that moment the phone rang.

The phone rang just as I sat down.

5. We arrived at the beach. Just at that moment it started to rain.
It started
6. I took the photograph. Just at that moment you moved.
.....

In these sentences, one thing happens during another.

Example: Jill was taking the cakes out of the oven. She burned herself.

Jill burned herself as she was taking the cakes out of the oven.

7. Tom was climbing out of the window. He fell.
Tom fell
8. We were driving along the road. A dog ran out in front of the car.
A dog
9. She was getting out of the car. She dropped her bag.
.....

106.2 Join a sentence from box A with a sentence from box B. Begin each of your sentences with as (reason).

A tomorrow is a national holiday there isn't anything to eat in the house it was a nice day we didn't want to wake anyone up the door was open I didn't have enough money for a taxi	B I walked in I had to walk home we came in very quietly the stores will be closed let's go out to eat we decided to go for a walk
---	---

1. As tomorrow is a national holiday, the stores will be closed.
2. As
3.
4.
5.
6.

a Like = similar to / the same as / for example:

- What a beautiful house! It's like a palace. (not as a palace)
- "What does George do?" "He's a teacher, like me." (not as me)
- Why do you always talk about boring things like your job?
- Be careful! The floor was just waxed. It's like walking on ice.
- It's raining again. I hate weather like this.

Like is a preposition. So it is followed by a noun ("like a palace / like your job"), a pronoun ("like me / like this"), or -ing ("like walking").

You can also say "like (someone/something) -ing":

- "What's that noise?" "It sounds like a baby crying."

b We use as before a subject + verb:

- Don't move anything. Leave everything as it is.

Compare like and as in these sentences:

- You should have done it like this. (like + pronoun)
- You should have done it as I showed you. (as + subject + verb)

But we use such as (= for example) without a verb:

- Some sports, such as auto racing, can be dangerous.

Note that we say as usual:

- You're late as usual.

c As + subject + verb can have other meanings. For example:

- Do as you are told! (= Do what you are told.)
- They did as they promised. (= They did what they promised.)

You can also say as you know / as we expected / as I said / as I thought, etc.:

- As you know, it's Tom's birthday next week. (= you know this already)
- Ann failed her driving test, as we expected.

d As can also be a preposition (which means you can use it with a noun), but the meaning is different from like.

The meaning is not past in this sentence. We use the past ("as if he knew") because the idea is not real: Norman does not know everything. We use the past in the same way in if sentences and after wish (see Unit 35).

UNIT 124

Phrasal verbs (get up, break down, fill in, etc.)

a We often use verbs with these words:

on	off	in	out	up	down	away
back	over	about	around	forward	through	along

We often use these words with verbs of movement. For example:

get on	The bus was full. We couldn't get on .
drive off	She got into the car and drove off .
come back	Tom is leaving tomorrow and coming back on Saturday.
turn around	When I touched him on the shoulder, he turned around .

But often these words (on/off/up/down, etc.) give a special meaning to a verb. For example:

- Sorry I'm late. The car broke down.
- Look out! There's a car coming.
- It was my first flight. I was very nervous as the plane took off.
- I was so tired this morning that I couldn't get up.

These verbs (break down / get up / take off, etc.) are phrasal verbs.

b Sometimes a phrasal verb has an object. Usually there are two possible positions for the object. So you can say:

object
 I turned off the light.

object
 I turned the light off.

Here are some more examples:

- Could you { fill out this form?
 fill this form out?
- It's warm. { Take off your coat.

 put the fire out.
- I think I'll { throw away these old newspapers.
 throw these old newspapers away.
- The police got into the house by { breaking down the door.
 breaking the door down.

Sometimes the object of a phrasal verb is a pronoun (it/them/me/you/him/her/us). These pronouns go before on/off/in/out/up/down, etc.:

- They gave me a form and told me to fill it out. (not fill out it)
- Ann's asleep. Don't wake her up. (not wake up her)
- "What should I do with these old newspapers?" "Throw them away."
- Here's the money you need. Don't forget to pay me back.

c Sometimes we use a phrasal verb + preposition. For example: look forward to / keep up with / cut down on. The object always comes after the preposition:

- Are you looking forward to your vacation?
- You're walking too fast. I can't keep up with you.
- Jack has cut down on smoking. He only smokes five cigarettes a day now.

For the passive, see Units 40–42.

For the future, see Units 4–10.

APPENDIX 2 Regular and irregular verbs

1. Regular verbs

The simple past and past participle of regular verbs end in -ed. For example:

base form:	clean	improve	paint	carry
simple past/past participle:	cleaned	improved	painted	carried

For spelling rules see Appendix 3.

For the simple past see Units 11 and 20.

We use the past participle to make the perfect tenses (have/has/had cleaned) and for all the passive forms (see Units 40–42):

- I cleaned my room yesterday. (simple past)
- Your English has improved. (present perfect – see Units 13–15, 17–20)
- The house was dirty. We hadn't cleaned it for a long time. (past perfect – see Unit 21)
- This door has just been painted. (present perfect passive)
- He was carried out of the room. (simple past passive)

2. Irregular verbs

With some irregular verbs, all three forms (base form, simple past, and past participle) are the same. For example, hit:

- Someone hit me as I came into the room. (simple past)
- I've never hit anyone in my life. (past participle – present perfect)
- George was hit on the head by a rock. (past participle – passive)

With other irregular verbs, the simple past is the same as the past participle (but different from the base form). For example, tell – told:

- She told me to come back the next day. (simple past)
- Have you told anyone about your new job? (past participle – present perfect)
- I was told to come back the next day. (past participle – passive)

With other irregular verbs all three forms are different.

For example, break – broke – broken:

- He broke his arm in a climbing accident. (simple past)
- Somebody has broken the window. (past participle – present perfect)
- When was the window broken? (past participle – passive)

APPENDIX 3 Spelling

Nouns, verbs, and adjectives can have the following endings:

noun + -s/es (plural)	books	ideas	matches
verb + -s/es (after he/she/it)	works	enjoys	washes verb + -ing	working	enjoying	washing verb + -ed	worked	enjoyed	washed adjective + -er (comparative)	cheaper	quicker	brighter adjective + -est (superlative)	cheapest	quickest	brightest
adjective + -ly (adverb)	cheaply	quickly	brightly

When we use these endings, there are sometimes changes in spelling. These changes are listed below.

Vowels and consonants a e i o u are vowel letters.

The other letters (b c d f etc.) are consonants.

1. Nouns and verbs + -s/-es

The ending is -es when the word ends in -s/-ss/-sh/-ch/-x:

match/matches bus/buses box/boxes wash/washes miss/misses search/searches

Note also:

potato/potatoes tomato/tomatoes
do/does go/goes

2. Words ending in -y (baby, carry, easy, etc.)

If a word ends in a consonant + y (-by/-ry/-sy, etc.):

y changes to ie before -s:

baby/babies family/families country/countries secretary/secretaries hurry/hurries study/studies apply/applies try/tries y changes to i before -ed:

hurry/hurried study/studied apply/applied try/tried y changes to i before -er and -est:

easy/easier/easiest heavy/heavier/heaviest lucky/luckier/luckiest y changes to i before -ly:

easy/easily heavy/heavily temporary/temporarily

y does not change before -ing:

hurrying studying applying trying y does not change if the word ends in a vowel + y (-ay/-ey/-oy/-uy):

play/plays/played enjoy/enjoys/enjoyed monkey/monkeys

exception: day/daily

Note also: pay/paid lay/laid say/said

3. Verbs ending in -ie (die, lie, tie)

If a verb ends in -ie, ie changes to y before -ing:

lie/lying die/dying tie/tying

4. Words ending in -e (smoke, hope, wide, etc.)

Verbs

If a verb ends in -e, we leave out e before -ing:

smoke/smoking hope/hoping dance/dancing confuse/confusing

Exceptions: be/being verbs ending in -ee: see/seeing agree/agreeing

If a verb ends in -e, we add -d for the past (of regular verbs):

smoke/smoked hope/hoped dance/danced confuse/confused

Adjectives and adverbs

If an adjective ends in -e, we add -r and -st for the comparative and superlative:

wide/wider/widest late/later/latest large/larger/largest

If an adjective ends in -e, we keep e before the adverb ending -ly:

polite/politely extreme/extremely absolute/absolutely

If an adjective ends in -le (terrible, probable, etc.), we leave out e and add -y for the adverb:

terrible/terribly probable/probably reasonable/reasonably

5. Doubling consonants (stop/stopping/stopped, hot/hotter/hottest, etc.)

Sometimes a verb or an adjective ends in consonant – vowel – consonant. For example:

stop plan rob hot thin wet prefer begin

We double the final consonant (-pp-, -nn- etc.) of these words before -ing, -ed, -er and -est:

stop/stopping/stopped plan/planning/planned rob/robbing/robbed hot/hotter/hottest thin/thinner/thinnest wet/wetter/wettest

If the word has more than one syllable (prefer, begin, etc.), we double that final consonant only if the final syllable is stressed:

preFER/preferring/preferred perMIT/permitting/permitted reGRET/regretting/regretted beGIN/beginning

If the final syllable is not stressed, we do not double the final consonant:

VISit/visiting/visited deVELop/developing/developed

LISten/listening/listened reMEMber/remembering/remembered

If the final syllable is not stressed, and the last consonant is l, the consonant may be single or doubled:

travel/traveling/traveled or travelling/travelled cancel/canceling/canceled or cancelling/cancelled

We do not double the final consonant if the word ends in two consonants (-rt, -rn, -ck, etc.):

start/starting/started turn/turning/turned thick/thicker/thickest

We do not double the final consonant if there are two vowel letters before it (-oil, -eed, -ain, etc.):

boil/boiling/boiled need/needing/needed explain/explaining/explained cheap/cheaper/cheapest loud/louder/loudest quiet/quieter/quietest

Note that we do not double y or w at the end of words. (At the end of words y and w are not consonants; they are part of the vowel sound.):

stay/staying/stayed grow/growing new/newer/newest

APPENDIX 4 Short forms (I'm/didn't, etc.)

In spoken English we usually say "I'm/you've/didn't," etc. (= I am/you have/did not). We also use these short forms in informal written English (for example, in letters to friends). When we write short forms, we use an apostrophe (') for the missing letter or letters:

I'm = I am you've = you have didn't = did not

Short forms of auxiliary verbs (am/is/are/have/has/had/will/shall/would):

'm = am	I'm
's = is or has		he's	she's	it's
're = are					you're	we're	they're
've = have	I've				you've	we've	they've
'll = will or shall	I'll	he'll	she'll	it'll	you'll	we'll	they'll
'd = would or had	I'd	he'd	she'd		you'd	we'd	they'd

's can be is or has:

- He's sick. (= He is sick.)
- He's gone away. (= He has gone away.)

'd can be would or had:

- I'd see a doctor if I were you. (= I would see)
- I'd never seen her before. (= I had never seen)

We use some of these short forms after question words (who/what/how, etc.) and after that/there/here:

who's	what's	where's	that's	there's who'll	what'll	when's	that'll	there'll
who'd	how's	here's

- Who's that girl over there? (= who is)
- What's happened? (= what has)
- I think there'll be a lot of people at the party. (= there will)

Sometimes we use short forms (especially 's) after a noun:

- John's going out tonight. (= John is going)
- My friend's just gotten married. (= My friend has just gotten)

You cannot use these short forms ('m/'s/'ve, etc.) at the end of a sentence (because the verb is stressed in this position):

- "Are you tired?" "Yes, I am." (not "Yes, I'm.")
- Do you know where he is? (not Do you know where he's?)

Short forms of auxiliary verbs + not (isn't/didn't, etc.):

isn't (= is not)	haven't (= have not)	wouldn't (= would not) aren't (= are not)	hasn't (= has not)	shouldn't (= should not) wasn't (= was not)	hadn't (= had not) weren't (= were not)	can't (= cannot)	mustn't (= must not) don't (= do not)	couldn't (= could not) doesn't (= does not)	won't (= will not) didn't (= did not)

Note that you can say:

he isn't/she isn't/it isn't or he's not/she's not/it's not you aren't/we aren't// or you're not/we're not/they're not
